J. A. Calaba, one of the machinists at the new round house, was run down by an engine Tuesday afternoon and sustained several painful injuries. He was walking along the tracks ahead of an engine and apparently didn't notice that the engine was running on the same track upon which he was walking. The engine struck him and knocked him down, bruising him quite severely. No broken bones or severe injuries were reported however. Luckily the engine was running at a slow rate of speed or his injuries might have been more serious.

Fine Program at Jefferson School.

The dedication program which was held yesterday afternoon at the Jefferson school was largely attended and a fine program was given. The program of the afternoon, beginning at 1:30, consisted of work of the school pupils. They were dismissed about the middle of the afternoon and the remainder of the day given over to the older people. In the afternoon addresses were given by the president of the board E. T. Tramp, Architect Bert M. Reynolds, A. F. Streitz and Supt. Wilson Tout. In the evening the dedication was turned into a reception for everyone. The building was open to inspection and was brilliantly lighted. A large number of the citizens of the city attended and enjoyed a pleasant evening. Music for the occasion was furnished by the high school orchestra and they gave several good selections which were much enjoyed. Refreshments of punch and wafers were served to the visiting patrons.

Mass Meeting Nominates Ticket

Pursuant to a published call, about 150 citizens attended the mass convention held at the court house last evening and nominated a city ticket. The meeting was a very harmonious one, and in no instance was there a contest worthy the name. For members of the board of education E. T. Tramp and Edgar Schiller, the retiring members, were nominated, without opposition. The representatives from the four wards then held separate caucuses and nominated candidates for councilmen. For the First ward Levi Duke, who had already been nominated by the socialists, was selected; for the Second E. W. Mann, who had previously filed his petition, was nominated as candidate; for the Third ward Harry Porter, also nominated by petition was selected; and for the Fourth ward A. E. Bell, the socialist candidate was nominated. The "wet" and "dry" issue did not figure, but there seemed to be a preponderance of "dry" men in the convention.
