Much Excitement Saturday Night

Following a day of heavy registration in the land drawing, Saturday night was one of the most exciting we have had for several months. The feature of the night were two fires, both of supposed incendiary origin, and at least three cases of house burglary, or attempted burglary.

The first fire was the barn on the McDonald premises on west Third street, which was discovered shortly after nine o'clock by Frank Buchanan, who was passing. At that time the flames were confined to some boxes piled against the barn, and Frank made an attempt to extinguish the blaze. Finding he could not accomplish this result, he turned in an alarm, but by the time the hose company arrived the structure had passed the saving point.

The second fire was a small frame building on the alley adjoining the Hinman garage. The fire department responded to the call, and prevented the possible spread of the fire.

The burglaries, or attempted burglaries were at the homes of W. C. Reynolds, Chas. McDonald and A. B. Heagland, and they occurred just about the time of the first fire. Mrs. Reynolds is out of town, and when Mr. Reynolds went home, he found that some one had entered the house prior to his arrival and had ransacked every room from basement to attic. Bureau drawers had been opened and the contents tossed about, and closets were turned topsy turvey. Mr. Reynolds made an investigation but so far as he could ascertain nothing was missing.

While Mr. Reynolds was making this examination, and not knowing but the thief might still be in the house, he noticed the McDonald fire and stepped out on the porch just as Mrs. W. H. C. Woodhurst passed. He accosted her and asked that she step across the street and see if Mr. McDonald was at home, saying that he did not want to leave until he ascertained if he had trapped a burglar. Mrs. Woodhurst crossed over and as she opened the screen door of the porch a man rushed out, knocking her over, fell himself but gathering himself quickly sprinted away. Undoubtedly this man was on burglary bent.

About the same time occupants of the Seeberger home noticed two men at the rear of the A. B. Hoagland home, the family at the time being down town. One of the men seemed to be on watch while the other effected an entrance. Mr. Seeberger phoned across the street to Charley Whelan who responded to the call armed with a revolver, and he stood guard in front of the house while Seeberger armed with a four foot scantling, started to make a detour of the rear. As he approached, he saw a man on the rear porch, and pointing the piece of scantling as he would a gun, commanded the fellow to throw up his hands, but instead of so doing the would-be-burglar and his companion made a hasty retreat up the alley.

The fires and the attempted burglaries were no doubt planned; the fires were set for the purpose of drawing people from their homes and thus make the burglaries more easy.

Four recent sales of lots in Graceland addition have been made. Prices, values and terms did it. $5.00 per month. A dollar saved is a dollar earned? You can make money on your debts. W. L. Crissman, at J. C. Hollman's office.

Special Train Service.

It will obviate the necessity of placing extra coaches on the regular trains.

Temperature of the Body.

The heat of the body varies at different ages and different times of the day. Except when you are suffering from fever you are never so hot as when you are born. The temperature of a newborn baby is about 102 degrees, but during the first day it rapidly goes down to 97 1/4 degrees, rising again to a little above the average temperature of a grownup person, which is about 98 1/2 degrees. The heat of your body varies as much as two degrees in twenty-four hours. The minimum is reached about 4 o'clock in the morning, when your vitality is at its lowest, and the maximum about 4 in the afternoon. People who work by night and sleep during the day, however, are coldest in the afternoon and warmest in the early morning. It is a remarkable fact that we nearly always die if our blood varies more than a few degrees either way. A temperature below 95 degrees or above 105 degrees is generally fatal.—Pearson's.

Selection of Land at Hyannis.
In a circular letter issued Friday, the Secretary of the Interior designated Hyannis as the point where those who draw numbers under the registration must appear and designate the tracts they desire to enter. The selections will begin November 17th and on that day and the 18th fifty persons each day; from the 19th to the 26th one hundred a day, and on November 27th to December 2nd two hundred a day may make selections or as long as there remains lands to be entered.

Ample accommodations will be made at Hyannis for beds and meals and a camp will be established near the center of the lands to be entered at which meals and lodging will be furnished and a line of automobiles will furnish conveyance between this camp and Hyannis, and conveyances may be hired at the camp by persons who desire to visit and inspect the different tracts of land.

After the selections are made the applicant will have ten days in which to present their applications at the land offices in Broken Bow or North Platte accordingly as their lands are in one or the other of these districts. Applicants may either visit these offices to make their filings in person or they may swear to them before some officer either in Grant or McPherson counties and send them to the land office by mail.
