Clinton, THE JEWELER.

Arthur Cyderman Married.

Arthur J. Cyderman, formerly of this city, but now a salesman for the Burroughs Adding Machine Co. in San Francisco, was recently married to Miss Lucile Morgan, with whom he became acquainted in Denver some three years ago. The father of the bride owns the White City in Denver and at present is in San Francisco as one of the managers of the Panama Exposition. In 1918 the father will go to Paris to assist in the preparation of the world's fair in that city, and Mr. and Mrs. Cyderman will accompany him to that gay municipality. Arthur says the parents of his wife had planned a big wedding for them in June but that the and the young lady thought June was too long to wait, so they hid themselves to Oakland and were quietly married.

Mary Foster Found.

Mrs. Zipperer, of Chicago, nee Mary Foster, for whom a search had been conducted by E. R. Goodman, administrator of the estate of Mike Foster, deceased, arrived in town Wednesday to visit her sister Ella Foster and to legally claim her share of the estate. Mrs. Zipperer, who was a sister of the deceased, left North Platte twenty or more years ago, and though Mr. Goodman, as well as the sister, had made efforts to locate the missing woman by means of detectives it was through the medium of an advertisement in a Chicago paper that Mrs. Zipperer learned of the death of her brother and that her whereabouts was wanted. The estate left by Foster consisted of a $2,000 insurance policy and 160 acres of land.

Advertises North Platte.

Secretary Crosby, of the Chamber of Commerce, has had printed an eight-page leaflet giving a concise description of North Platte. Several thousand of these have been printed and they will be distributed to business and professional men and citizens generally with the request that when they write a letter they enclose one of the leaflets. In this way they will be distributed from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to the gulf. Anyone desiring copies can obtain them of Secretary Crosby.

Nothing New in Strike Conditions.

An underground telegram from Omaha says that the Union Pacific officials deny that they are making any overtures toward a settlement of the strike on the Union Pacific, and state more emphatically than elegantly that they will not make any such overtures. An official is quoted as saying that the company will give employment to strikers—if they wish to return to work under old conditions—as fast as vacancies occur, but in no case will an employe, who has staid with them since the strike began, be discharged in order to re-employ a striker.

Junior Normal is Assured.

A letter received from Representative Stevens by Supt. Tout announces the passage of the bill appropriating $14,000 for the support of the seven junior normal schools of the state. It is expected that Governor Morehead will not hesitate to sign the bill, and as soon as he does so the State Supt. will announce the selection of the faculty for the North Platte normal and the date on which it will open. These summer normal schools cost the state about $2,000 each, but it is money well expended. The North Platte normal has always been well attended and teachers as well as prospective teachers have received much benefit.

Miss Loudeu Delivers an Address.

Miss Maud Loudeu spoke in the Baptist church last Sunday morning. She gave a bit of her own experience while in christian work in Chicago. The training she received in the few months attendance at the Baptist training school gave her command of herself and of conditions and facts. She spoke hastily upon the subject, "City problems and means used by the city church in meeting them." She spoke more particularly of the gospel kindergarten work and the Grafts Guild for young ladies carried forward by the First Baptist church of Chicago. This church is a down town church or at least located in one of the hard, rough parts of the city, with several dance halls and the like within a couple of blocks of the building and the church is making a heroic effort to meet the needs of the community with things of an ethical and religious nature.

A Gloomy Outlook.

Unless weather conditions materially change between now and Sunday, the display of Easter toggery will be conspicuous by its absence. This will not only be disappointing to the many ladies who have provided themselves with spring frocks and hats, but to the young men who ordered spring clothing for Easter wear.

Twenty-Two Trains.

With the addition of the new de luxe through train, on and after April 2d twenty-two passenger trains will arrive and depart from North Platte each 24-hours. This is two more trains than we have at present. While the greater number of these are through trains, yet the local travel is about as well taken care of as might reasonable be expected in a sparsely settled country such as is western Nebraska.

