

"CASCARETS" FOR A BILIOUS LIVER

For sick headache, bad breath, Sour Stomach and constipation.

Get a 10-cent box now. No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable and uncomfortable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get the desired results with Cascarets.

Don't let your stomach, liver and bowels make you miserable. Take Cascarets to-night; put an end to the headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sick, sour, gassy stomach, backache and all other distress; cleanse your inside organs of all the bile, gases and constipated matter which is producing the misery.

A 10-cent box means health, happiness and a clear head for months. No more days of gloom and distress if you will take a Cascaret now and then. All stores sell Cascarets. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a cleansing, too. Adv.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Beautify Your Hair! Make It Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant—Try the Moist Cloth.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all. Adv.

Appropriately Garbed for Boudoir

ONCE in a while the woman of today finds it expedient to spend a day, or part of one, in the seclusion and quiet of her own room. Such quiet days are too few, and in the course of any one of them she may be called upon to receive her very intimate women friends or the members of her family. She likes to be prettily garbed, for this reason, and for the further reason that the day is more enjoyable to herself when her comfortable arraying is also attractive.

The effective boudoir garb pictured here includes a handsome petticoat of fine nainsook trimmed with lace and embroidery, a little coat of Swiss embroidery and a cap of embroidered batiste decorated with a small wreath of fine flowers and narrow ribbon bows.

The petticoat is made of the plain nainsook with a very wide flounce added. The flounce is made separately and is an intricate affair of embroidered batiste and Val lace insertion. The embroidery has a deep scallop along the lower edge and is finished with wide Val lace edging to match the insertion. At the upper edge the pattern shows a beading through which plain satin ribbon is run. It is set onto the body of the petticoat with a row of insertion.

A petticoat of this kind is worn over another of plain net.

The little coat, or dressing sacque, is made in two pieces—a body and a basque. It hangs loosely to the figure. The body is cut out with the scallop edge of the embroidery sloping upward at the front. The basque is a scant flounce stitched on the body. Sleeves are plain, made of a piece of the edging. They reach to the elbow and are set in.

A net or chiffon or lace corset cover or underbodice is worn under this little matinee. The opening at the neck is finished with a narrow frill or ruching, and the fastening at the bust is decorated with a cluster of chiffon roses.

There are any number of boudoir caps from which one may make a selection, and any number of materials of which they are made. The very handsome model shown in the picture almost hides the hair with scant ruffles of lace falling about the face.

Pretty beaded boudoir slippers complete this attractive lounging toilette. An inspiration to rest lies in its daintiness and comfort. It is the costume for another phase of the changing aspects of the daily life of modern women. Its suggestion of quiet and rest and leisure are worth considering. They are pretty and polite invitations to make interviews short and to savor the needed day of quiet in our busy lives.

Various Silks in Spring Millinery

PREPARE to reckon with moire when the matter of your Easter bonnet comes up for consideration. This handsome material has made a great success as a feature of spring millinery. In big overtopping bows, in standing ruffles and platings, and in the body of hats, moire ribbon is one of the assured styles for the approaching spring.

Other ribbons and other kinds of silk are used as much but not "featured" as taffeta is in the makeup of the new hats.

For early spring nothing could be better than moire. It is elegance expressed in ribbon. The weave has the appearance of being heavy, although it is not in reality heavy-weight, and lends itself to the standing ruffles and platings and the big, vigorous bows which designers are using with such good effect.

On turbans, standing brims and coronets are covered with moire laid on plain, or shapes of straw or silk braid are provided with soft crowns and trimmings of moire.

A smart turban is shown here with a plaited ruffle at one side. The whole turban is in mustard-colored hemp and moire ribbon finished with a little bunch of cherries at the front. It is an American design of French inspiration, and no French atelier would scorn to be sponsor for it.

One of those pretty little brimmed hats made of silk braid, which have proved so captivating to the highest class of buyers, is shown here, trimmed with standing plaited ruffle of moire. There is a little wreath of forget-me-nots and other diminutive blossoms finishing the trimming. This hat is shown for spring developed in all the fashionable colors.

A plain tailored hat with hemp brim and satin crown appears in a deep petunia color with standing ornament made of braid. For early wear and to outlast the Lenten season, it is in all ways a desirable model. The design is elegant for a suit hat, and is one of a great number showing soft crowns of silk.

GOOD ROADS

RELOCATING THE OLD ROADS

Average Life of Horses and Automobiles May Be Increased and the Cost of Hauling Reduced.

The average life of horses and automobiles may be increased and the cost of hauling reduced, according to the office of roads, department of agriculture, by relocating many old roads and the more scientific laying out of new ones. The natural tendency in road building is to build a straight road whether it goes over steep grades or hills or not, and pulling over these grades naturally adds to the wear and tear on horses and vehicles. The doctrine of the office of roads is that the longest way around may often be the shortest and most economical way home, and that frequently by building a highway around a hill or grade but little appreciable distance is added and this is more than offset by the reduced strain of hauling.

The chief drawback from the farm owner's point of view is that the laying out of road on this principle of avoiding grades necessitates in some cases running the road through good farm land or orchards of pastures instead of going around the farm line and building the road through old worn out fields and over rocky knolls. This of course must raise a question in the mind of the individual landowner as to whether the cutting up of his property by a road yields him individual advantages and so benefits his community as to offset the use of such land for a road or to overcome the inconvenience of having his land divided. In this connection the office of roads points out that the running of a road and the resulting traffic through a good farm where there are good cattle, horses, sheep, grain, fruit or vegetables has a certain advertising value and in many instances makes the land more valuable. In other cases the importance of such a level road to the community is so great that it will repay those using the road to give the farmer the equivalent in land equally good in place of what he has sacrificed to the common welfare.

At any rate the office of roads is now taking special pains to make clear the economic advantage of avoiding steep grades in their roads, even at some sacrifice of better land. Investigations shows that the laying of such roads over hills has resulted more from the attention to the preservation of farm lines than from scientific attention to the problem of road building. According to the testimony of farmers consulted where a horse might be able to pull 4,000 pounds on a level road it would have difficulty in pulling 3,000 pounds up a steep hill. The size of the load therefore tends to be measured by the grade of the largest hill on the road to market. In a number of cases of actual experiment shows that the relocating of roads around hills has been accomplished either with no addition in road length in some instances, and with the adding of only a few feet to the highway in others. The office knows of no case where a properly relocated road which has cut out grades has led to any question as to its material reduction of hauling costs.

Future Good Roads.

Good roads in the future should be built on the zigzag plan for the avoidance of hills and steep grades, the federal officer of good roads announced in declaring that the lives of horses and automobiles could be lengthened thereby and the cost of hauling reduced materially. The experts contend that the "longest way around often may be the most economical and shortest way home," and decry the national tendency to build straight roads whenever they must risk heavy grades.

Get Busy With Road Drag.

There never was a better time than right now to use the road drag. Try to get the neighbors to join you if you can, but if they will not, a couple of days spent improving the road from your farm to town will pay big when the bad weather comes on. Of course, it goes a bit against the grain to make good roads for people who are too lazy to help, but who use them just the same. However, it is better to do that than to suffer the inconvenience and loss of good marketing through bottomless roads.
