> Mexico City, - General Huerta has played a desperate game in his efforts to retain the dictatorship of Mexico, but he has won and is therefore more firmly established than ever before. Official announcement was made that he had offered his resignation to the Mexican cabinet, but that it had been rejected.

The cabinet's action was not due to its loyalty to Huerta, but to the fact that its members were unable to unite on a man to succeed him. They were about evenly divided between Pedro Lascurain, Madero's minister of foreign affairs, and General Blanquet, commander-in-chief of the army.

74 Deputies Placed on Trial. Seventy-four deputies arrested when General Huerta overthrew congress were today ordered to trial on charges of "rebellion, sedition and insulting the government," because they asked an investigation of the disappearance of Senator Belisario Dominguez, Among them is Rodolfo Reyes, ex-minister of justice. Bail was refused.

Nine of those in custody were released because the charges had been 'unproved" at the preliminary examination. By the refusal to accept bail, the deputies are barred from taking any part in the presidential campaign. They are all Huerta's political opponents.

A decree fixing rules for the voting in the federal district this week were posted.

Cabinet Changes Explained. The recent changes in the Huerta cabinet were thus explained by a prominent supporter of the constitutionalists:

"The situation was becoming so se rious that Huerta knew he must make a master stroke. He therefore filled his cabinet with men of such radically fferent political faith that they could never unite on any one man to succeed him. Then he presented his resignation. As he expected, they refused to accept it.

"The resignation was presented on Thursday and late that night there were indications that Huerta's coup might fail and that his successor would be selected. General Blanquet heard that Lascurian might become president and he therefore ordered the national palace surrounded by troops, intending to seize the reins if Huerta fell.

Huerta Held a Prisoner. "Huerta and his cabinet were held prisoners in the palace until late Friday, when it was learned that no change in the government would be made. Then Blanquet withdrew the troops. While they had been on guard at the palace Blanquet had the report circulated that they were there be cause of an attempt to assassinate Huerta." This statement was borne out by the fact that Huerta did not go to his residence outside of the city Thursday night, but spent the night there.

Diaz is Threatened. Havana, Cuba, Oct. 20.→Placards purporting to be signed by various Mexicans residing in Havana who threaten to resist the landing of Gen. Felix Diaz and to assassinate him if held soon, is waxing warmer and in he should come ashore were posted throughout the city.

Spokane, Wash., Oct. 20 .- Henry L Wilson, former ambassador to Mexico, bitterly attacked the United States government for its treatment of General Huerta in a speech here. He declared that during the rule of Francisco I. Madero, 84 Americans had been killed in the southern republic, without a single murderer being punished, but "the American government had been more agitated by the murder Swedes and Saxons, commanded by of Madero than the murder of Ameri-

"The government of Huerta is just as legal as the government of Roosevelt, when he succeeded McKinley," continued Wilson. "President Wilson could still recognize Huerta and save his face. If we do not get behind Huerta chaos is sure to come and we will have to take care of the country. We would have to supervise the elections and as soon as we left the Mexicans would get out their knives and we would have to go back again.

GOSSIP FROM STATE CAPITAL

Items of Interest Gathered from Reliable Sources and Presented in Condensed Form to Our Readers.

In a statement covering his investigations and collection of figures on the subject, Commissioner of Labor C. W. Pool says:

"In 1912 there were shipped from points in Nebraska, 47,628,822 dozen eggs. Owing to the high price of meat the consumption of eggs on farms was undoubtedly much greater than in 1911, when 60,180,650 dozen eggs were shipped. The fancy price to be realized from the sale of live and dressed poultry in 1912 no doubt had its effect upon the egg production, as in that year the shipment of this commodity reached the enormous total of 40,528, 280 pounds, as against a total shipment in 1911 of 26,748,504 pounds. In 1911 there were shipped from Nebraska stations a total of 60,180,650 dozen eggs.

"It is perfectly safe to assume that the 127,723 families upon farms used 33,980 dozen eggs. Figuring the price at 20 cents per dozen in 1912, it will be observed that the Nebraska hen is no slouch when it comes to getting the coin.

"Without fear of being accused of undue friendship for the hen, it is safe to state that she brought to the pockets of Nebraska farmers during 1912 not less than $10,000,000, to say nothing of the part she played in satisfying the craving of the inner man."

Committed to Reduced Freight Rates.

The state railway commission is practically committed to a reduction of class freight rates an average of 20 per cent or more from what they now are. This reduction will be made unless the railroads, in their hearings of protest which begin about October 20, can make a better showing than the figures of the commission's experts indicate are possible. The commission told the last legislature, when on fire before that body, that if the Sanborn decision were overturned by the supreme court, releasing the commission from an embarrassing dilemma, something like schedule 19 would be put into effect and that it would lower class rates more than was contemplated in a pending bill, 10 per cent reduction on commodity rates and 20 per cent on class rates.

Want Departments Separated.

Separation of the food, drug, dairy, weights and measures and oil departments, the dairy work to be placed under the control of the board of regents and made a part of state farm activities, and the others to remain at the state house, as at present, is a move which state dairymen and other agricultural interests plan on proposing and backing the coming year. Those who are making first ground in the attempt say that interests of dairying can be better subserved by connecting the interests that are working | board to succeed him. for improved dairy conditions. The scheme has been tried successfully in other dairy states, according to report, and is believed to have tested out better than affiliation of this department with others which burden officials down with work.

The railway commission has granted permission to the Union Pacific Railroad company to reduce its rates on corn to the extreme western part of the state to a parity with the rates of the Burlington road. The reduction was made for the benefit of cattle feeders in Union Pacific territory adjacent to Burlington territory.
