The Sunshine Christmas Tree.
 The annual Christmas tree exercises held by the Sunshine Society for the needy families of the city took place Saturday afternoon at the Elk's hall. The exercises were in charge of Mrs. Minnie Perkins, secretary of the Sunshine society, who made provision for the three hundred names which were given her. Through the generosity of the local merchants, lodges and individuals each family on the list was remembered with many useful articles of clothing and gifts. The large tree from which the gifts were distributed was prettily decorated and lit with colored candles. The Baptist Sunday school class rendered a Christmas cantata which was followed by a recitation by Mary Favors entitled "Memories." Gladys Perkins recited "The Christ Child" and the program closed with an address by Missionary Scott, who presented the mothers with testaments.
 The presents were delivered to the children by a merry Santa Claus and each child was given a ticket to a matinee at the Pat yesterday.
 The Sunshine Society cannot be praised too highly for the good work which they have undertaken and for the gladness they bring into the hearts of the poor at Christmas time.

Automobile Accident.
 Miss Marie McCabe was the victim of an automobile accident yesterday forenoon, and while seriously bruised she made a narrow escape from greater injuries or perhaps death. In the face of a strong wind she was driving rapidly west on Fifth street and when at a point nearly opposite the Iddings residence she raised both hands to save her hat from blowing off; the car swerved into the ditch and in attempting to right it she turned too quickly and the car turned twice over. Miss McCabe was thrown out with great force and rendered unconscious, but soon revived, was conveyed home and her father summoned, who upon examination found the main injury to be a bad cut on one of her legs, which was probably caught under the car as it turned over. There were also minor bruises.
 The car was badly wrecked, both front wheels being broken, the rear part of the body split open on one side; the top wrecked, the lamps and wind shield broken and the mud guards twisted.
Chamber of Commerce.
 The meeting called by the Chamber of Commerce for Saturday afternoon for the purpose of considering the report of Engineer Willis on the cost of reconstruction of the old south side canal, was largely attended by owners of land under the old canal. The meeting was called to order by J. G. Beeler as chairman of the special irrigation committee. After forming a permanent organization of the land owners with Thomas E. Doolittle as chairman and Scott Reynolds as secretary, the matter of the feasibility of the reconstruction plan was fully considered. J. G. Beeler and Senator W. V. Hoagland both addressed the meeting and presented clearly and logically the legal status of water users and irrigation districts under the irrigation laws of today, also explaining the stand the government has taken in contracting to furnish water to parties who apply at once. H. C. Disem, of the government service, gave some interesting statistics and the rainfall of the past for this section, and what might be expected in the future. It was the opinion of all who spoke, that if anything was to be done in the matter it must be done at once in order that negotiations might be taken up with the government for the furnishing of water. A committee of five was appointed by the land owners present, to interview the present owners of the old canal, reference to buying their rights and to solicit support of the project from the land owners under the proposed canal. The meeting adjourned to meet again upon call of president.
