High School Functions This Week.

This week and next week are busy weeks in the high school and especially for the senior class. Besides the regular examinations there are many other functions that demand the time of the students. Friday evening of this week the senior class play will be given at the Keith theatre. Saturday evening the Junior-Senior reception will be held in the Masonic hall and Sunday morning the baccalaureate services will be held at the Baptist church.

The class play, entitled "A Scrap of Paper" is a comedy that will be well worth the time of seeing. The students have been doing hard work getting in readiness for this, under the instruction of Miss Welch, and are well prepared. The Junior-Senior will be an elaborate affair. Sunday morning the class will attend the Baptist church en masse for the class sermon which will be preached by Rev. J. L. Barton.

Monday of next week the high school cadets will leave for Gothenburg for their annual encampment. Principal G. P. McGrew will accompany them. Just how many will go is not yet known, but about thirty-five are expected to go. During their stay they will play a return ball game with the Cozad team on the Gothenburg grounds.

The commencement exercises will be held Friday evening of next week. A general program will be given and there will be no speaker. The program will be announced later.

Injunction Filed in Land Case.

A case entitled R. L. Benton and company vs. Fred Pierson, John Baughman, William S. Coker, Frank Coker and Simon Brogan was filed Saturday in the United States district court. The case is an injunction to prevent the defendants from ejecting the plaintiffs in their suit that is now pending in the county court.

This case involves about 21,372 acres of land in the Sutherland vicinity renting at $2,500 per year. It was leased to the plaintiffs in this case last year and the defendants assert that the lease was for only one year. The plaintiffs are still holding possession of it although written notice was served, on May 2nd to vacate. This injunction suit is to enjoin the defendants from ejecting them. It is set for hearing before Judge Munger at Omaha on May 25th.

The plaintiffs filed bonds of $2,000 to cover costs of the case in case they should be in the wrong.

Will Exhibit School Work.

Exhibits of the school work will be given Thursday afternoon of this week in all the ward schools. The schools will be open to the public for inspection and everybody is invited to visit the schools and inspect the work of the pupils for the past year. Much preparation has been made for this exhibition and it will be worth the time of all to make a visit to the schools for the purpose of seeing the work.

All work that can be done on paper will be shown and the best of these exhibits will be sent to the county fair next fall. The best of that will probably be sent to the state fair. This will not be of the nature of a patron's day and no program will be given.

The Hershey Giants defeated the North Platte high school team in a fast game of baseball Saturday afternoon by a score of 10 to 8 at Hershey. The high school boys played the best game they have played this season and their defeat was due to succession of conflicting events. Cross and Claubaugh were batteries for the local men and Cross pitched a fine game. Several times he was "in a hole" but got out of it in a commendable manner. The Giants got eight hits off him and the boys got sixteen off McCain, the same pitcher that fanned twenty-two Brule men a few days ago. McCain and McConnell were batteries for Hershey. A return game will probably be played here Saturday afternoon.

A special meeting of the Twentieth Century Club is called for Thursday evening of this week by the president. This will be a general meeting and all members are urged to be present as there is a great deal of important business to be transacted. The general meeting was to have been held Tuesday evening of last week but was postponed. After the general meeting of the club the civic department will hold their meeting.

Lots in Taylor's Addition. $10.00 down balance on easy payments. Hollman & Sebastian.

The Cozad high school nine and the local team will cross bats this afternoon at the athletic field for honors. This game has been brewing for sometime and a fast game is anticipated. Rivalry between the two teams is such that they will all be playing ball all the time. Husband will be on the mound for the local boys.

From the records of the two teams the odds are not very strong either way and the game will undoubtedly be a close one.

Mrs. Steinwall, residing on East Sixth street, is reported convalescent from a prolonged illness.

The Sutherland, Maxwell, Brady and O'Fallon schools will hold their commencement exercises this week.

County Surveyor R. L. Cochran returned Saturday morning from Brady where he did some engineering work.

Mrs. F. W. Herminghouse left yesterday morning for Excelsior Springs, Mo. where she will spend a few weeks.

Wednesday Night, May 20, at The Keith,

Will be shown

"The Merchant of Venice,"

A 4-part production put out by the Smalleys. The theme of this play needs no introduction to you and when you know that Lois Weber acts the part of Portia and Phillips Smalley the part of Shylock, you can be assured of a well produced picture. Much time, care and expense was given to the filming of it. There is no question about the results; the impression left is that only the divine spark of genius could have adapted, produced and acted out the parts of this play.

Aside from this there will be shown a two-part Selig, "On the Minute," making in all six reels for the evening's entertainment.
