TO STUDY SPOOKS

Chair of Spiritualism to Be Established in Harvard.

Investigation of "Psychic Phenomena" in New England, Where Witches Were Burned—Bequest of $10,000 for Research.

Cambridge.—Harvard university has seriously contracted to enter upon an investigation of what is technically described as "psychic phenomena," but which our parents (ever since the days of the Fox sisters) called "spiritualism," writes Julian Chambers. This, to my way of thinking is one of the most startling innovations in pedagogy that several centuries have furnished. Indeed, it is an event that could only have followed the coming of the wonderful era of telephone, airships, radium, wireless messages and phonographs. It will not do to treat this incident lightly or to cover it with ridicule.

Such is far from my thought when I frankly declare that the acceptance of a $10,000 endowment fund for psychic research by that time-honored university at Cambridge encourages the hope that Francis L. Wellman's fond wish to found a school of draw poker at Harvard may be ultimately realized.

Seriously, however, comparatively few are believers in spiritualism, the acceptance of this bequest by so conservative a body as the trustees of Harvard brings the study of psychic phenomena to a stage never previously attained in this country.

The language employed by the benefactor is quite explicit. He gives the money—which can only be regarded

No more interesting mental test can be made than to sit at distance from two persons well known and to attempt to learn, by telepathy, what they are talking about. You will be amazed how often it can be done. Try. You may fall utterly; but some people are able to do this very thing! Some kind of intangible, inexplicable communication is at times established between intimate friends far distant.

Most men of the world—especially active mental workers or travelers—believe in premonitions. When one reaches that stage, why not have confidence in dreams?

An intimate friend always has a serious illness whenever he dreams of snakes—I am not joking, the man always has been a total abstainer. The dream may be responsible for the sickness, you will say. Possibly so. But the same person never dreams of seeing washing hung upon a line without finding therein a premonition that he is to move his habitation.

Y.W.C.A. PLANS BEAU PARLORS

Edmonton Secretary Outlines Ideas for Tete-a-tete in the New $200,000 Building.

Edmonton, Alta.—Miss Lukes, general secretary of the Young Women's Christian association of Edmonton, said that "beau parlors" will be featured in the $200,000 building to be erected here this spring.

They will be on the main floor, set off from the social hall in such a way that seven or eight of these rooms will be available for a tete-a-tete interview, with a certain amount of privacy, yet without closed doors. Miss Lukes has provided a club room in the present building where the girls are free to invite their boy or man friends.

Another feature of the new home will be individual sleeping chambers, while the public washroom will be partitioned and provided with slatted doors, where the girls may take sponge baths following exercising in the physical department.

Youngest Daughter of King Alfonso Is Threatened to Become Deaf and Dumb.

Madrid.—It is learned from a person in the immediate entourage of the royal family that it is greatly feared that Infanta Maria Christina, now fourteen months old, the youngest child of the king and queen, is threatened with the same impediment in hearing and speech as her little brother, Don Jaime, now four years old.

The other two children, Crown Prince Alfonso, nearly six, and Infanta Beatrice, not quite four, are normal. Undoubtedly the king's own health is causing concern. His appearance has become ghastly.

Dog Uncovers Swindle.

Winsted, Conn.—A dachshund belonging to Eugene McCaskey, who was playing poker with several sharps, saw one of his master's opponents slip an ace behind his knees, and bit him on the leg. The card which would have lost McCaskey the pot dropped to the floor, and disclosed the swindle.

WAS BEATEN ON HONEYMOON

Grand Jury Holds D. Jack Lit After Former Wife Describes Attack in Hotel.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Following her divorce from her former husband, D. Jack Lit, the son of Col. Sam D. Lit of Lit Bros., Mrs. Lit appeared before the grand jury and swore to the ill treatment which she had received from her husband from the first night of their marriage on January 31, 1912.

Mrs. Lit testified that she was subjected to such treatment on the part of her husband that she was wrecked physically, and her family physician, Prof. David C. Belsman of the University of Pennsylvania, and her father, Ralph Blum of Blum Bros., were witnesses in her behalf.

So atrocious was the recital of the experiences of the bride that the grand jury found seven true bills against Lit on the charges of assault and battery and other forms of assault, which indicate that if the young man is convicted he will have to spend at least 20 years in prison.

Mrs. Lit is a helpless cripple, says her physician. She will never be the same young girlish debutante that figured in so many of the city's social functions.

