That Omaha failed to be selected as one of the cities for a regional or federal bank is regretted. It looks very much as though politics played an important part in the selection of the sites, and that the southern democrats are in the saddle. That the state of Missouri should be given two of these banks--one at Kansas City and one at St. Louis is eminently unfair to Omaha, whose geographical location entitled it to recognition.

Don't let the contract for your plumbing before you talk with R. F. Stuart on the matter. His price will interest you.

A letter published in the Kearney Hub last Saturday from the manager of the Grand Island "jag" cure establishment states that during the past year fifty-seven per cent of those taking the cure lived in towns where there are saloons, and forty-three per cent in towns that had no saloons. Taking the population of the different towns into consideration, the "dry" towns contributed as many patients as did the "wet" towns. That doesn't speak very well for "dry" towns so far as the consumption of intoxicants.

Library Report for March.

The report of the public library submitted by Mrs. Mary C. Jones, the librarian, shows a total of 1815 borrowers. The circulation for March was 1281 books of which 862 were adult books and 419 were children's books. During the month there were 450 callers who came in to read or to use the reference books. All Classes Mix in Pennant Scrape

An interesting class fight occurred Friday afternoon at the high school campus when all the classes mixed in an effort to remove the Sophomore and Junior colors from a flag pole. The Sophomore and Junior boys erected the pole on the east side of the school house Thursday night with their colors on it, and spent the night guarding it by watches.

During the night a number of the Senior boys appeared on the scene and found a sentry asleep and quietly removed the Junior flag from the pole. The Juniors then got some more cloth and replaced their flag and spent the rest of the night and the following morning in guard over it.

Shortly after noon the boys of all classes appeared on the scene garbed for the occasion and lined up for a big scrap. The fight was all good natured and no one was hurt and Supt. Taut called time for them to get dressed for school. Shortly before the finish of the scrap, one the Senior boys reached the pole and attempted to ascend, but was unable to climb the pole. The other boys then stood back and let all who wished try to climb the pole, but all met with the same success as the first aspirant. The Juniors then got some climbers and took the colors down and the scrap ended with only a healthy tussle.
