

Watches

In the Purchase Of a Watch

We would suggest that you buy as good a case as you think you can afford—but that you get a movement that is absolutely accurate and that you can rely upon at all times. If you will give us your ideas as to the style of the time-piece you prefer, and the price you desire to pay, we will be glad to offer you the watch that we believe will be the best adapted for your needs.

LET US SHOW YOU.

North Platte Elopers Arrested in Omaha

Sheriff Salisbury returned from Omaha Wednesday having in charge Hugh Wada and Mabel Matwork, two Japanese, who had eloped from this city Tuesday, but were arrested in Omaha as they disembarked from the train. Wada, who is eighteen, and Miss Matwork, aged seventeen, have known each other for eight years, but the parents of the girl objected to the marriage on account of her youth. The girl attended the local schools for two or three years and is a bright and attractive Japanese. She insists that she is of age according to Japanese custom and has a right to marry whom she pleases. The Japanese way of reckoning age consists in calling a new born child one year old, and by this way of figuring the girl is eighteen. However, the Japanese reckoning does not prevail in this country.

Wada is a bright, dressy Jap, who conducted the Palace cafe while Richi Ugal, the proprietor, spent several months in Japan, and is an employee of the cafe.

When it was learned that the couple had eloped, the Omaha officers were wired to arrest them, which was done, and they were detained until Sheriff Salisbury arrived.

King to Penitentiary.

Sheriff A. J. Salisbury left Tuesday afternoon for Lincoln to take Silver King to the penitentiary where he was sentenced last week by Judge Grimes. King was sentenced for shooting the Japanese, U. Inenaga, with intent to kill, and his sentence is indeterminate from one to twenty years. The exact time of his sentence will be decided by the state board of pardons and will be commuted according to the conduct of the prisoner and the enormity of his crime. King still kept a bold front and still contended that he was innocent.

A copy of the Peoria Daily Transcript received at this office yesterday gives a full column description of the wedding of Miss Omega McNamara formerly of this city. The ceremony occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Donehower on February 18th. Mrs. Donehower was the matron of honor, and Chas. McNamara of this city escorted the bride. The ceremony was preceded by a solo, "Today," the words and music of which were composed for the occasion by L. H. Daingerfield, a former North Platte weather observer. The bride and groom are now visiting Pacific coast points and enroute home will visit in North Platte.

Mrs. L. I. Tucker sustained a severe injury the first of the week when she slipped at the top of the stairs at her home and fell to the bottom. Several of the small bones in her foot were dislocated and she was quite badly bruised up.
