McWilliams Killed, Wife Injured

John R. McWilliams was killed and Mrs. McWilliams was badly injured shortly before 2 o'clock Friday afternoon when passenger train No. 2 struck their car at the Field crossing. Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams were driving north across the tracks and had stopped at the crossing to wait for a freight train to pass. As they drove on the crossing No. 2, which was late, came in and they did not see it on account of the freight train's cutting off the view. The flagman shouted to Mr. McWilliams to look out for the train and he shut off the engine and put on the brakes, stopping the car in the center of the track.

The engine struck the car in the middle and threw it about thirty feet. Mr. and Mrs. McWilliams were both standing up in an attempt to get out of the car, but the top was up and they could not get out in time. The train was so close that the engine could not stop. Mrs. McWilliams was thrown from the car and fell beside it. Mr. McWilliams was dragged on the pilot about seventy-five feet and his head was ground up and all the ribs on his right side broken. The toes on his right foot were cut off and he had bruises on his back, left knee and right shoulder. He was taken to the Howe & Maloney undertaking establishment.

Mrs. McWilliams was taken at once to the F. & S. hospital and it was found that she was seriously injured, but she will recover. She suffered several scalp wounds, a flesh wound in one leg and a broken bone in one hand. She was on the side of the car away from the engine.

The train that struck Mr. McWilliams was the one upon which he ran. He was to have gone out that afternoon and was dressed for his trip. He was struck at eight minutes before 2, as his watch showed eight minutes until 1, western time.

A coroner's jury consisting of A. F. Strutz, A. A. Schatz, Joseph Stone, W. J. Tiley, Richard Cox and Ed Ogier was called Saturday morning and after their inspection of the body they went to the district court rooms where several witnesses were examined. They adjourned at noon for an indefinite period and will await the recovery of Mrs. McWilliams before they render a verdict.

John R. McWilliams was born Mar. 18, 1857, at Moscow, Wis. He was 57 years, 3 months and 4 days old at the time of his death. He had been a resident of this city for a number of years and is one of the oldest engineers in the service. He has always been a respected citizen and was a man of great moral integrity and his loss will be deeply felt by his friends as well as his family. He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, the A. O. U. W., the B. of L. E. and the L. O. O. Moose.

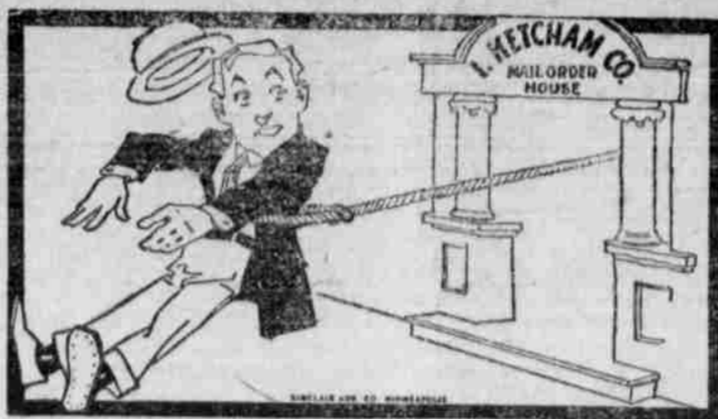

He leaves to mourn his demise besides his many friends, his wife, his aged mother, Mrs. Roscoe A. McWilliams who has been making her home with him, and six children. The children are Robert, who lives in Denver, Stephen, who is a member of this year's graduating class, Wallace the baby, Mrs. George Vosepka, Miss Ethel and Miss Minerva.

The funeral was held yesterday morning at 9 o'clock from the Catholic church, Rev. Father McDaid officiating. The funeral was largely attended and many were unable to get into the church. The four lodges of which he was a member attended and the graduating class attended en masse. The floral tributes were profuse and beautiful. The lodges and the graduating class each contributed nice wreaths and there were many private offerings. Miss Sadie Trovillo sang "Some Sweet Day," and Charles Pass sang "Calvary." The remains were laid to rest in the North Platte cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Vernon left yesterday morning for a few days visit with Mr. Vernon's parents at Julesburg.

Roscoe Zimmer, engineer in the Sidney yards, came down yesterday to attend the funeral of the late J. R. McWilliams.

The case of the International Harvester company vs. Edgar North & Co. et al., was up for hearing yesterday afternoon in the county court and was continued until June 25th.

Dont Get Roped in by Catalog Houses

It isn't a pleasant sensation to send your good money away for a car of Lumber, and then find the stuff not as good as you expected to get.

Yet scores and scores of farmers are getting "roped in" that way every day.

The bait of "cheap prices" seems to wrap these business judgment, and away goes their money to buy stuff sight unseen.

You sober common sense should tell you that the cost of doing business with million of expensive catalogs, and thousands of clerks make it impossible for catalog houses to sell you as good lumber for the same money as your local dealer can, and that they resort to lowering the grade in order to make the price appear cheaper.

When you can buy your Lumber and Building Material here as cheap as away from home, why should't you be loyal to your home community and its interests, which are also yours? Think it over, and, remember, we can meet or beat any catalog house price on the same grades.

Mrs. Lusk Asks Divorce.

Mrs. Pearl Lusk filed her application for divorce from her husband John Lusk, Friday afternoon in the district court. She asks divorce and the custody of the minor child. She alleges desertion, non-support and extreme cruelty and complains that her husband struck her numerous times and that one time he knocked her down. She states that they were married in this city June 7, 1909, and that the next year her husband left her and that he has since failed and neglected to support her. One son, Vaughn William, was born to them and he is an invalid and the wife has no means of supporting him. She asks also for reasonable alimony, support of the child and other relief as is equitable.

Memorial Sunday Observed.

The union Memorial Day services were held Sunday evening in the Keith theatre and a large crowd attended. All the churches joined together and Rev. B. A. Cram of the Methodist church gave the address. The members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. attended en masse. Rev. Barton, Rev. Harmon, and Rev. Christie assisted in the services. Music was furnished by a mixed quartette from the Methodist choir. The volunteer firemen also held their memorial services Sunday afternoon at the cemetery. Flowers were strewn upon the graves of the eighteen firemen and a nice address was given by District Judge H. M. Grimes. Twenty-one firemen attended the services.

Verd and Slogan Released.

George Verd and Thomas Sloan, the two men who were bound over to the district court on the charge of burglarizing a freight car, were released from the county jail yesterday morning. They pleaded guilty Saturday before Judge Grant to the charge of petit larceny and were sentenced to ten days in the county jail. They had already been incarcerated for several weeks and they were allowed to let a part of that go on their sentences.

C. L. Patterson was up from Omaha and arranged to allow them to plead guilty. There was some question as to the evidence against the men being convicting enough to send them to the penitentiary and to save the county the expense of keeping them until next December it was thought best to allow them to plead guilty. They announce that they will go to work on a farm near here.

Mrs. Wm. Hubbard, Mrs. Dan Roberts and Miss Ethel Warlaumont left yesterday morning for Omaha to spend a few days.