Soon after the marriage of the Lits it was charged in reports that came to this city from Florida that it was necessary for the attaches of the hotel where they were spending their honeymoon to almost break down the door to rescue Mrs. Lit from the beating of her husband.

Ralph Blum, the father of Mrs. Lit, has insisted that Lit be punished. All the influence of the wealth of the two families, who own the second and third largest department stores in the city, was exerted to try and settle the differences. It was not a case that money could assuage and Mr. Blum refused to have any sum accepted for the injuries which his daughter sustained.

He has demanded an indictment and a prison term, despite all the power and influence brought to bear, and the case was heard by the grand jury and the indictments followed in less than a half hour's time.

WORD CAUSES CHURCH ROW

Church Upset by Rector's Criticism of Young Woman's Rendition of "The Holy City."

Huntington, L. I.—The Episcopal church community here is perturbed to an amusing extent over the criticism which Rev. Charles S. Cragg, rector of St. John's church, directed against a young woman soloist who sang the word Jerusalem as "J-r-see-lum" in the rendition of "The Holy City" at an entertainment by the Huntington Historical society.

So shocked was the rector at the way the word was intoned he straightway sat down and wrote a note to Miss Gladys Dean of Ohio, the soloist, and declared it made the whole number "an object of ridicule to many." He declared that the syllable "sa" should be pronounced as if it were "ser" or "sar."

The controversy which ensued has by no means subsided and church members, finding dictionaries unavailing, are still swapping opinions.

Dynamite Simply Refused to Explode.

Sparta Junction, N. J.—A car loaded with 45,000 pounds of dynamite was wrecked in a collision here, but dynamite did not explode. The car was so badly splintered that it had to be burned after the explosive had been transferred

The KITCHEN CABINET

IT IS difficult to be always true to ourselves, to be always what we wish to be, what we feel we ought to be. As long as we feel that as long as we do not surrender the ideal of our life, all right. Our aspirations represent the true nature of our soul much more than our every day life. —Muller.

SOME BEST DISHES.

- Recipes which are great favorites with one person might not be at all appreciated by another, and yet it is safe to assume that most people enjoy the plain things best.
- Waffles.—Mix and sift one and a fourth cupful of flour with a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and a half teaspoon of soda. Separate the yolks and whites of two eggs, beat well, add a cupful of thick sour milk to the yolks and stir in the dry ingredients, and add three tablespoonfuls of melted butter after folding in the whites of the eggs. Bake on a well buttered waffle iron.
 - Finnan Haddie.—Cut fish in strips and put into a baking pan, cover with water and place on the back of the range and allow to heat slowly; simmer a half hour, drain and separate the fish into flakes by using two forks. Add a half cup of thick cream and four hard cooked eggs, thinly sliced. Season with cayenne, add a tablespoonful of butter, melted, and sprinkle with chopped parsley.
 - Codfish Balls.—Cook a pint of potatoes, quartered, in three pints of water until tender; drain, mash and beat until smooth; add a tablespoonful of butter, pepper and salt, if needed, and a cupful of pickled codfish. When cool add a beaten egg, form in balls and fry in deep fat.

add to the first mixture, beating continually. Bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. They may be baked in gem or muffin pans.

- Goldsmith Salad.—Take half a cup of apples minced fine, add a fourth of a cup of celery and a fourth of a cup of hickory nut meats, a fourth of a cup of minced olives and green peppers mixed. Mix all with mayonnaise dressing and serve, if for extra occasions, in pepper cups.
- Veal Croquettes.—Put a pint of veal through the meat grinder, add a tablespoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of lemon juice and a generous sprinkling of paprika. Melt three tablespoonfuls of butter; add two tablespoonfuls of finely minced onion, three tablespoonfuls of flour and three-fourths of a cup of veal stock or milk. Cook together five minutes, add two eggs well beaten; stir until thick. Mix with the veal and cool. Shape, allowing a rounding tablespoonful for each croquette. Dip in crumbs, egg and crumbs and fry in deep fat. Serve with or without white sauce.
- Calf's Heart.—Wash the heart, remove the tough portions, stuff with a good stuffing, season well with salt and pepper and bake in the oven for two or three hours, basting during the roasting. Serve with boiled onions.
- Cinnamon Rolls.—A delicious cinnamon roll can be made of ordinary biscuit dough, rolled out, spread with butter and thickly sprinkled with brown sugar or maple, if you are fortunate enough to have it, then a sprinkling of cinnamon, and roll up and cut. Put in the pan as close together as possible, as in the raising they spread out.

“YET”

“YET” ere we part, one lesson I can leave you for every day—
Be good.

