Owing to the stringent game laws prohibiting the shooting of waterfowl at this season of the year, the rivers and ponds are literally covered with ducks and other wild game. Large flocks of them can be seen flying around the country daily, and even though it is hard on the enthusiastic gunners, it gives a promise of a fine season for shooting next fall.

A petition has been filed with the city clerk nominating Harry Porter for councilman in the third ward. We regard Mr. Porter as one of the "live wires" of the town; a splendid business man, exceptionally energetic and one who has always evinced much interest in every question or more pertaining to the welfare of the city. This house will be placed on the alley and face east, and later Mr. Woodhurst will build a home on the south part of the lot. This lot is one of the finest in town, and Mr. W. recently turned down an offer of $8,000, a pretty stiff price for a vacant resident lot.

The C. A. Carpenter farm, seven miles southwest of the city, has recently been sold to G. D. Goldsmith and his son-in-law, George Smith of Clarks, Neb. The place has been farmed for some time by L. Mr. Smith will move his family here from Clarks in the course of a few weeks.

$16 for a Hat.

The two Mexicans, who were up for hearing before Justice M. J. O'Connell Tuesday, charged with stealing a hat from the store of C. O. Weingand, entered pleas of not guilty. Later, one of them plead guilty, but stated to the interpreter that he did not steal the hat and that he knew nothing about the theft. The interpreter stated the plea to the court and the Mexican was released. The other, Jesus Herman, protested his innocence, but upon examination was found guilty and was fined $5 and costs, amounting to $16. He was permitted to keep the hat upon paying the purchase price and both were set free.

City Council Meeting.

The city council met Tuesday evening for the regular meeting and held a short session. Very little of interest was transacted. City Engineer C. J. McNamara submitted estimates on the cost of sewer laterals C, D and J, and the council passed on the estimates and will advertise for bids in the course of a few days. A number of sidewalks that are out of repair were condemned and new ones were ordered put in. The question of opening Ninth street was also brought before the meeting and widely discussed, but nothing definite was done.

Will Celebrate Anniversary.

Edward Elliott, an instructor in the Wisconsin university at Madison, Ben Elliott engaged in the extension work of the same school as lecturer, and Fred Elliott, of Omaha, will arrive in town tomorrow and visit their parents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Elliott, for a few days. These three sons come at this particular time in order that they may help celebrate the fortieth wedding anniversary of their parents. The Messrs. Elliott during their boyhood days were favorites with North Platte people, and their friends will be glad to meet them.

E. B. Perrigo, of Omaha, assistant general manager of the North Platte Electric Co., has been in town for a few days getting a line-up on local conditions. Naturally Mr. Perrigo is interested in the success of the franchise at the coming municipal election, and regrets that all the voters cannot view the question as a business proposition that means much for North Platte. The adoption of the franchise, he says, will result in an investment in the immediate future of $150,000 for the erection of a combined gas and electric plant, the building of which will give employment to local labor while in course of construction, that will give permanent employment to a largely increased number of men when completed and will add to the taxable property of the city. In addition to this, it will result in giving to the people a cheaper and cleaner fuel for cooking purposes, and at the same time tend to lessen the labors of the house wife. Should the franchise be defeated his company will not feel justified in making the improvement; there will be no gas plant, and the outlay for the electric plant will be limited to the addition of a power unit at a cost of $15,000.

The fire department was called out Tuesday evening shortly after 10 o'clock to the old round house where a fire was reported. However, when they arrived the flames were already put out. Fire had started in the roof of the house in some unknown way, but it was put out by some of the men before it did any great damage. The new fire truck was put out of order when the fire alarm was turned in Monday evening. The crank shaft on the engine was broken off and the truck will be laid up for several days until repairs can be sent for.
