Escapement—Double roller—this overcomes all danger of over banking which would stop the watch.
Steel Escape Wheel—Harder than the brass commonly used.
Lever Set—Protects you against accidental moving of the hands.
Regulator—A patent micrometer nut and screw—no danger of back lash.
Balance Wheel—Compensating—automatically adjusts itself to changes in temperature, etc.
Hair Spring—Breguet—the very best made.
Adjustment—Temperature isochronism and three positions. Very closely rated under each one of these adjustments.

Walter O'Conner and Alice Wilcox Wed.

The wedding of Miss Alice Wilcox and Walter J. O'Conner was solemnized Wednesday morning at 6:30 at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of about thirty relatives and friends. Rev. Patrick McDaid officiated.

To a wedding march rendered by Mrs. Earl Hamilton the bridal party made entrance, the bride on the arm of her father and attended by her sister Miss Florence Wilcox, and the groom by Cash Austin. The bride wore a traveling suit of brown brocade poplin and a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley held in place with a gold bar pin set with diamonds and pearls, the pin being a gift of the groom. Her attendant wore a white embroidered dress.

Following the ceremony felicitations were extended and later the guests were seated at small tables which were prettily decorated with lighted candles in glass holders tied with white and smilax, and places were found by hand painted place cards. A three-course breakfast was served, the Misses Katherine Hinman, Nanine Iddings, Dorothy Hinman and Syble Gantt assisting. The bride's table where the relatives were seated had as its centerpiece a beautiful bunch of bride's roses and the lighted candles were used with pretty effect. The room decorations were green and white.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Conner left on the eight o'clock train for Chicago, Oberlin, Ohio, and other points in the east for a wedding trip of a few weeks. At Oberlin they will visit a sister of the bride's who is attending school there.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wilcox and has lived here since childhood. She returned only last Christmas from Porto Rico where she had been teaching school. She has been a social favorite. The groom is manager of the ten-cent store at this place and has a host of friends who wish him and his new bride well. They will make their home here upon their return from their honeymoon.

The prolonged dry season was broken Wednesday evening by a heavy rain in the immediate vicinity of North Platte. A more general rain followed yesterday.

Engineer French, of the North Platte electric company is now working on the plans for laying out the new gas mains and the new transmission system for the electric and gas plant. He is going over the city plat in order that they will not conflict with the water mains and the sewers. He stated this morning that while they had eighteen months in which to complete the work, they intended rushing it as much as possible. The orders from Omaha are to get through as soon as possible.

Fire Chief Jones announced this week that he would call out the department soon and burn fire guards around the entire city. The prairie all around has been allowed to grow and the grass is so dry that there is much danger of fire breaking out and should this occur during a strong wind the city would be in grave danger of a destructive fire. On all sides of the city it has been neglected and there is danger from any quarter. The state fire commission will be here shortly and the chief hopes to have this done before he arrives.
