NORTH PLATTE, NEBR., APRIL 11, 1914.

To Whom it may Concern:--

I wish to state that about the 20th day of March, 1913, my Oakland Automobile was completely destroyed by fire while I was on my way to town. Shortly prior to this I took out one of C. F. Temple's Auto Policies, which was written in the Royal Exchanged Assurance (Insurance Company of London) for $1,000.00. The loss was promptly attend to by Mr. Temple, and I this day received draft from the company for $1,000.00 in full settlement of loss and the of face of the policy.

I wish to recommend the Royal Exchange Assurance Auto Insurance to every car owner.

G. R. HOLCOMB.

MR. FARMER:---

Why not be up to date and have the same lighting convenience as your city brother.

A small isolated light plant run by your gasoline engine is what you need. The electric light is as far ahead of the ordinary oil lamp as the oil lamp was ahead of the pine knot. When in town, call and let us explain this system.

Invitations Sent Out for Get-Together Banquet

The invitations to the April get-together banquet of the Chamber of Commerce was sent out yesterday by Secretary M. E. Crosby. The banquet will be held Wednesday evening, April 22d, in the parlors of the Presbyterian church and the ladies of that church will serve the dinner.

The purpose of this meeting is to talk over the proposition of a new court house for Lincoln county and a number of the prominent men of the county have been invited to be present. Invitations were sent to them by the members of the committee, each member sending them to four or five men whom they wished to be present. A large number of men is expected at this meeting as the question is of vital interest to all the residents of the county.

At the last meeting of this kind over one hundred forty men were present and several had to be turned away because they had not procured tickets early enough. The tickets will be on sale at the three banks and will be the same price as before, fifty-cent. All are urged to get them as early as possible that the ladies will know how many to expect. The toast list is made up of men who know what they are talking about and the meeting will be of interest. There will also be a general discussion.

Wilson Pleads Not Guilty.

Perry Wilson, who was arrested last week on the charge of forgery, was arraigned Tuesday before Judge Grant and entered the plea of not guilty. Charles Whelan, James Dugan and L. E. Hamm were called as witnesses, and the court found sufficient evidence to bind Wilson over to the next jury term of district court, which will be held in December. His bond was fixed at $300 and he was unable to furnish it, and was remanded to jail to await trial. A canceled cheque made out to Le Hamm and signed by Wilson was introduced by the state in the evidence. Hamm denies endorsing the cheque.

Miss Elsie Blanche Warner was married at Denver April 14th, to Henry J. Shook, of that city, by Rev. O. J. Auman, of Grant Avenue, M. E. church.

Mrs. Shook was born in North Platte and lived here until about seven years ago. She is a graduate of the North Platte high school. Mr. Shook holds a responsible position with the telephone company at Denver.

Lutheran Church News

The Lutheran lenten, passiontide and Easterday services were the best in all respects that the church has had. The holy communion Thursday evening and Sunday morning was the largest yet. The choir service Sunday night was one of the strongest the choir has ever given. The attendance at all the services throughout the season and the interest manifested was exceptional. Twenty-one children were baptized Palm Sunday and Easter, and nineteen adults were received into church membership. In all it was a most blessed season.

The choir will not repeat the cantata but will sing several of the numbers at the morning and evening services next Sunday. Topic of morning sermon "Peniel," and of the evening "The Head Stone of the Corner." Services at 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Shrubs About the House

The first requisite of a home after having a comfortable modern house is a green yard, and the second requisite suitable shrubs and ornamental plants. Shrubs are used chiefly to hide or screen the less sightly places and furnish a background or setting for the home when viewed from the street.

When planting a shrub or tree, one should have in mind the appearance of that shrub or tree and of the house and other surroundings when the shrub or tree has grown to maturity. A small tree may be very nice just in front of the house, but how will you like the effect when it has become large and has cut off the view between the house and the street? Trees that grow large should be planted where you would like a large tree, rather than where you would like a shrub.

Coarse, vigorous growing shrubs should be planted in the background with the finer, smaller kinds in front. All the shrubs in the front of the house should be of the finer sorts. Tamarisk, Cut Leaf Sumac, Golden Elder and other shrubs of these kinds are very pretty in the right place, but they are not of the right sort for the front lawn. The Tartarian Honey Suckles, the Syringia, the Spirea and other shrubs of this sort are better suited for front decorations.

A shrub or tree should be planted not for its own beauty alone, but because of its effect on the surroundings. An open green lawn with the finer shrubs on the rear border and about the buildings, with the coarser, larger shrubs in the background, and with a few well selected and properly placed specimen shade trees is ideal.

The flowers such as tulip, gladiolus, plox and peony may be placed between the shrubs and the grass. The larger flowering plants such as the dahlia and hollyhock look better in the background.

EXPERIMENTAL SUBSTATION.

Word was received here yesterday from Mike Ryan at Sterling, Colo., announcing that he had been appointed deputy county assessor of Logan county Colo., of which Sterling is the county seat. He was employed here at the Dixon jewelry store until about a month ago when he left for Sterling to take a position. His appointment there was only recent and his many friends will be pleased to learn of his good fortune. From what we know of him here we feel certain that he will fill the position creditably.
