Jury Places No Blame.
The coroner's jury in the supposed case of poisoning at Sutherland returned the following verdict Wednesday: "We the undersigned jurors find from the evidence rendered that Mrs. E. E. Zimmerman came to her death at her home on Feb. 11, 1913, from a drug supposed to be salts and do not place the blame on any person or persons whatsoever."
The analysis of the substance given Mrs. Zimmerman, as made by the chemist at the state university, showed that it was tartar emetic, and the amount administered to the sick woman was of sufficient quantity to kill five persons.

The End of His Rope.
"Charles," she said, "that's the worst cigar I ever smilled in my life. Throw it away. I'm stifling!"
And she uttered a little stifle.
"It cost 10 cents," he replied, caressing the band. "The man said it took four Cubans three days to make it, and I'd hate to throw it away. It cost 10 cents."
"Nevertheless," she said between stifles, "if you don't throw it away it will kill me. It's terrible. You know I'm no chronic kicker, but just look at me!"
And indeed he had never seen any one stifle so fast or so hard. Yet he went right on smoking, muttering, "It cost me 10 cents."

The bill for the funeral (an elaborate one, for he felt quite upset) amounted to $146.80, and as he wrote a check for it he reflected, with a twinge of conscience, "It cost 10 cents, but I suppose it would have been cheaper to throw it away."—Pittsburgh Press.

They Recover Quickly.
The marriage or rather the remarriage statistics in the marries of Paris make sad reading for the sentimentalists. Of 2,270 disconsolate widowers 148 remarry within a year. The defections increase with terrible rapidity in the second year, which sees 628 re-lapses from the ranks of mourners. At the end of the third year only thirty-seven widowers remain. With the widows it is even worse. None remarry within the first year of their husband's decease, but it is feared that this is due not to fidelity, but to the strict legal veto which obtains in France. Once the law's delay is at an end they go off with vertiginous rapidity. Of 1,907 weeping widows in eighteen months only four had not exchanged their weeds for wedding garments.—Paris Cor. London Telegraph.

Norway's Sick Insurance Law.
Norway has a sick insurance law which embraces all wage earners and public servants over fifteen years of age whose yearly earnings do not exceed $322 if in the rural districts or $375 in the cities. The law also provides that the employer shall pay a certain percentage (one-sixth) of the premium, while he is held responsible for the whole, but may deduct from the wages of the insured at the end of the term for which the premium is paid the amount thus advanced. Theoretically it is self insurance on the contributive plan, while actually it amounts to an extra tax upon the employer, as most employees stipulate when engaging their services that the insurance premium shall be paid in addition to the wages.

Old Time Punishment.
In "Pike's History of Crimes," volume 1, page 226, is found the following copy of the sentence of an old time traitor "It is the order of the court that for your treason you be drawn and hanged and beheaded and that your heart, bowels and entrails, from whence come your traitorous thoughts, be torn out and burned to ashes and that the ashes be scattered to the four winds and that your body be afterward cut into four quarters."
