Society and Clubs

The meeting held at the public library last evening to complete the organization of the woman's club was attended by ninety-one ladies, about twenty more than at the initial meeting last week. By a unanimous vote the new organization merged with the Twentieth Century Club, retaining that name, but making the club a departmental one. The departments as at present will consist of civic, domestic science, music and art, literary and current events, five in all. Seventy-six enrolled as a member of one or more of these departments. Mrs. J. J. Halligan was selected as head of the civic department, Mrs. J. B. Redfield domestic science and Mrs. E. W. Crane music and art. The heads of the other departments will be selected later. The literary department will take up the program as outlined by the year-book lately issued by the Twentieth Century Club. The civic department will hold its first meeting at the library building Friday afternoon.

The organization was further perfected by the election of Miss Laura Murray as corresponding secretary and Mrs. E. A. Garlich as journalist. The membership fee was placed at $1.50 per year.

Lemley Company Draws Crowd.

The Lemley musical comedy company, sixteen in number, opened an engagement at the Keith last evening and was accorded an audience that almost filled the seating capacity of the house. The bill presented last night, a mélange of singing, dancing and comedy skits, developed good singing by a bunch of eight or ten girls, with Mr. Lemley as the leading soloist and central figure. A negro impersonator figures as the comedian. For a low-priced attraction, the performance is classy, and well worth while. With the exception of Friday night the company is billed for each evening this week giving three complete changes of program.

Road Drugging Not Compulsory.

Attorney General Martin has ruled that it is not compulsory upon a county board to divide their county into road drugging districts. The question arose in Platte county. The attorney general holds that if a finding of a board is that it is not practicable for the county to adopt the district system and that the roads cannot be improved by drugging, owing to their natural condition, such finding of the board is final and cannot be overturned only by appeal to the district court. The law, he declares, gives the board discretionary power to make this finding upon its own knowledge or by hearing or any other method it may devise.

BUICK BULLETIN

Is your engine hard to start these cool mornings? Why don't you buy a new Buick equipped with a double jet Marvel carburetor and an electric self starter that will do the cranking until the engine does start? Anyone that buys any kind of a new auto that does not have an efficient self starter is certainly buying something entirely out of date and is making a poor buy for several other reasons. Buick autos are all equipped with the Delco Electric system. Three years of service on 30,000 cars has proved their reliability. Why not get away from electrical troubles entirely by using this system? Delco outfits are entirely automatic—no gauges to watch at all. Charges and discharges automatically.

See the Buick display at our garage the last of the week.
