Anna Jenkins Takes Carboic Acid; Dies.

Mrs. Anna Jenkins, age 31, housekeeper for John B. McGuire, after bidding him a fond goodbye took a dose of carboic acid Friday evening at 9:30 and lived only an hour after taking it.

Mrs. Jenkins has lived in the city for about three years and has been keeping house for Mr. McGuire. They have been living at 502 East Third street.

For the past several months Mrs. Jenkins has been doctoring for nervousness and has not been well. Friday evening she went out into the kitchen on the pretense of taking her medicine.

Mr. McGuire heard her searching around among the bottles in the kitchen and asked her what she was doing and she answered that she was taking her medicine. He was lying on the bed smoking and gave the matter no thought until she stepped to the door of the room with a bottle and glass in her hand.

He then questioned her as to her motive of taking the draught and she refused to answer. He thought that she was only sulky from being thwarted in her attempt and lay her on the bed and wiped the acid from her face.

She lay on the bed and refused to talk and she soon began to stiffen. Mr. McGuire then ran up town to the North Platte candy kitchen and attempted to get a doctor but had much trouble in locating any of them.

He called several of the offices and finally succeeded in getting Dr. Redfield. The doctor came at once and called Dr. Wartle and they worked with the woman for over a half hour but it was too late then to do anything other than relieve her suffering.

She died a little before 10:30. Since Mrs. Jenkins' death it has been discovered that she was married twice, the name of her first husband cannot be learned but it is known that they had two children.

She was divorced from her first husband some years ago and later married Mr. Jenkins. They lived together only a short time and then separated but were not divorced.

She has thought for some time that he was dead. The body was shipped Saturday from Howe and Maloney's undertaking establishment to Danbury where their relatives are located and the funeral will be held from there.

SERVANTS OF ROYALTY. In England They Are Supplied by a Regular Employment Agency.

Even royal palaces have their servant problems. The general opinion seems to be that the servants who attend upon kings and queens are of a race apart, but such is not the impression given by a remarkably frank interview given in London by a registry agent who has frequently had dealings with Buckingham palace.

"We are held responsible for the people we send to the royal household," he said, "and we send no one who has not lived in good houses and has had at least two years' character."

"Only British servants are engaged. The men must be between twenty-two and twenty-eight years old, and the women between eighteen and twenty-two."

CHICKEN LICE. All old chickens have lice unless regular preventive measures are used. With one application of Lee's Lice Killer I have often taken 500 or more lice by actual count from a hen whose owner thought his hens had no lice.

Dealing With a Lunatic.

In front of the Chelsea house Sir Thomas More had a garden and gatehouse, and, as there was a pleasant view from the summit of the gatehouse, he used frequently to sit there, accompanied only by his dog. Here it was that he was found one afternoon by a wandering maniac, who crept upstairs and saw the feeble old man dozing.

"Leap, Tom, leap!" he cried, and at the same time tried to throw him over the battlements. More had not physical strength enough to resist, but he had the wit to say: "Let us first throw this little dog over."

The man immediately threw down the dog. "Pretty sport," said the lord chancellor. "Now, go down and bring him up; then try again."

While the madman went down for the dog More made fast the door behind him and so managed to hold the fort until deliverance came.

The Earth's Journey.

Our world's journey in space is a long one, if we are to accept the conclusions of Dr. Turner of the University observatory of Oxford and Professor H. C. Plummer, royal astronomer of Ireland. Recent astronomical work suggests that the sun and its planets form a single unit in a vast system, the stars in which, though separated by enormous distances, have a common center of gravity, and in response to gravitation all move in unison like a stupendous machine.

The paths of these stars, instead of being nearly circular, like those of the planets around the sun, are much like the oscillations of a pendulum. The calculations show that on this elongated course our sun must travel 400,000,000 years before completing a revolution and that it passed near the center less than a million, perhaps not more than 300,000, years ago and is now on the outward stretch.

Barney Barnato's Comedy.

In the Journal South Africa the late Sutton Vane, the dramatist, once told this story of Barney Barnato: "He was the best amateur melodramatic actor I ever met. A little rough; so is a diamond, but the fire is there. He played Claude Frolo in Victor Hugo's 'Emeralds' splendidly. I playing Quismodo, the hunchback, with him. In the great scene on the parapets the hunchback tries to throw the monk (Frolo) into the street. Mr. Barnato resisted vigorously. He seized me by my hump, which came off in his hand. It was a sponge bag stuffed with various articles. He shook his fist at me and then, with a quiet smile, threw the hump from the cathedral roof. Looking over, he exclaimed: 'Good Heavens! I have killed a policeman!' Tremendous round of applause from the audience."

