Pleads Guilty to Stealing Cattle.

In the district court yesterday forenoon Wm. E. Dierkson plead guilty to cattle stealing. As a cattle thief, Dierkson was the nerviest one Lincoln county has known in years; in fact he went into the business on a magnitude never before attempted. About the 6th of November he stole eight head of cattle from Wm. Roding and five head from John Isaacson, both of whom live about twelve miles northeast of Brady. These thirteen head of cattle he drove to the Cody ranch west of town, and a day or two later sold part of them to Turpie and Holloway and part to Henry Ridinger. Dierkson claimed that he had purchased them at a sale near Curtis. He succeeded so well in this theft that he concluded to go in a little deeper. This time he went to the Wm. Jursensen place about ten miles north of Gothenburg, took twenty-three head out of a bunch eighty-four, and started to drive them to this city. These cattle were taken Friday night, and were not missed by Jursensen until the following day. It was some time before he got a clew, but finally learned that they had been driven west. He wired Sunday for officers in this city to be on the lookout, and at the same time started on the trail in an automobile. Late Sunday evening Deputy Sheriff Watts learned that Dierkson and his herd were north of town and riding over intercepted him just east the river bridge. Dierkson was arrested, admitted the theft, placed in jail and when arraigned yesterday morning plead guilty.

When arraigned before Judge Grimes yesterday afternoon he was given an indeterminate sentence of from one to ten years.

Dierkson is a man about twenty-five years of age, and for several months last summer worked in the car repair gang in this city, and last year worked for Jorgensen, the man from whom he stole the greater number.

CRYSTAL THEATRE

Tuesday, November 18th

"The Norwood Case" is a Crystal story of lost memory. The young husband is injured during the construction of a building and loses his recollection of former things. A second injury brings back his memory and he returns home, like Enock Arden, to find another there.

"The Escape" is a Powers drama. A struggling artist with his wife and child goes to the seashore to paint a marine picture, hoping to win a prize. Smugglers, believing he has found their secret, kidnap him and take him aboard a ship.

In the Nestor comedy "Patsy's Luck" Patsy is very much under the thumb of Tilda, his wife. After a spree one night, rather than go home, he joins a band of tramps, giving them to understand he is a famous outlaw. Told of their intended bank robbery, he makes a heroic capture and returns to his wife as boss.

Wednesday, November 19th

The American-Eclair Company presents its best photoplayers in a three part drama entitled "From the Beyond." This is a supreme presentation of psychological problems and experiments, interwoven with a charming romance.

Thursday, November 20th

"Harmony and Discord." Frontier, tells the story of a dissolute son, who goes west and redeems both his character and his fortune.

"The Pilgrim Messenger of Love," is a Powers drama produced by Edwin Augu. It is a story of primitive people and shows how brute strength gives way, when pitted against the power of mind.

"Their Two Kids" is a sure enough funny comedy. John gets the girl and the money, John's friends furnish the "kids" and some excitement, and John's father seems to have been the real goat.

Society and Clubs

The Indian Card Club will be entertained Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Geo. T. Field.

Twenty ladies were delightfully entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. Lester W. Walker when the game of 500 formed the entertaining feature. A very nice lunch was served at 5:30.

Friday evening eight couples chaperoned by Miss Jessamine Flynn and Lawrence Gapterer drove out to Dick's grove and spent the evening in dancing and at the close a chicken supper was served.

At the wedding ceremony of N. E. Buckley and Miss Nell Bratt, which occurs on Tuesday evening of next week, Bishop Beecher will officiate. Only the immediate families will be present, but the reception which follows will be largely attended.

Mrs. Harry Fleishman gave a very pretty autumn party Saturday afternoon to thirty ladies. The house decorations were autumn leaves, and the autumnal colors were carried out in the refreshments. Among the entertaining features was a fabric contest, ten ladies correctly solving the questions. In cutting cards to decide the prize winners, Mrs. A. B. Hoagland won first and Mrs. Chas. Reynolds second prize. Miss Flynn, of Sioux City, rendered excellently two piano selections, and Miss Alma Waltemath gave a reading that well merited the encore given. The place cards were in the shape of small birds in the autumn colors.

EMPRESS THEATRE

Thursday, Nov. 20.

Co-Featuring
Cortland Marsden
the former Photoplay Actor and Bessie Greenwood
the world's highest soprano, in a comedy singing playlet.
