which time I have done a great deal of studying of insurance principles. I am now in a position to give you the best insurance that careful underwriting good companies can give. Get the best.
It costs no more.

C. F. TEMPLE.

The Howe and Maloney furniture store has received an educational display of the different materials used in the making of linoleum, and have it on display in their north show window.
The materials are very interesting to study and it is well worth one's time to look them over. It will also give an idea of the expense of making linoleum.
Some of the material is shown in the rough and the process of getting it ready for use is also shown. The display was furnished them by the Armstrong company of Lancaster, Pa., and was shown a short time ago in the Golden Eagle store in Denver. It was sent here from the Jones store in Kansas City and will go from here to Carson-Pirie-Scott company of Chicago.
School children are especially invited to visit the store and look over the display and may feel free to ask questions about the materials.

Why Pay Rent?

If you have from $200 to $300 saved up to pay on a home, let me show you some of the nice properties you can buy, paying down this amount and balance in monthly payments about the same as rent.

The Lamb in the Fold Sometimes a Wolf.

I put the article in the paper some days ago, because I had just reasons for doing so; one, that I was living up to the law and expected others to do the same; others being that I had reports or complaints from six different parties as to irregularities. These people I could summon to my aid at once if need be.

My article was in the form of a warning, I said therefore, next time the articles with the doctor's name would be published.

One party had received a written communication, another still more direct, that of the use of the telephone when certain propositions were made, three others otherwise solicited; and one verbal.

I knew that I was privileged to keep the names of the patients and the implicated from the delegation, and further told the said delegation from the said Medical Society they had the privilege to do as they pleased. Now believe me, there was none more willing for me to keep quiet than the ones who seemed to be the busiest to ferret out the offender. (The delegation excepted of course.) "However the guilty conscience needs no reproving."

I am sorry for most, yes, all the members of the Medical Society, for too often in other societies as well as medical we have to shepherd the goats with the sheep. (This being their lair for protection and comfort.) Some alas! getting in otherwise than by the door, and the cure would not be by purging the society with hyssop to make it clean, but rather that each individual heart be washed and made whiter than snow.

And if these fellows in doing as they do, show a lamentable amount of moral courage and fair play, I prefer to be the little pill doctor, showing a lamentable lack of the above (shall I say?) qualificationso

Well may the finger of suspicion point to some of these arch conspirators for business, for not alone in the unethical bidding for same, there is also the shady charging which eclipses the burglar with his billy and gun.

Now I believe it was written in the spirit of fair play, to protect the public as much as the doctor, and not to bid for business as I hav'nt thus far found it necessary to send out the household to canvass.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN S. TWINEM, M. D.

Notice.

Prof. Leonhardt, the piano maker and tuner, has had many complaints from people who do not know him personally, that other professed tuners have been representing themselves as Mr. Leonhardt, or as his successor, or as his students. Prof. Leonhardt desires to say that men making these claims are impostors, and those who employ those making such representations do so at their own risk.

The case of Wm. H. Essex vs M. H.
McDermott was begun Wednesday in the district court, but was continued on account of some of the witnesses being unable to be present. The case is an equity case to quiet the title of some land upon which there is a tax title.
Several witnesses were examined Wednesday and the case will probably be resumed next week.

All members of the Degree of Honor are requested to be present Monday eve. Special business will be transacted.

Schimmel--McGee Nuptials.

A very pretty wedding took place at the Methodist parsonage at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening when Miss Laura McGee and Christian Schimmel were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.
The bride wore a dress of shadow lace and carried brides roses. She was attended by Miss Evangline Bundy and Mrs. Esther Haaze. The groom was attended by Mr. McKague of Brady, and the father McGee, gave the bride away. After the ceremony they were taken to the home of the bride south of Brady where a sumptuous wedding supper was served to seventy guests.

The bride is a charming young lady of that vicinity and has many friends there and in this city. The groom is a prosperous young farmer of Dayken, Nebr., and has a home prepared for his bride. They will leave in a short time for that place where all join them in wishing them a happy and prosperous life.

P. & S. Hospital Notes.

Dr. George H. Morsch, of Oshkosh, was a professional visitor in the city the first of the week. He called at the P. & S. hospital to look after some business there.

Mrs. A. Franek is reported recovering nicely from her operation of two weeks ago at the P. & S. hospital.

Robert McMurray, who had his foot amputated some time ago at the P. & S. hospital, is reported getting along nicely.

Myron Craven, who has been confined to the P. & S. hospital for some time with a broken leg, is able to get around a little now with the use of crutches.

The four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. O'Donnell, of Sutherland is reported recovering nicely from her illness. She has been confined to the P. & S. hospital for some time.

Will Organize Basket Ball.

The school authorities are working on plans to start basket ball in the high school and expect to have both boys' and girls' teams in the field in the near future. Negotiations are now on for renting the Lloyd opera house for the use of the students in practice and in games. Gymnasium apparatus and shower baths will be installed.
Teams will be organized in all the classes for inter-class contests and in this way more material will be developed and better opportunities will be given to discover the best players.

Basketball enthusiasts have heretofore been few and far between in the local schools, but the game affords fine sport for the school and fills in the intermission between football season and the spring athletics. The teams will only get started this year as the season is nearly over, but some good material will be developed and the players will be in good training for next season. It will also afford good practice for the football men in the forward pass. The local men showed up rather poorly in the forward pass in the game against Omaha and it was only Omaha superiority in this one play that won them the victory. The practice in passing and receiving will be a great help to the local men in the football drill of next season.

Fine Imported Ten Belgian Stallion

A. C. BURTON,
Wellfleet Neb.

Miss Rose Reilley left the first of the week for her home in Cheyenne after a short visit of two weeks in the city with her sister, Mrs. Dan Roberts, and other relatives. Mrs. Roberts accompanied her for a visit of two weeks with her mother.

If you put $1,500 to $2,000 into a house, you would not think of letting it go without insurance. Not for even a day. You put the same amount of money in an automobile which is proven to be ten times the hazard for fire that the house is. Stop and think and then see Temple.
