

DRUG HOUSE ENJOINED BY FEDERAL COURT

Judge Jeremiah Neterer, of the United States district court, to-day granted a permanent injunction in behalf of the Centaur Company of New York, the manufacturers of Plaster's Castoria, against the Stewart & Holmes Drug Company of this city.

The controversy arose from the simulating of the labels of this well-known preparation, and from the evidence filed in the case it was shown that the infringing label was first discovered on sale in Honolulu, and was traced to its origin here in Seattle.

The defendant company is one of the oldest and largest concerns of its kind in the Northwest.

The decree carries with it an order that the Stewart & Holmes Company recall the goods which are on the market under the infringing label, and to pay all costs in the suit and damages assessed at $400.—Seattle, Wash. "Times."—Adv.

FREE ADVICE TO SICK WOMEN

Thousands Have Been Helped
By Common Sense
Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ills are invited to communicate promptly with the woman's private correspondence department of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the Company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

SOME PUDDINGS.

Some of the old-fashioned puddings which were favorites of our grandmothers are being used today on our best tables.

The common bread pudding may be made into one of the most delectable of desserts, using coconut, other nuts, chocolate, orange rind, lemon rind and other things to vary the flavor. A very good pudding may be made of stale cake crumbs with some left-over canned fruit, put in layers and baked as one does Brown Betty.

Lemon Pudding.—Mix the yolks of four eggs with four tablespoonsfuls of sugar, the juice of a lemon and two tablespoonsfuls of water; cook in the double boiler until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Fold in the whites when the cooked mixture is cool, to which has been added two tablespoonsfuls of sugar.

Carrot Pudding.—This is an old English recipe and can be changed to cup measure, if so desired. Mix together a half pound each of flour, seeded raisins, potatoes and carrot grated, suet chopped fine, one teaspoonful each of cinnamon, cloves and soda dissolved in a little water; then add a half cup of sugar, one teaspoonful of salt, one egg beaten. Turn into a well buttered mold after giving the mixture a thorough beating, and boil two hours or steam three. Serve with a hard sauce made by creaming a third of a cup of butter, add two-thirds of a cup of powdered sugar and a teaspoonful of vanilla; fold in a half cup of whipped cream.

Cracker Pudding.—Moisten one and a half cupsful of cracker crumbs with boiling water; let stand until cool, then add one pint of milk, one-third of a cup of molasses, one egg slightly beaten, a cupful of raisins finely cut; put into a mold and steam four hours. Let stand in mold until cool. Serve with creamy sauce made by creaming half a cup of butter, adding a cup of powdered sugar, then a fourth of a cup of milk and two tablespoonsfuls of orange juice, with a little of the grated rind. Add the liquids slowly, to keep them from curdling. The hard sauce for the carrot pudding is good also for this.

Troubles are seldom so bad as they appear. Put them in the strong sunlight of faith and it will surprise you to see how quickly the darkest spots fade out.

SUGGESTIONS FOR THE DINNER TABLE.

Each month in the year brings its own artistic decorations, which may be varied in countless manner. When all things fail, as well as ingenious ideas, one may borrow from others who have given us their experience.

A most amusing way of placing guests is that of placing a baby picture of each guest for a place card. These may be obtained unbeknownst to the victim.

For a children's table, a log cabin made of colored stick candy, a rail fence and a walk inside of tiny sticks laid closely together. One's own taste will suggest ways of using this suggestion.

A fern ball suspended over the dinner table, with sprays of fern for decoration radiating from the center. A pink rose or two laid around on the cover makes a most attractive dinner table.

A novel idea for the finger bowl is to sprinkle a green spray of rose leaves and press on the bottom of the glass bowl, then have a few petals of the rose floating about in the water.

A novel way to arrange a shower for a "to be" bride, is to have a package or two brought in after each course, and each guest have the fun of helping to undo one for the honored guest.

A small ice tub to hold olives is both attractive and useful, for we all like our olives cold. Freeze ice in a tomato can, and when solid take it out and make a center to hold the olives by sinking a baking powder can filled with hot water in the center of it. Place the tub on a deep plate surrounded by green leaves and filled with olives.

When grapes are in season there is no more beautiful decoration for the table than various colored grapes in the foliage, arranged for a center piece.

Ski Wedding.

A picturesque ski wedding took place in the little church at Poschjavo, on the Swiss-Italian frontier recently, when a young member of the Italian Alpine club named Marovi married a Swiss girl. Over a score of relatives and friends attended, most of whom arrived at the church on skis, as well as the bride and bridegroom, all being dressed in winter sporting clothes, while the parents drove up in sledges. After the ceremony the young couple, who are expert skiers, were

For a simple little bouquet of dainties for a dinner table, a bunch of heliotrope with a few pink roses in a slender glass vase cannot be equaled.

