C. Bellevue was brought to this city Friday to begin a six months sentence for blackmail, imposed upon him last week in the federal court at Omaha. The sentence will be served in the county jail, which is a federal prison for this part of the state. A year ago Bellevue and a man by the name of Sam Jennings were arrested, suspected of sending threatening letters to Mr. Temple, a banker at Lexington, Mr. Temple received letters demanding $10,000 to be left in an obscure place, mentioned in the letter, on penalty of death or great physical injury. He turned the letters over to the authorities with the result that these two men were arrested. The evidence against Jennings was not sufficient to convict him.

Railroads of the State Do Well.

All the seven railroads doing business in Nebraska have filed their reports with the state railway commission for the year ending June 30th, 1913, and the showing is a creditable one. A recapitulation of the figures given in the reports show that operating revenues for the year were $52,545,584 and expenses were $33,695,806, showing net revenues of over $18,000,000. The revenues of the Burlington were $20,942,454 and those of the Union Pacific $19,391,540. The expenses of the Burlington were $3,000,000 greater than the Union Pacific.

Another Burlington "Tip"

The Burlington has let a contract to Kilpatrick Brothers & Collins to build from Guernsey, Wyo., west to Wendenover, six miles, to connect the line from Billings down the Big Horn valley with the Guernsey line along the Platte river. The work will be heavy and will include six tunnels, one of which is 3,000 feet long. The cost of work will be $2,000,000.—Lincoln Journal.

This is the connection that The Tribune has referred to several times as the link necessary before the construction of the line from Kearney up the Platte valley to Bridgeport would begin. Now that the contract for this connection has been let, there is no further doubt as to the building of the Platte valley line through North Platte. The Tribune does not overstep its conservatism when it now makes the prediction that before the end of the year 1914 the work of constructing the Platte Valley line will be in progress and further that North Platte will not only be a freight division terminal but a passenger division as well—and this means an addition of one thousand to our population. The outlook for North Platte is quite bright, thank you.

Mrs. Rogers states that her husband left her on Oct. 15 last, and since that time has neglected and refused to contribute to her support or the support of their five year old child. She prays for divorce, the custody of the child, and suitable alimony.

Postmaster E. S. Davis is interceding with the United States postal authorities for bettering the rural deliveries on the routes out of this city. A large letter and parcel collection box will be installed at the entrance to the state experimental farm at the junction of routes 2 and 3, and this will permit of the mailing of parcels by the farmers in that vicinity. Mr. Davis also asked that large lock boxes might be installed by the farmers to allow the delivering of parcels without the farmer being obliged to meet the carrier at the box. If this is done, it will give the farmers almost the same facilities as those living in the city enjoy.

Halligan at Top.

Vic Halligan, of this city, the brilliant left tackle of the University football team, is placed at the head of the list in the selection of the All-Missouri Valley Conference team. A writer in the Sunday Bee says:

Halligan is the class of the valley. His work against Minnesota, Kansas, Iowa and Ames show that he is the best player in the valley regardless of position. He is the most consistent ground gainer and the strongest defensive player who has worn a Cornhusker moleskin in many a day.

Savin Appears for Hearing.

E. R. Savin appeared at the county court Saturday for trial in the case of the state of Nebraska vs. Savin. Savin is charged with unlawfully connecting with the wires of the North Platte Electric company and appropriating the current without the consent of the company and without paying for it. The case was set for hearing tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Savin voluntarily appeared in court and was released on his own recognizance to appear at court for trial.

This is the other of the two men against whom complaint was made last week. Kelly was up last week and entered a plea of not guilty.

The championship game is over and all the playing possible (on the street corners) would not change the score in the least. However, North Platte has the satisfaction of knowing that in every respect they played as good ball as the other team with the exception of the handling of the forward pass. The local boys are also to be commended for the spirit in which they accepted defeat and in that they played first class ball and that every man did his best even in the face of defeat. Honest! though, doesn't it seem funny that Omaha refused to play the fast bunch from here last year when most of the men were veterans at the game, and then as soon as a new lot of men come in they nab up the first opportunity for a game? But then, there is another year and another game coming. Wait and see what happens then! The new men of this year will be so much the better next year, and when the big city bunch comes down next season they will undoubtedly go home with a life size dose of their own medicine. Omaha can gloat this year to their hearts' content, but another year the laugh will probably be some other way.

POSITIVE PROOF.

Should Convince the Greatest Skeptic in North Platte.

Because it's the evidence of a North Platte citizen.

Testimony easily investigated. The strongest endorsement of merit. The best proof. Read it:

Mrs. A. G. Worsburg, North Platte, Neb., says: "I had a dragging pain in my back and trouble with my kidneys. A doctor diagnosed my case as a floating kidney. Many a day I was unable to stand on account of the pain through my kidneys and the kidney secretions were unnatural. An operation was advised, but luckily I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply from McConnell & Graves drug store, (now Schiller & Co's) and began using them. A few days' use removed the pain, and restored my kidneys to their proper working order. I hold, if anything, a higher regard for Doan's Kidney Pills now than when I recommended them some years ago. Another of my family has since been troubled by kidney complaint and has had a world of good from this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.
