Miss Marie Goldsmith returned from Lincoln Sunday evening.

Superintendent Pierce, of Sutherland schools, spent Saturday in town on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Greiser returned Saturday afternoon from a week's visit in St. Paul and Grand Island.

Miss Alfa McKinley, of York, came Saturday evening to visit Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Garlish for a couple of weeks.

There was a heavy rain Sunday, which, however, did not long continue. In the Sutherland section there was a heavy hail.

Hilmer Thompson spent Sunday in Omaha with friends.

Fred Graves and A. Abercrombie, of Brady, visited in town the latter part of last week.

Roy Cockran returned Saturday evening from Hershey where he spent a week on business.

Mrs. Wheeler Getty, of Lincoln, formerly Miss Lucy Sullivan of this city returned home Sunday evening, after visiting friends for a week.

A farmer from the south side Saturday said his rye was two feet high and heading out. He is of the opinion that with one good rain during June the small grain crop in Lincoln county will be a bumper.

N. E. Buckley, engineer in charge of the Union Pacific terminal improvements, was called to Stromsburg the latter part of last week by the death of an uncle. He is expected to return today.

R. H. Frame, of the Hershey section, shipped eight car loads of fat heifers Saturday, part going to South Omaha and the others to Chicago. They are animals that had been fattened by Mr. Frame and were an exceptionally fine bunch.

Events Preceding Commencement Day.

The seating capacity of the Keith Theatre was taxed Friday evening when the class of 1913, thirty-five in number, presented "The College Widow," George Ales' four act success. Miss Irma Huffman and Arthur Tramp in the leading roles were exceptionally good and were supported by a company of talented students each one adapted to the part assigned them. The scenery, costumes and musical numbers are especially worthy of mention the former being designed and painted by Stampher Schmalzried. The play was given under the direction of Miss Gladys Welsh. Principal characters taken by Misses Hildegard Clinton, Myrtle Beeler, Virginia Bullard, and Messrs. George Weir, Will Norris, Abner Weesburg, Stampher Schmalzried, Ira Russell, Jay Smith and Cyril Donegan were strongly brought out and given continuous applause. The play was without doubt the most successful ever held by the local high school. The ease and confidence with which each participant played their part was a demonstration of their ability in this line and the careful training which they received.

The Junior-Senior banquet was held at the Masonic Hall Saturday evening. The walls of the banquet room were hung with pennants and streamers of red and white and tables were decorated with programs, pretty place cards and cut flowers in the class colors. The elaborate banquet was served in seven courses by the ladies of the Christian church. DeWitt Foster filled the toastmaster's chair and reflected credit alike to himself and the Junior class by his method of introducing the speakers. The toasts were appropriate to the occasion and brought forth loud applause. Following is the program: Selections, Orchestra; Address of Welcome, DeWitt Foster; Forward March, Victor Anderson; Our Girls, George Weir; Our Boys, Janet McDonald; Looking Forward, Paul Ottenstein; Looking Forward, Florence McKay; High School Days, Miss Rudolph; Auf Wiedersehen, Mr. Schutz.

The baccalaureate sermon to the class of 1913 was delivered at the Methodist church Sunday morning by Rev. Knowles of the Christian church. The church was crowded with students, parents and friends of the graduates who give their undivided attention to the splendid sermon. Rev. Knowles is a fluent and interesting speaker and highly complimented the class upon its successful work in the local school and firmly impressed upon them the advantages of higher education. His advice to them was to make use of their opportunities now before them, to improve their time while at college in order to obtain the higher things of life. He compared the man of learning with the man who may be able with an ordinary education to make a living but can never aspire to the higher things which the college man will obtain. The speaker's remarks were encouraging, elevating and impressive.

Music was furnished by the Methodist and Christian choirs, including a well rendered duet by Mrs. B. F. Gaither and Miss Dorothy Hinman.

Improving the Brunk Hill.

Road Overseer Charley Robinson and a gang of men and teams are now at work improving the Brunk hill on the main traveled road to Gandy. The hill is being cut down so that the grade is gradual and the road, which is very sandy, will be covered with clay, thus making a hard surface. This hill has long been a hard pull for loaded teams going north and the fact that it is being put in good repair will be appreciated by farmers and others who have occasion to use the road.