Firemen's Ball Monday Evening

The annual ball of the North Platte fire department will be held at the Lloyd next Monday evening, and as it is the first dance following the Lenten season it will no doubt be largely attended. No organization is also deserving of the public patronage as the city firemen; we are all under obligation to them and we can to some extent discharge that obligation by investing in dance tickets.

Man Reported Missing.

A dispatch from Stapleton to the Bee, dated Wednesday, stated: This town has been literally cut off from the outside world since Thursday night following the heavy snowstorm which has put all train operations out of business and has been the cause of the death of a large number of cattle. A Mr. Newberry, who left here for his ranch Friday when the storm was at its worst, did not reach home and it is feared he perished with his team. Snow plows are busy clearing off the tracks.

Cattle Losses Increase.

Reports of the loss of cattle in the blizzard of Friday of last week still come in and the total will be larger than at first predicted. The loss is by far the heaviest experienced by cattle growers since the winter of 1880-81, and the financial loss will be severely felt directly and indirectly in the business circles of the west part of the state. It is generally conceded that a large number of the cattle died from suffocation, the snow and the ice covering the nostrils and mouths of the animals and preventing them from breathing. One man says he had a cow down with a big bunch of snow and ice over her nose and mouth. This he knocked off and in three minutes the cow got up and walked away apparently all right.

The foreman of the 7-H-L ranch on the Loup telephoned to this city Wednesday that their loss was 953 out of a herd of 2,500. Another big outfit in the Hyannis section lost 2,100 out of a herd of 7,000. J. H. McGinley and Simon Brogan, living north of Paxton, lost heavily, the former 250 head and the latter about 100.

In several instances on farms and ranches in the valley west of here the snow drifted twenty feet deep. It sifted through hog pens and hogs were dug out from under two or three feet of snow.

Found Dead in the Yards.

An aged man was found frozen under a large snow drift in the yards west of the new round house grounds Wednesday morning. The man was a cripple and was noticed in this city the early part of last week. It was thought he was beating his way west and was overtaken by the snow storm Friday. In the pocket of his coat was a small book containing the following: My name is—guess—address—nowhere and in case of accident notify the floating public. The remains were taken in charge by undertaker Maloney and interred in the city cemetery yesterday. The deceased was about seventy-five or six years of age, had long grey hair and beard in which the snow and ice had become imbedded.

Shooting Affray at Julesburg.

At Julesburg Wednesday Jerma Atkins of Huntington, W. Va., shot and killed S. G. Stevenson and then committed suicide. The trouble between the two is said to have originated over Stevenson's admonitions to Miss Bessie Hileman, to whom Atkins had become attached, that Atkins was not the proper person for her to marry. It is said that Stevenson told Miss Hileman that Atkins owed him considerable money, and when Atkins learned of it he sought Stevenson and began shooting. Upon Stevenson's death Atkins turned the revolver upon himself. Stevenson was married.

Tied Up for Three Days.

Engineer Roland Beatie returned to town the early part of this week after having been tied up on the Gibbon cutoff for several days. His engine jumped the rails Thursday of last week and before it could be gotten back the blizzard was in full sway, causing an abandonment of the work until the weather moderated. Further delay ensued before the track was cleared of the snow banks.

SANITARY PLUMBING.

The fact that a man can put a thread on a piece of pipe and couple it up with a wrench does not make that man a Sanitary Plumber any more than the fact that a man can write with a pen makes him an expert bookkeeper. It takes years of study to become a Sanitary Plumber.

I am an acknowledged expert in my line and this is what you want to consider when giving out your work this coming season.

The cheap job by inexperienced workmen means that in a year or two the cost of that job will be double the cost of a first class job by a first-class man who knows what real Sanitary Plumbing is.

I stand back of every job of plumbing I install and I have the knowledge to install each job in a Sanitary manner.

The cost my work is always at the lowest figure for good work. My motto is, "Low Cost, High Quality."

Heavy Loss Along the Burlington.

Station agents of the Burlington between Broken Bow and Alliance have made inquiry as to the loss of stock in that section during the blizzard of last week and report the loss to have been at least seventeen thousand head. In some cases the losses were as high as ninety per cent, and in one case, that of a man living near Alliance, not a single animal out of a bunch of ninety survived.