It is a good and safe rule to sojourn in every place as if you meant to spend your life there, never omitting an opportunity of doing a kindness, or speaking a true word, or making a friend.

SOMETHING GOOD TO EAT.

A raisin sauce is most delicious with corned tongue, or in fact with beef in any form.

Beef a la Mode, With Raisins.—Cut a quarter of a pound of salt pork into strips and fry in a pan, until crisp, with a sliced onion, using beef drippings for the frying medium. Lay a compact round of beef on them, add a pint of boiling water, cover and cook ten minutes, turning the beef three times during the time. Take up the beef and lay it in a dripping pan, dredge with flour and baste with the gravy. Strain the gravy from the frying pan, thicken with flour, season with salt, teaspoonful of sugar and two tablespoonsful of chopped raisins and the same of blanched and shredded almonds; cook five minutes, then pour around the meat.

Cottage Pudding.—Cream a tablespoonful of softened butter with a cup of powdered sugar; add two well beaten eggs, salt a half teaspoonful, and a cup of sweet milk, alternating with 1½ teaspoonfuls of baking powder; two cups of flour. The amount of flour varies, sometimes more may be needed. The batter must be quite thin, as the pudding is much more delicate in texture if little flour is used. Bake in a flat tin and cut in squares. Serve with a lemon sauce. Mix well a cup of sugar, two tablespoonsfuls of flour and a half teaspoonful of grated nutmeg; add a cup of boiling water and cook until the starch in the flour is well cooked, then add the juice of a lemon, if very large a half may do; a tablespoonful of butter, a bit of the grated rind may be used instead of the nutmeg, if so desired.

Hashed Brown Potatoes.—Chop potatoes until fine (two cupsful of cold boiled potatoes will serve four people), season with onion juice, salt and pepper, and turn into a well greased frying pan; add a quarter of a cup of milk and cook without stirring for ten minutes. Fold and roll like an omelet on a hot platter when ready to serve. Garnish with a spray of parsley.

Well stewed prunes with whipped cream makes a most delicious dessert served with cookies.

The belief in limitations, that we cannot rise out of our environment, is responsible for much wretchedness, until you erase "fate," "can't" and "doubt" from your vocabulary, you cannot rise.

FOR THE LUNCH BASKET.

The lunch basket must serve more than one or two classes of people. The laboring man at work, in or out of doors, the child at school, the business man and woman. The character of the food need not be radically changed, but there will be smaller quantities and greater variety for the different people, as to age and occupation.

For those who exercise but little, like office men or women, food that is easily digested should be provided, and not in large quantities.

The one great fault of everybody is eating too much. For the business woman, a slice or two of rye or whole wheat bread, with cheese in the form of a sandwich, and an apple with a glass of milk, makes an excellent lunch. A baked apple with bread and butter, a head of lettuce with French dressing in a small dish, a cup of custard will be with a cup of tea or milk another substantial lunch.

Celery, dates stuffed with nuts, a fig or two or an orange, a banana are always fine accessories to any lunch.

For the school child, two slices of whole wheat bread, with nuts or cream cheese spread on well buttered slices and seasoned with salt. A cup custard or an apple for dessert.

Two slices of white bread well buttered and spread with hard cooked egg well seasoned and a small cup of rice pudding.

For the business man the number of sandwiches could be doubled and coffee added to the above.

For the laboring man more substantial sandwiches filled with meat, cold baked beans, potato salad, pie, cake and coffee, with an apple for a finish, will be found sufficiently satisfying.

Feel All Used Up?

Ever feel that you can go no further—that you must have rest for that lame and aching back—relief from that constant, dead-tired feeling?

Have you suspected your kidneys? Kidney disease shows itself in backache, nervous troubles and disorders of the kidney secretions. If tired, worried, lame, rheumatic, dizzy and nervous don't let a possible weakness of the kidneys escape attention until it turns into a case of gravel, dropsy or Bright's disease.

Sick kidneys go from bad to worse. Their useful work of filtering the blood is only partly done. Poisons that should be passed out with the kidney secretions are held in the blood, circulating freely, attacking muscles, nerves and vital organs. The kidneys inflame, swell and throb, and that is the cause of sharp pains in the back, or that dull, constant heavy ache.

For quick help use Doan's Kidney Pills. No other kidney remedy is used and recommended so generally. Take them when you feel the first bad backache, or see the first disturbance of the kidney secretions. Doan's have brought new life and strength to thousands of despairing men and women, and there is nothing in the remedy to cause any harm or start a pill-taking habit.

