1000 Cattle Stolen.

A couple of weeks ago The Tribune made mention of the visit to North Platte of Milo Burke, of the Big Horn Basin, Wyo., and at one time a resident of this county. It is now learned that Mr. Burke's visit to Nebraska, and particularly to South Omaha, was to learn, if possible, information relative to the disappearance of about 1000 head of cattle belonging to him, to one of the Sutherland boys—who was also formerly a Lincoln county boy—and to other stockman of the Big Horn Basin. These cattle all disappeared at the same time; undoubtedly they were driven off by cattle rustlers, but the strange part of it is that no trace of them can be found. The stockyards at Denver, South Omaha and other cattle centers were visited, but it was found that no cattle bearing the brands of the stolen stock had been shipped. It is supposed now that the cattle were driven north into Canada, probably being divided into small bunches by the thieves.

Most Luxurious Train in World.

Starting February 3, says the Omaha Bee, the Northwestern and Union Pacific will run a Sunrise-Sunset special from Chicago to Los Angeles, passing through Omaha. The train will be an experiment, but if it comes up to expectations it will become one of the regular trains of the two roads.

The Sunrise-Sunset special will be sidetracked at important points during all of the nights, running only during the daytime. It will leave Chicago at 9 o'clock in the morning and arrive at Omaha at 10 that night. Here it will remain until 8:30 the following morning, when it will continue westward. Passengers will be five nights on the road, but each night their train will be on a sidetrack.

The train will carry seven sleepers, an observation car, a dining and a library and a buffet car. For the initial trip all of the space has been sold. Besides the equipment, all of which will be new, the train will carry maids and valets, stenographers and a physician. The observation car will be equipped with bathrooms and barber shops. For riding on this train there will be a $25 excess fare charge.

Our good democratic friend Henry Fulk—we say democratic because so long as Henry remains there will always be one democrat in Sutherland precinct—was summoned to town Thursday afternoon by phone by Bill Beatty and Tom Marcott, of Brady, who were already here. Presuming that these democratic statesmen of the east end desired to consult with him on things political, Henry came to town in an auto, and had scarcely set his foot on Dewey street when he was collared by the police patrol, taken before Judge Sullivan and fined two plunks. It then developed that Bill and Tom had set the trap for Henry; had caused him to travel twenty miles in order to be fined in a kangaroo court. Within the next six months we expect to be able to record how Henry got even with Tom and Bill.

The Union Pacific Railroad company furnishes an illustration of what corporations have come to regard as a business in the matter of furnishing assistance to the loyal and faithful employees. This railroad company was the first in the country to pension employees and at this time is carrying upon the payrolls more than 200 men and women, about a dozen of whom are residing in this city. The others are scattered over the county from ocean to ocean and from Canada down into Mexico. All of them have seen long years of service with the "Overland" system and the pension, or reward for efficient services, as it is better known, aggregates at this time $7,000 per month and is constantly increasing, for Father Time is constantly astrir and bringing the employes up to the line of retirement.

In Memorium

Byron L. Robinson was born in Ondago county, New York, February 15, 1849. When a small boy he moved to Michigan with his parents, where he remained until the outbreak of the civil war, at which time he volunteered his services to the union as government operator in the south.

In 1871 he moved to North Platte, where he entered the employ of the Western Union Telegraph Co. in which capacity he toiled as a faithful steward for twenty-eight years. His total service for the Union Pacific Railroad Co. was forty-two years. For the past fourteen years he has been passenger director, and here his gentlemanly courtesy and kindly spirit have been greatly appreciated both by the company and the traveling public.

On September 2, 1877, Mr. Robinson was united in marriage to Miss Alice Tinkham of Beatrice, Neb. Two children were given to them—a daughter for whom the good angel who loveth the little ones came and in infancy bore her away to the green hills of God, and a son, Guy, who now resides at Burlington, Iowa.

On November 9, 1912, he was stricken with an attack of pleurisy, which effected his heart. For weeks he was confined to his home, but he was always cheerful and as he lapsed into the shadow he said "I am not afraid." On Friday, January 17, 1913, he was taken to Omaha and placed in the Wise Memorial Hospital. From there he, in company with his wife, expected to go to California for the winter, but at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening, January 22, quietly and unaccompanied, his spirit took its flight, to that city which lieth four square, whose maker and builder is God.

To mourn his departure are left a sorrowing wife, a son Guy, two brothers and a sister who reside in Michigan, and a multitude of friends who say by their tears, "We loved him."

On the evening of February 8, 1880, Byron L. Robinson was converted. He knew it, North Platte knew it, and the employes of the Union Pacific knew it. A soul had been transformed and transfigured by the miraculous power of Jesus Christ.

He at once united himself with the M. E. Church in North Platte and was an official member of that church to the day of his death. For eighteen years he was superintendent of the Sunday school. Those were precious years. The young life of the church grew into manhood and womanhood under the benediction of his spiritual presence. Every child loved Uncle Rob and all took notice that he had been with Jesus and learned of him.

We have sustained a great loss. Earth is poorer but heaven is richer. Today Byron L. Robinson with a palm of victory in his hand, stands among those who have come up out of great tribulation and washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

Sidney Dentist Fades Away.

Sidney mourns the departure of Dr. A. N. Reed, a dentist, who sloped away during the starlight, leaving many unpaid bills. But worst of all are the cries of lamentation from the Sidney ladies, with whom he was very popular, in fact he was what is known as a lady-killer and he had all the dear girls just about crazy in their efforts to court his favor.

Harry Lucky, of Sutherland, visited in town yesterday.

Her Fighting Clothes.

A certain matron alludes to a certain gown of hers as her "quarrel dress." "I always wear it," she explains, "when I have had a quarrel with my husband." "But why do you call it a quarrel dress?" "Because it is the only gown I have that doesn't button in the back. Con sequently I don't have to call on the old grouch to help me."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Usual Kind.

On Jimmie's birthday his uncle gave him a knife. His mother told him he ought to give his uncle a penny so that it would not cut their friendship. "Oh, well," rejoined Jimmie, "it won't cut anything else, so I guess it won't cut our friendship."—Chicago News.

Never Had a Chance.

"Why have you never run for office?" asked the reporter. "Well," said the wealthy citizen, "when I was younger I was too poor to make a campaign; now that I am rich I don't dare to."—Detroit Free Press.

A Mean Question.

Welderly—Today is the tenth anniversary of my marriage. Singleton—Well, what do you expect? Wedderly—Which do I expect? Singleton—Yes; congratulations or sympathy?

Hopeless.

"Tom has proposed and asks me to give him his answer in a letter." "Shall you do it?" "No I will be more liberal and give him his answer in two letters."