Armies of Animals.

Some idea of the vast numbers of animals that Africa used to support can be gained from a passage in W. Scully's reminiscences. It was Mr. Scully's good fortune in 1822 to witness the last great trek of springhorns from east to west of the Bushmanland desert—a trek on a scale such as no man will ever see again. Fencing, the increase of population and the distribution of arms have almost exterminated the once innumerable herd. He says, "I have stood on an eminence some twenty feet high, far out on the plains, and seen the absolutely level surface as far as the eye could reach covered with resting springhorns, while from over the eastern horizon the rising columns of dust told of fresh hosts advancing."

Shoes and Nerves.

Travelers say that the reason why nervous people don't exist in China is because it is there the custom to wear soft shoes. There is no doubt that hard soled, creaking footgear is responsible for much nervous wear and tear as well as much physical fatigue in western lands. Tired feet and tired nerves will find solace in a warm foot bath with a handful of sea salt in it. Move the feet about or keep them still as best pleases you as long as the water is pleasantly warm; then dry them with a rough towel and put on a fresh pair of stockings.—Dundee Advertiser.

Bread of Persia.

Persian native bread differs little from that used a thousand years ago. The Persian oven is built of smooth masonry work in the ground, usually about the size of a barrel, and many of those now in use have been used for a century. The dough is formed into thin sheets about a foot long and two feet wide and slapped against the side of the oven. It bakes in a few minutes and is set out to cool.

Long Heeded.

"What will you do with the $20,000 if you get a verdict in your breach of promise suit?" "I guess," said the dear girl, "I'll marry the lawyer. It's such an awful lot of money to let get out of one's hands."—Puck.

Bohemia's Coal Mines.

The lowest human habitation is said to be that of the coal miners in Bohemia, some of whom make their dwellings at a point over 2,000 feet below the level of the sea.

Voting.

"Do you believe that women ought to vote?" "Sure! And, what's more, I think men ought to, too."—Detroit Free Press.

Silver is of less value than gold, gold than virtue.—Horace.

GET TO THE CAUSE North Platte People Are Learning The Way.

There is but little peace or comfort for the man or woman with a bad back. The distress begins in early mornings—keeps up throughout the day. It's hard to get out of bed, its torture to stoop or straighten. Plasters and liniments may relieve, but cannot cure if the cause is inside—the kidneys. When suffering so, use Doan's Kidney Pills, the tested and proven kidney remedy, used in kidney troubles for over fifty years. Doan's Kidney Pills are recommended by thousands for just such cases. Proof of their effectiveness in the testimony of this North Platte resident:

Charles F. Burroughs, 222 So. Pine St., North Platte, Neb., says: "Several years ago I had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from McDonell & Graves' drug store, (now Schiller & Co's) and found them to be a good kidney remedy. I suffered from burning pains in the small of my back and my kidneys were very weak. Doan's Kidney Pills soon cured me completely. I have not been bothered by kidney trouble since. I take pleasure in endorsing this remedy for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."

LEGAL NOTICE. Eva Roddy, defendant, will take notice that on the 19th day of November, 1913, William H. Maloney, administrator of the estate of Lois Shelton, deceased, filed his petition in the district court of Lincoln county, Nebraska, against said Eva Roddy, et al, the object and prayer of which was to set aside a certain mortgage executed by said Eva Roddy to secure promissory notes of even date with said mortgage, upon which there is due the sum of eleven hundred dollars ($1,100.00) with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent from May 27, 1912. Said mortgage was given upon Lot One (1), in Section Eight (8) North of Range Thirteen (13) North, Range Thirty (30) West in Township Thirteen (13) North, Range Thirty (30) West in Lincoln county, Nebraska.

Plaintiff also seeks to set aside the appointment of a receiver for said premises pending said action upon the grounds that said property is not sufficient security for the payment of the debt named in said mortgage and that said property is liable to be wasted; that the same is but insured; that said property is rapidly decreasing in value; that it has no rental value while in the hands of the defendant; and that the improvements upon said property are being destroyed and the real estate not of value to exceed $100.00 outside of the improvements thereon, and that the defendant, Eva Roddy, is insolvent. Plaintiff prays for a decree that the defendant shall be required to pay the amount herein recited to be used upon said mortgage and that said premises may be sold to satisfy the amount found