And so make life, death and that vast forever
One grand sweet song.” —Kingsley.

NICE DISHES FOR COMPANY.

- There is no reason for making more preparation for company than for our own, or even as much, as we certainly appreciate our own family more than we do a chance guest, yet we like, occasionally, to show our friends the attention of a delicious meal.
- Pineapple Puff.—Beat the whites of three eggs until stiff, add three tablespoonfuls of sugar, four tablespoonfuls of grated pineapple; beat together slightly, and partly fill buttered cups, stand them in water and bake until a light brown. Turn out and serve with whipped cream sweetened and flavored.
 - Mountain Dew.—Take a cupful of cracker crumbs, the yolks of three eggs well beaten, a half cup of sugar, the juice and rind of a lemon, three cupfuls of milk. Bake twenty minutes. Beat the whites of the eggs, add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, spread over the top and bake until brown.
 - Krimmel Torte.—Beat the whites of six eggs, add a cup of sugar, a half pound of dates cut in small pieces, a half pound of walnut meats, cut not too fine; three tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs and a teaspoonful of baking powder. Mix together and add the beaten egg and sugar. Bake in layers and serve, crumbed up, with sweetened whipped cream.

Cod Fish a la Mode.—One cup of codfish shredded fine, two cups of mashed potato, a pint of milk, two beaten eggs, a half cup of softened butter, red pepper and salt to taste. Bake in a buttered dish twenty minutes.

Nettie Maxwell.

Bowery Snob.—John A. Weeks, who was recently elected president of the New York Historical society, condemned, at a luncheon in a Fifth avenue club, the snob. "We have in America," said Mr. Weeks, "many families with records to be proud of, but neither in America nor any other country is there an excuse for snobbishness."

"But we find snobs everywhere—even in the lowest places."

"A shabby fellow who once begged a drink in a Bowery saloon, said to the bartender:

"I thank you for this glass of beer, but although I may have to ask such favors occasionally, I am a well-born man and proud of my descent."

"Well, it seems to have been rapid," said the bartender."

TIMELY DISHES.

- Sour Cream Spice Cake.—Beat two eggs until thick and lemon colored, add a half cup of brown sugar and slowly, a half cup of New Orleans molasses and three-fourths of a cup of sour cream. Sift two cups of flour, two teaspoonfuls of soda, a tablespoonful and a fourth of ginger, one and a fourth teaspoonfuls of cinnamon, a third of a teaspoonful each of salt and cloves. Sift twice, to blend well, and Only Success Worth Winning.

There is nothing base in failure, but base failure; there is nothing good in success but that which is well won. The applause of triumph is a mockery to him who has not deserved his success; if anything of conscience remains to him such applause must be a positive torture. We always know in our hearts whether we have merited that which comes to us, and it is always sweetened a hundredfold when we know that we really have done something fair and true for it.

THE best things are nearest; breath in your nostrils, light in your eyes, flowers at your feet, duties at your hand, the path of God just before you. Then do not grasp at the stars, but do life's plain, common work as it comes, certain that daily duties and daily bread are the sweetest things of life. —Houghton.

CAKE MAKING.

The evolution of cake making has changed the old, tedious process of creaming butter, adding the sugar gradually or creaming both together. Now, a good cake may be made in half the time it took to cream the butter and sugar. Putting all the ingredients together as follows: Break in the eggs, add the sugar, warmed butter, a little flour, then all of the milk, and flour with the baking powder, the beating coming after all the mixing is done. Beat well for five minutes with a large Dover egg beater, and turn into the pan. Water may be used instead of milk, with scarcely any difference in the quality of the cake. The butter must not be melted to destroy the grain, but simply softened enough so that it will be readily mixed.

The old-fashioned one, two, three, four cake is the mother of all the butter cakes. Sponge cake is the foundation for jelly rolls, lady fingers, angel and sunshine cakes.

An even teaspoonful of baking powder to a cup of flour is sufficient for all cakes with eggs. An excess of baking powder not only makes a coarse-grained cake but one which dries out very quickly.

The shape in which the cake is to be baked should decide the amount of flour to be used. Layer cakes or small cakes baked in gem pans require less flour than loaf cakes.

Sunrise Cake.—Take a half cup of butter, add a cup of sugar to the softened butter, the yolks of six eggs, a little of half a cup of milk, two cups of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Mix and then stir in the rest of the milk, beating well with the egg beater until light and foamy. Flavor with half a teaspoonful each of lemon and vanilla.
