FUNDS FOR FIGHTING PLAGUE

State Legislatures in 1913 Made Generous Appropriations to Check the Spread of Tuberculosis.

Out of 41 state legislatures in session during the season of 1913, laws dealing with tuberculosis were enacted in 39 states, while in 34 states consideration was given to bills dealing with the prevention of this disease. This is a summary of the legislative campaign for 1913, issued by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis today.

Appropriations to the amount of over $5,000,000 have been set aside for the treatment and prevention of tuberculosis by the various state legislatures in session this year. Most of this money is for the maintenance of state sanatoria. There are at the present time 39 such institutions in 31 different states, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, each having more than one sanatorium. Delaware is the only state which has made provision for a state sanatorium for tuberculous negroes. In addition to the amounts appropriated by the various state governments, congress will be obliged to set aside nearly $1,000,000 for the maintenance of the United States public health, the army and the navy sanatoria, and the tuberculosis hospital of the District of Columbia.

The Christian's Future Reward

By REV. WILLIAM EVANS
Director of Bible Course, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago

TEXT—For he had respect unto the recompense of the reward.—Heb. 11:26.

He have not believed in vain.

I. The Believer in Christ Never Dies.
Jesus said: "I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die." And again: "If a man keep my word, he shall never see death." He shall never "see" death—what does that mean? It means that he shall never gaze upon death as the outlook or the objective of his life. There are but two spheres: life, and death. The moment a man believes in Jesus Christ he passes out of the sphere of death into that of life; life, not death, is henceforth his outlook. The believer is nowhere told to look forward to death. Since he believed, death has ceased to be the object of his gaze. The Christian shall "never die."

In the words of Jesus to Martha: "Believest thou this?" That those dead shall one day live because of him, is not hard to believe; but that those living "shall never die" because of their faith in him, is more difficult to believe. Nevertheless it is a fact. The death of the body is no more to be considered death to the Christian, than the life of the body is to be counted life as compared with that "life which is life indeed." This does not mean that Christians will not see the grave, but that, in the deepest sense they will not die. The life of faith survives the shock of death, which is but a momentary shadow upon the life which is very far better. There are no Christian dead. The God of the Christian is the God of the living, and not of the dead. This is the truth enunciated by Moses at the burning bush. Moses was to understand that Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were still living.

II. Christians Fall Asleep in Christ.
A distinction is made between "dying" and "falling asleep." "For if we believe that Jesus died... so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him." Jesus died, that is, he tasted and drained the cup to its bitterest dregs, in order that we might not have to do the same. He died; we sleep. He abolished death and brought life and immortality to light. Three things are suggested by the term "sleep": continued existence, repose, awakening. In what the world calls death the believer simply closes his eyes upon all that is mortal, and immediately opens them upon that which is eternal. What a blessed awakening! "Why make ye this ado, and weep? The damsel is not dead, but sleepeth."

The living presence of Christ is what greets the Christian in the place of death. How beautifully this is brought out in the Shepherd Psalm. "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me." Note the change in the personal pronoun. Up to this point, the psalmist has used the third personal pronoun "he," but now he uses the second person, "thou." Why? Because in the hour when we pass through the valley of the shadow, no third person, no loved one, parent or child, can go with us through that narrow vale. The valley is so narrow that a mother cannot take her one day old babe with her. If we have no Christ, we press our way through that valley alone, and missing him, our stumbling feet must fall.

O, to have no Christ, no Savior; no hand to clasp thine own; Through the dark, dark vale of shadows, thou must press thy way alone.

The assurance of the believer is that Christ will be with him in the hour of departure; that he will stand by his bedside as the light of earth falls, ready to lead him through the valley into the home beyond the skies. It was the assurance of this presence that led Mr. Moody to say when dying: "Is this death? Why there is no dark valley; he is with me." The living Christ takes the place in the experience of the believer of what the world calls, and is in reality to the worldling, death.

"And when, at last, I hear the shore: And the fearful breakers roar; Twist me and my heavenly rest; Then, while leaning on thy breast, may I hear thee say to me: 'Fear not, I will pilot thee.'"

A good wife must be grave abroad, wise at home, patient to suffer, constant to love, friendly to all, and provident for her household.—Theophrastus.

TIMELY HINTS FOR WORK WITH FLOWERS

Bamboo Poles Are Used to Form This Rose Trellis, Making an Effective and Unusual Support.

(By L. M. BENNINGTON.)
Just as early this month as possible procure some frost-free bulbs and plant five or six in a six-inch pot. Put the pot where it will receive the sun for at least half a day.

It does not need to be deprived of light and air, as do the Holland bulbs to start them, but wants a bright airy place with enough sun to insure its growth. The flowers do not appear for several months.

One of the loveliest flowers grown is the Madonna lily (Lilium candidum). It should be planted in August, as it makes a leaf growth in autumn. Set the bulb ten or twelve inches deep in well prepared soil, in a little pocket of sand.

Lilies prefer muck and leaf mould, and dislike manure unless it is thoroughly rotten. Protect the lily bed during winter with leaves and other litter. The American Turk's cap, and Canadian bell-flower lily also demand August planting.

The following biennials and perennials should not be planted later than the middle of August: Hollyhocks, wallflowers, sweet Williams, Iceland poppies, foxgloves, Canterbury bells, primroses, English daisies, columbine, larkspurs and pansies.

Rhododendrons, azaleas, and other evergreen shrubs require a summer mulch, especially if planted last spring. They like "cold feet."

