Chas. J. Pass Elected State Secretary.

C. J. Pass and F. J. Doran returned yesterday from Omaha where they went as delegates to the state convention of the Knights of Columbus. The convention was attended by the state officers, the district delegates and two delegates from each council in the state. Eighteen councils were represented, which gives some idea of the strength of the order in Nebraska. Wednesday the Knights were the guests of the Commercial Club at a luncheon, which was followed by an auto ride about the city.

The convention closed with the election of officers, Chas. J. Pass of this city being selected as state secretary, a position of considerable importance. Mr. Pass has been one of the live wires in the local council since its organization, and has creditably filled positions therein. His election as state secretary was largely due to the active interest he has taken in the organization.

THE MUTUAL BUILDING & LOAN ASSOCIATION.

The assets of this association exceed the sum of half a million dollars. The reduction of the rate of interest to borrowers has increased the demand for loans; and in order to meet this demand the association will issue a limited amount of its PAID UP STOCK.

Money invested in this paid up stock draws six per cent interest, payable semi-annually, and may be withdrawn at any time upon thirty days notice, such notice being waived where there are funds in the treasury to meet the withdrawal.

T. C. PATTERSON, President.
SAMUEL GOOZEE, Secretary.

Francis Flynn Gets High Credit at Stanford.

Francis Flynn, who has been a student at the Leland Standard Junior University at Palo Alto, Cal., during the past year, arrived home yesterday to spend the summer vacation with his parents. Friends of the young man will be pleased to know that his progress in that institution has been marked, as is evidenced by the fact that in the final examinations he stood first in a class of over one hundred. This indicates that Francis is making the best possible use of his college advantages and that graduation will mean more to him than the mere earning of a diploma; he will emerge equipped with an education backed by an ambition that spells success in life, for without this latter qualification the former is insufficient in itself to gain much headway for the possessor.

M. E. Church

Spider Webs will be the theme at the M. E. church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Lessons from the spider and her web will be applied to modern life. Other services of the day will be as follows: Sunday school 9:45 a. m., preaching 11:00 a. m., Epworth League 6:45.

There has been placed on the First National Bank corner an object that is not offensive to the eye nor inconvenient to the passer-by, but if placed at each street intersection would be a great help to Billy Salisbury in keeping clean streets. We refer to the waste paper receptacle, made of heavy steel sheeting, nicely painted and a product of Simon Bros. shop. Were these receptacles in general use the streets would not be littered with paper that detracts from the otherwise neatness—since the signs have been taken down.

Mrs. J. T. Stuart and daughter Irene are spending this week in Omaha at the Eastern Star Convention.

North Platte Boy Wins Creighton Medal.

At the oratorical contest, of Creighton college at Omaha, Wednesday evening, Leo Pass of this city, a student at the college, won first honors and was presented with a beautiful medal which had been donated by an Omaha business man. Ten students participated in the contest, and each selection was of the dramatic class, Mr. Pass delivering Marc Antony's address at the grave of Caesar. His delivery is said to have been exceptionally good, full round tones, clear enunciation and well fitted gestures.

Mr. Pass for two years was a student at a Denver college, but on account of impaired health supposed to be due to the Denver altitude, he quit that school and entered Creighton college where he has stood very high in his classes during the past year.

Mr. O. B. Frazier Passes Away.

Mr. O. B. Frazier died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. V. Lucas at 510 Vine street early Thursday morning after a long and serious illness of several months duration from Bright's disease.

Mr. Frazier was born in the town of Western, Oneida county, N. Y., August 19, 1845. Here he spent his childhood days and received his early education, which was finished at Whitetown Seminary. October 16, 1867, he was married to Susan E. Pike. To this union were born three daughters, Mrs. C. A. Day, of Palisade, Colo., Mrs. V. Lucas, of this city and Mrs. Chas. Hoffine, of Cheyenne, Wyo., all of whom with his widow, two grand children and four brothers survive to mourn together over this, the first break in the family circle and attest to these endearing traits of love and devotion which makes their loss most heart breaking.

In 1880 Mr. Frazier moved to Cumming Co., Nebr., and located on a farm where he resided until 1883 when he moved to No. Bend which was his home until he came to North Platte nine years ago to enter the employ of the Wilcox department store. In this position which he held until forced to relinquish from ill health, he won the confidence and respect of all with whom he met. Honest, patient, kind and courteous to all he exemplified in his daily life those beautiful traits of character, which always mark a friend, whose religious faith and teachings formed so early apart of his training and to which he adhered to the time of his death.

Last October Mr. and Mrs. Frazier were persuaded to store their household goods and spend the winter with their daughter, Mrs. Lucas, where every care and comfort which medical skill and loving hands could give were given him, but that dread disease had made such inroads that human help availed nothing.

Funeral services will be held from the home of Dr. Lucas Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. Interment to be made in the North Platte cemetery.

Nebraska Winds Cause Death and Ruin.

The Scotts Bluffs section was visited Tuesday by a wind that assumed cyclonic proportions, several farm buildings being leveled, one person killed and several injured.

Wednesday afternoon about five-thirty a regular tornado swept over a section of Seward, wrecking a number of houses, killing nine people and injuring a score of others. In the country tributary to Seward considerable havoc was wrought and several deaths resulted.

Trouble and a Camera in Cairo.

I perceived that it would be impossible to photograph any of the bazaars of Cairo without very efficient help. By great good fortune I ran across an excellent dragoman a couple of hours later. He could speak English well, and his terms were reasonable. I explained to him what I wanted to do, and he said he could manage it, so I promptly engaged him, and the following afternoon found me again at the bazaars. Here, in spite of almost insuperable difficulties, I secured several good photographs. No sooner had I taken my camera out of its case than I was literally hemmed in by a crowd of curious people, and before the photograph could be taken these had to be kept back and the traffic stopped on either side of the subject being photographed. The difficulties involved may possibly be imagined, certainly not described. Once a native policeman came to my aid, thrashing right and left with a rope end. The ubiquitous small boy, who wears nothing but an abbreviated cotton gown, went off howling. When the photograph had been taken, every body wanted baksheesh, and my dragoman had to fight off all those not entitled to a fee. I was glad to pay the men who frequently volunteered to keep the crowds back.—Christian Her-

The Wasted Witticism

"I always thought," said the hostess, "that Scotchmen were humorous. One night I showed a departing Scotch guest a great pile of overcoats in the dressing room."

"Here," I said, with a wave of my hand, "you are the first to leave. Take your choice."

"Thank you," said he as he fumbled searchingly among them, "I'll have me own."—Exchange.

His Own Words.

Hubby—You could make me very happy if you would only exert yourself a little.

Wife—But you told me when I accepted you that I'd made you the happiest man on earth. How can I improve on that?—Boston Transcript.

The Little Pitcher.

Said Edith to her doll: "There, don't answer me back. You mustn't be saucy no matter how hateful I am. You must remember I am your mother!"

Luck.

Hokus—I wonder how it was that old Methusalem lived so long? Pokus—Probably some woman had married him for his money.—Judge.

Clever.

He—Oh, yes; I write verse occasionally, but I tear it all up as soon as I write it. She—Ah! I knew you were clever.—London Tit-Bits.
