New City Directory.

B. C. Hoffhine, who has issued two directories of North Platte, is now engaged in obtaining the data for a third. The work of Mr. Hoffhine in the past has been painstaking and thorough and as a result the directories issued have been as accurate as it is possible to make directories—errors creep into all wherever published.

One important and useful feature of the Hoffhine directory is that it contains the name of every voter in the county outside of North Platte and the section on which he resides. This year this feature will be supplemented by the age of the voters so far as it is able to ascertain. The object of this is that in some instances there may be two Smiths or two Jones, father and son; if the age is given which is which is known.

The new directories will be issued the latter part of March.

Halligan Elected President.

Honor was bestowed upon a North Platte citizen last week when at the meeting of the state bar association John J. Halligan was elected president of the association for the ensuing year. To be elected to this position is a compliment, for only attorneys of recognized ability and state-wide reputation are elected; both of these Mr. Halligan possesses. In electing our citizen, the association recognized the west part of the state. Little by little the eastern Nebraska people are beginning to recognize the existence of that part of the state west of Kearney.

Arthur Hoagland and Fred Rincker have been notified that they will probably be called to New York City the latter part of next month to give evidence in the damage case brought against the Union Pacific by the relatives of the young man Ginsburg, who was killed in June, 1911, when a freight locomotive exploded west of the city. Ginsburg was riding in a car next to the engine when the explosion occurred and he was crushed to death. The relatives of the boy sue for $50,000 damages.

T. C. Patterson has received a history of the Nineteenth Illinois Regiment and its record in the civil war. Mr. Patterson was a member of E. Co. of that regiment, and in years past attended reunions of the survivors. He says that of the 1500 men who enlisted, there are at present about fifty living. Mr. Patterson will present a copy of the book to the public library.

Harry W. Sheridan switchman and night yardmaster for the Burlington railroad in Lincoln twenty years ago, has been promoted to the position of general superintendent of the Atlantic district of the Southern Pacific railroad with headquarters at New Orleans. Sheridan has made a remarkable record as an organizer and an expert on working out terminal problems.