An Incurable Boy.

Harley Wetzell, whose mother and father have separated and he has been making his home with his mother, is held in the county jail preparatory to a term in the Kearney industrial school, to which institution he has been committed. The mother confesses she is unable to control her son, and that he is going from bad to worse. He recently returned from a tramping trip to Ogden, on which he was accompanied by the young son of Adam Walz.

W. M. Cunningham, formerly of this city who for a year has been in the employ of the water company at St. Joe, Mo., has resigned and will engage in the manufacture of boxes at Cedar Rapids, Ia., having associated himself one or two other men who are experienced in the business.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the building and loan association Saturday evening loans aggregating twenty thousand dollars were approved and allowed. The demand for loans from the association this spring are very heavy the larger number of which are wanted to pay for new buildings.

E. N. Ogier went to Omaha Sunday night to see if he could not hurry the shipment of Ford and Studebaker cars for which his firm has placed orders. They are experiencing much trouble in securing a sufficient number of cars to meet the demands of their customers.

Messrs. Den, Bailey and Rehhausen spent several days last week at lakes eighty miles north of the city fishing for bass, a sport in which they were very successful. They brought home the lawful limit—fifty fish each.

Dr. Hunt, of Omaha, who recently traded property in that city for the Sodacott place seven or eight miles northwest of town, came up Sunday to view his newly acquired property.

Will Weisgerber left Saturday for Missoula, Mont., to visit his parents for a month or so.

Notice.

All the accounts of Ginn, White & Schatz company contracted prior to Aug. 19th, 1912 are owned by Messrs. Ginn & White and are payable at the office of E. H. Evans. All such accounts must be settled prior to June 1st or action will be taken to enforce collection.

Organize County Fair Association

Believing that a full exhibit of agricultural exhibits would tend to promote greater interest in farming that it would be the means of publishing to the outside public the productiveness of Lincoln county soil, and that such exhibits might tend to bring more farmers into the county, the Lincoln county Agricultural Association was formerly organized in this city Saturday. The officers elected were W. W. Birge president, F. C. Pielsticker vice-president, M. E. Crosby secretary, R. C. Langford treasurer and W. P. Snyder, superintendent of the experimental sub-station, manager. Assistant managers will be appointed in a number of the precincts, who will co-operate with Manager Snyder in securing exhibits of products and stock. At this meeting a constitution and by-laws were adopted and certification of the organization was later made to the county clerk as provided for under the law passed by the last legislature.

The first fair will be held this fall, and while plans have not yet been fully matured, it is probable that the Lloyd opera house will be leased for the exhibition of products and suitable arrangements made for a show ground and shelter for the stock exhibits. There will be no horse racing in connection with the fair, but it is planned to have a festival of amusement features extending over three or four days.

In order to interest farmers in making displays of products and stock, premiums will be offered that will really pay the exhibitor for his time in preparing his display.

There has long been a general feeling that Lincoln county has not been as well advertised as it deserves and it is believed that the holding of a fair will be one good way to gain this end. The amusement features will be on such a scale as to attract the attendance of many people from outside the county.

Railroad News.

Engines 910, 911 and 921, three of the new ones received for passenger service, went through Sunday. They are of the Pacific type.

The Union Pacific has flatly refused to stop train No. 18 on flag at Brady, whereat the citizens are somewhat "riled" and threaten to take the matter before the railway commission. Brady people have no chance to go east between breakfast time and midnight.

Occupying half the space of a Pullman on the Pacific Limited Sunday, Domingo Hormaeche, his wife, six children and several servants passed through to Chicago. This gentleman is the combined Rockefeller and Carnegie of Mexico, his oil and iron lands in Mexico being valued at one hundred million dollars.

Sub-contractors on the Burlington construction work west of Orin Junction have been ordered to push the work with all possible speed, and have been given the assurance that when that work is completed other contracts await them. This is taken to mean that when the work west of the junction is completed construction work on the Platte valley line will begin.

We are having a number of inquiries for rooms for light house keeping during the Junior Normal. These people want two rooms, one for sitting and the other for bed room. Persons having such rooms for rent will please notify me by letter or phone.
