Mr. Sorenson began service with the Union Pacific in North Platte in 1877, and removed to Omaha in 1880. His thirty-six years of continuous service places him in the front rank of old engineers on the Union Pacific.

Notice to Dog Owners.

As there are a great many stray and worthless dogs in North Platte, it becomes necessary for the dog owners who wish to let them run in the street, to go to the office of the city clerk and procure a tag which must be attached to the dog's collar. This must be done on or before May 1, for after that all dogs without tags that are found at large will be killed. By order of the Chief of Police. 25-4

Pizer to Retire from Active Management.

Julius Pizer, who for over twenty years has conducted The Leader, will retire from active management of the business, having secured the services of a manager who will arrive in a month or so and will take full charge of the establishment. Commencing tomorrow a sale will be inaugurated, the purpose of which is to reduce the stock, close out certain departments, and in the future carry fewer lines, but more complete stock in the lines carried.

As soon as the sale is completed and the new manager installed, Mr. Pizer will go to Europe to visit his father, whom he has not seen for over thirty years, for several months and thus escape a nervous breakdown which now threatens him as a result of close application to business for so many years. Upon his return home he will devote his time to looking after his investments and loans, which have grown to such an extent as to require much of his time.

The retirement of Mr. Pizer from the active management of The Leader does not mean that the establishment will lose its place in the front rank of the mercantile houses of western Nebraska. The manager selected comes from a well known eastern department store and is thoroughly conversant with all the lines The Leader will carry. The vim and push the new manager will put into the business, coupled with Mr. Pizer's financial backing, insures a continuance of the volume of business of past years.

The board of directors of Suburban Ditch after inspecting conditions recently recommended that a number of improvements be made, among them the cleaning of the ditch from the headgate and east end of the Nichols lateral for three miles. Other repairs to flumes and bridges which are under way will fit them up in first class order. The directors aim to have the ditch in good condition to supply water to users in a short time in a satisfactory manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sullivan and family and Mr. and Mrs. William Sullivan, of Salt Lake City, went thru yesterday afternoon to Omaha where they were called by the illness of J. J. Sullivan.
