

STILL SMASHING THE PRICES

The big sale at The Leader, the sale that has been the the most popular and most successful one ever inaugurated in North Platte is still in progress. It is a sale in a class by itself; a sale at which reasonable merchandise is being sold right in the midst of the spring season at prices that were never before offered. Below a few prices are quoted and the same prices hold good in all departments.

Death of Mrs. Filbin.

Mrs. James Filbin died at her home in the first ward early Sunday morning. Mrs. Filbin recently came to this city from Hartwell to join her husband who had been engaged in the draying business for a couple of months and on Thursday of last week gave birth to a boy and a girl. Her condition became serious Thursday afternoon and a consultation of physicians was held but death could not be stayed and the spirit took its flight three days later.

Imelda Probst Filbin died in her twenty-first year. She was a resident of Centralia, Wash., until June 26th, 1912 when she was married at Hartwell to James Filbin, who with the infants survive her. Other living relatives are her parents and several brothers and sisters who reside in Centralia, Wash.

During her residence here she made a number of friends by her personality and charitable manner. She was a devout member of the Catholic church and an affectionate and dutiful wife. The remains were taken to Hartwell Sunday evening for burial accompanied by her husband and relatives who had been summoned here last week.

Mrs. Moran, of Farnam, came Saturday evening, called here by the serious illness of Mrs. James Filbin.

Thomas Axtell has purchased the Babbitt property in the fourth ward Lot 8, Block 50, and will have same remodeled.