If the ground is dug deep, allowing the roots of plants to strike deep for moisture, and the top soil stirred flowers will withstand the dry weather far better than without these advantages.

Farmer's Bulletin No. 138, which can be had from the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., clearly explains how to use water to advantage in the garden.

The lawn must not be mowed too short during this month. However, do not allow the grass and weeds to go to seed.

Plant evergreens in August in order to allow them time to become established before winter sets in. Do not allow the roots to become dry or chilled, or they will die. Keep the roots in a puddle from the time they are dug until planted.

Dig the hole for evergreen much larger than the ball of roots; fill up partly with good soil, put in the evergreen with all its roots spread out naturally; work the soil between the roots, water and fill up with soil, tramping to firm it. Water and mulch.

After August first stop pinching the chrysanthemums shoots. When the flower buds appear rub off where too numerous, and the small weakly ones if you want specimen blooms. Make cuttings with three or four eyes removing all the leaves, but the top cluster, and bury them almost to the top leaves. Turn an old tumbler or glass can over each cutting, and keep moist.

SUPERIOR HORSES FOR GENERAL FARM WORK

The illustration shown here represents full brothers—five and six years old. This pair is well matched as to size, color and height. Their combined weight is 2,400 pounds, color a rich coal black; height about 16 hands. They are a kindly disposed pair but full of life. This is a breed which the farmers of Kentucky breed with more profit than any other, as it will adapt itself to pulling the plow on the farm, the loaded wagon, or may be driven to the carriage at three-minute gait with perfect ease to themselves and driver. Horses like these are generally from the old Morgan breed.

Breaking the Ice.
"Now, Miss Imogene," argues the young man who has been receiving the frigid stares and the monosyllabic replies of the fair young thing who chose to become offended at him at the dinner and continued to accumulate indignation at the opera, "it's perfectly useless for you to attempt to act like an iceberg. Science tells us that only one-eighth of an iceberg is visible, and you—"
Considering the fact that she was wearing an evening gown, he really might have exercised a bit more tact.—Judge.
Many a fellow lays his head at the feet of a girl who deliberately kicks a goal with it.

ECZEMA SPREAD OVER BODY

Roxbury, Ohio.—"When my little boy was two weeks old he began breaking out on his cheeks. The eczema began just with pimples and they seemed to itch so badly he would scratch his face and cause a matter to run. Wherever that matter would touch it would cause another pimple until it spread all over his body. It caused disfigurement while it lasted. He had fifteen places on one arm and his head had several. The deepest places on his cheeks were as large as a silver dollar on each side. He was so restless at night we had to put mittens on him to keep him from scratching them with his finger nails. If he got a little too warm at night it seemed to hurt badly.
"We tried a treatment and he didn't get any better. He had the eczema about three weeks when we began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bathed him at night with the Cuticura Soap and spread the Cuticura Ointment on and the eczema left."
(Signed) Mrs. John White, Mar. 19, 1913.

Young Man Took Warning.
"Charles," said a sharp voiced woman to her husband in a railway car, "do you know that you and I once had a romance in a railway car?"
"Never heard of it," replied Charles, in a subdued tone.

"I thought you hadn't, but don't you remember it was that pair of slippers I presented to you the Christmas before we were married that led to our union? You remember how nicely they fitted, don't you? Well, Charles, one day when we were going to a picnic you had your feet up on a seat, and when you weren't looking I took your measure. But for that pair of slippers I don't believe we'd ever been married."

A young unmarried man, sitting by, immediately took down his feet from a seat.

Desperate Remedy.
From the roof of a building the stranger looked down upon a park whose spare grass, scraggy shrubbery and stunted trees were almost trampled out of sight by a human mob that surged round a speaker's platform in the middle of the park.

"What's up?" said the stranger. "A suffragist riot?"
"Worse than that," said the guide. "The park grass has been in a bad way for several months, and a local politician has called a mass meeting of the citizens to discuss plans for saving it."

Small Souls.
Upton Sinclair was talking about certain millionaire malefactors whose crimes always went unpunished.

"It's hard to understand," said Mr. Sinclair, "how these men escape retribution unless it be, indeed, that they're too small for the meshes of the net."

AN OLD NURSE
Persuaded Doctor to Drink Postum.

An old faithful nurse and an experienced doctor, are a pretty strong combination in favor of Postum, instead of tea and coffee.

The doctor said:
"I began to drink Postum five years ago on the advice of an old nurse."
"During an unusually busy winter, between coffee, tea and overwork, I became a victim of insomnia. In a month after beginning Postum, in place of tea and coffee, I could eat anything and sleep as soundly as a baby."

"In three months I had gained twenty pounds in weight. I now use Postum altogether instead of tea and coffee; even at bedtime with a soda cracker or some other tasty biscuit."

"Having a little tendency to Diabetes, I used a small quantity of saccharine instead of sugar, to sweeten with. I may add that today tea or coffee are never present in our house and very many patients, on my advice, have adopted Postum as their regular beverage."

"In conclusion I can assure anyone that, as a refreshing, nourishing and nerve-strengthening beverage, there is nothing equal to Postum."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for booklet, "The Road to Wellville."
Postum comes in two forms. Regular (must be boiled). Instant Postum doesn't require boiling but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoonful in an ordinary cup of hot water, which makes it right for most persons.

A big cup requires more and some people who like strong things put in a heaping spoonful and temper it with a large supply of cream.

Experiment until you know the amount that pleases your palate and have it served that way in the future.

"There's a Reason" for Postum.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines. It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves, but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