"What will help my back?"

Here's the best of proof—testimony from a grateful user.

DOCTORS' TREATMENT FAILED

Colorado Man Tells a Story of Aching Suffering.

I. M. Drake, 222 Elati St., Denver, Colo., says: "I was so bad with kidney complaint that I thought I was going to die. My feet were terribly swollen and I couldn't wear my shoes. My limbs ached and my heart wasn't just right; I often had to gasp for breath. For months I couldn't work and I couldn't hobble a block without sitting down to rest. For several days there wouldn't be a free flow of the kidney secretions and the passages were terribly swollen. Doctors didn't help me and one remedy after another failed. A relative wrote me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and the first box brought wonderful relief. The kidney secretions got all right and the swelling went down. In a short time I went back to work in good health. Doan's Kidney Pills alone cured me and the cure has been permanent. I hope that other kidney sufferers will read about my experience and give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

TANGLED SKEIN TO UNRAVEL

Matter of Relationship That Required Quite a Little Skillful Figuring to Get Right.

"Look here, Binks," said Jinks, "what I want to know is—who am I? A short time ago I proposed to a girl who, however, said she would prefer to be excused. I, therefore, excused her, but a year later married her mother. Then my trouble began. "Soon after I was married, my father married the girl who had refused me—in other words, my daughter. At least, up to that time she had been my daughter, but of course when she married my father she became my mother. But this is not the worst, as you will realize when I tell you that by marrying my daughter my father, naturally, became my son. "It would seem, therefore, that my father is my son and my daughter is my mother; in which case I ask you once more—who am I?"

"So far as I can make out," replied Binks, "your father's mother—I. e., your wife—must be your grandmother, and therefore, as you are your grandmother's husband, you appear to be your own grandfather! But, of course, I may be wrong."

IS CHILD CROSS, FEVERISH, SICK

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Adv.

Take Your Choice of Morals.

Escape of a student who fell down the Lutschine gorge in the Alps but was caught on a rock and remained suspended for two days and nights, recalls to the London Chronicle another Grindelwald escape of which Leslie Stephen tells. Returning from the chalet above the Elmeier, one of Stephen's guides, Michel, reached the edge of a cliff where a wooden rail guarded the path. Unfortunately the rail left off prematurely, and Michel had been drinking. So he stepped over and fell on hard rock nearly 100 feet below. He lay there all night and next morning got up and walked home, sober and whole. Stephen submits two morals for choice: "Don't get drunk when you have to walk along the edge of an Alpine cliff," and "Get drunk if you are likely to fall over an Alpine cliff."

Settling Siberia.

Omsk, Siberia, has become the outstanding point for an extraordinary migration, estimated at 2,000,000 people annually, which pours into the country bordering on Mongolia. Nothing in Europe or Asia has ever been quite so like the springing up of the great cities of the American middle west as is the growth today of new towns in Siberia. Except that the tide is moving east instead of west the movement has many parallels to the wonderful migration which won the west for America. There are, however, two striking differences. The first is that the pioneering is comparatively luxurious compared to the American movement, while the natives, instead of being swept aside, are being absorbed by intermarriage with the settler. The ten-day journey up the Irtysh river from Omsk into the promised land is made by steamboats which are the last word in the luxury and convenience of river traffic.

WHAT AN OHIOAN

HAS TO SAY ABOUT CONDITIONS IN WESTERN CANADA.

W. E. Lewis formerly lived near Dayton, Ohio. He went to Saskatchewan seven years ago with $1,800 in money, a carload of household effects and farm implements, including four horses and three cows. Of course, the first year he only got feed from the crops, but the second year had 100 acres in wheat which made over 2,800 bushels. He has not had a failure in crop, and at present has 22 head of horses, 15 head of cattle and 35 hogs, and owns 1,120 acres of land, all under cultivation. He has been offered $35 an acre for his land, and should he care to dispose of his holdings he could pay all his debts and have $30,000 to the good; but, as he says, "Where could I go to invest my money and get as good returns." He continues in his letter to the Immigration department, August, 1912:

"We have equally as good if not better prospects for crops this year as we had three years ago, when our wheat ranged from 30 to 48 bushels per acre. I never believed such crops could be raised until I saw them myself. I had 15 acres that year that made 50 bushels to the acre. Our harvest will be ready by the 12th. We have this season in crop 400 acres of wheat, 125 of oats, 90 of flax and run three binders with four men to do the stooking. We certainly like this country and the winters, although the winters are cold at times, but we do not suffer as one would think. What we have accomplished here can be duplicated in almost any of the new districts."—Advertisement.
