Shop Men Will

Return to Work

During the past sixty days about twenty shop men and car repairers who quit the service of the Union Pacific in October, 1911, have filed written applications to return to work. These applications, however, failed to find favor with the officials at Omaha, and believing that it would be beneficial to the men, to the town and to the company to have these men accepted and given work, President Seeberger, of the Chamber of Commerce, went to Omaha Tuesday night and met in conference with President Mohler, Genl. Manager Ware and Supt. of Motive Power Fuller. He was courteously received by these officials and the matter was discussed at length, with the result that Mr. Seeberger won out in his contention, and the men who have made application will be employed as fast as additional help is needed. The order was at once promulgated by Supt. Fuller, and yesterday Division Foreman McGraw was directed to take to take on three of the men. These are Matt Welch and Elliott, car repairers, and Will Owens, a blacksmith. It is expected that two or three boiler-makers will be notified to resume work in the near future, and that others, as fast as they are needed, will be given employment.

Mr. Seeberger says the officials feel very friendly toward North Platte, and as far as consistent with good management, will help the town wherever possible.

We have plenty of money in sight to close loans promptly and are in the market for desirable City loans.

The case of M. E. Shull, charged with blackmail, was up for hearing Wednesday before United States Commissioner O. E. Elder, and Shull was bound over to the United States district court of Iowa. His bond was fixed at $750 and he furnished bail and was allowed to return to his home.

Choice resident lots in all parts of the City. C. F. Temple.

The contract for carrying the mail between here and Tryon was let this week to Joe Pizer of the Tryon vicinity. Six bids were submitted to the postal department for the place and Mr. Pizer's bid was only about one-half as much as any of the other bids. His bid was $1,600 per year. The route is fifty miles distance and is the only route in this part of the state that is carried by contract. Mr. Pizer will begin his duties July 1.

I have a few snaps just now in homes. C. F. Temple.

Mrs. Helen Winget filed suit Wednesday in the county court against Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Palmer. The case is a detention suit; the plaintiff is attempting to compel the defendants to move out of her property on lot 3, block 69, original town of North Platte. She alleges that she rented the property to the defendants on October, 27, 1913, with a verbal contract that the rent of $13 per month was to be paid in advance on the first day of each month. She complains that they have paid her in all $36 and that there is yet due her $39. She ordered them to move out, she states, February 27 by written notice and that they refused to move. She asks for possession of her property and the amount due her for rent.

All parties knowing themselves indebted to the Tri-County Telephone Co. please call at North Platte Central office and pay same before April 1st and oblige. E. E. LOUDEN, Sec'y.

- The Printzess Garments -

Are now on Display in Our Garment Department.

We are their sole local representatives, and when we say that people who know style and smart tailoring, who have the world to choose from, prefer a we are not exaggerating, for where many garments are simply a combination of cloth, thread and lining, a PRINTZESS production is the acme of style, grace and beauty.

Come in tomorrow and try them on. They cost no more than the ordinary garments. You won't be urged to buy, but we do want you to know the merits of these cleverly tailored Coats and Suits.

E. B. Gibbs Passes Away in St. Louis Yesterday

E. B. Gibbs, for many years a resident of North Platte, died at eight o'clock yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Harris in St. Louis. Death was due to dropsical affection complicated with other troubles due to advanced age, he having passed his eightieth year.

Mr. Gibbs, had followed railroading for about fifty years, starting first on one of the eastern roads. He later moved to Missouri where he was employed as an engineer, and in 1881 came to this city and accepted a similar position with the Union Pacific. Later he was appointed district foreman, and still later he went to Portland to accept a similar position with the Short Line. He returned to North Platte after several years absence, and though advanced in years was given special work in the shops, a position he held until a few years ago, when he was retired.

Mr. Gibbs was a broad-minded, courteous, a mechanical expert, and a most companionable man. His death is received with much regret by many friends in North Platte.

Capt. Robbins Critical.

Henry Bebout, who was over from Wallace yesterday, reported that Captain J. S. Robbins, had been stricken with paralysis the day before, and is in a critical condition. One entire side is paralyzed and helpless. He is seventy-six years of age, and this will make his recovery the more improbable. Captain Robbins is one of the early settlers of Wallace precinct, and is well known all over the county, this acquaintance being gained to a large extent while he was county commissioner. His misfortune will be regretted by all.

U. G. Mauk and Dr. McKittrick, of Tabor, Iowa, were in the city Wednesday to attend the hearing of M. E. Shull charged with blackmailing. Dr. McKittrick is the man who received the threatening letters alleged to have been written by Shull.

The recital given last evening by Art V. Wortman, assisted by Bert Reynolds reader, and Mrs. Cram accompanist attracted an audience that well filled the Methodist church. Mr. Wortman won additional compliments as a vocalist, and his numbers were rendered in a most pleasing manner. Possessing a well cultivated voice of rather exceptional range, full and smooth, he is undoubtedly the best male singer North Platte has ever possessed. The readings by Mr. Reynolds were good, and Mrs. Cram is a fine accompanist. I. L. B.

Miss Bertha Hofmeister of Kearney arrived in the city yesterday for a short visit with friends.
