ROTHENBURG ON THE TAUBER

Every Street in City Offers Unlimited Possibilities to the Artist and Camera Man.

Berlin.—Every street in Rothenberg offers unlimited possibilities to the artist and the camera man. Noble churches rich in Gothic work, sternly simple in character, beautiful in craftsmanship, richly endowed with wood carving; massy walls, still battlemented; towers of all shapes and sizes, some round and tall, others squat and fat, with evil-looking slits in their walls from whence many an arrow has sped on its death-dealing mission; others, again, fantastically peaked, soaring high into the sky and seeming to touch the rolling masses of cloud that go flying by; Renaissance buildings of the greatest beauty, seamed and stained with the inexorable hand of time, many gabled and with row upon row of quaint dormers peeping from a steep roof of glowing prismatic color. Autumn is the time for picturesque figures. Then is heard the clacking of the fall in many an old barn; primitive bullock wagons laden with the treasures of mother earth slowly come through the fortified barbicans of the town gates; and figures bearing scythe or reaping hook pass on to the fields and woods. Stay a while and peep inside one of the great old barns, whose huge beams and timbers are dimly revealed in the deep, dark recesses. A cloud of fine dust fills the air, and a flood of sunshine pouring in from the open door turns this into a quivering, golden, transparent screen, through which the picturesquely clad figures are seen flinging their falls in rhythmic time, the grain meanwhile dancing a merry measure on the rough oaken floor.

Wisely enough, the inhabitants of Rothenberg built their railway station far enough away, where it could not spoil the beauty of the ancient town. The visitor may feel a little disappointed at first, as, on leaving the station, he traverses a commonplace buildings; but once through the Roder gate and a street is entered whose houses and towers would satisfy the rampant imagination of the most extravagant scenic artist. A great joy and content fills the traveler's heart, for surely now he is back in the middle ages. On either side of the wide, spacious street are great, gabled houses lavishly painted in various colors, and with many humorous inscriptions and verses upon them. Listen to this above a Rothenberg Figaro's house:

Many a man must lose his hair Whom't pleasest not the same to spare: Yet never a man that I have shorn But well't hath pleased him, I'll be sworn. For hair and beard I cut and trim For each as best it suiteth him, And every man I lauder down, Whether he's wise or but a clown.

Watching for the Lord

By REV. JAMES M. GRAY, D. D. Dean of Moody Bible Institute Chicago

TEXT—"Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come." Matt. 24:42.

I. That for which we are to watch is the return of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ to this earth. We seem shut up to this thought both by the context of the passage and the parallel places in the other Gospels. It is, in addition, the simplest teaching of the New Testament Scriptures generally—witness the words in I Thess. 1:9, 10, "ye turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God; and to wait for his son from heaven."

II. The difficulty of watching is illustrated in the drowsiness of the disciples in Gethsemane—"What could ye not watch with me one hour?" (Matt. 26:40). The spirit was willing but the flesh was weak. A condition of things quite as likely in the region of spiritual truth, if one may judge by the frequent appeals to Christians to awake out of sleep, see Ephes. 5:14; Rom. 13:11, 12; I Cor. 15:34; I Thess. 5:6. There are few of us who are not aware of this from actual experience, alas! As in the physical so in the spiritual sense, the longer we have to watch the more difficult a task it becomes.

III. The danger of not watching is seen in our Lord's warning to the church at Sardis—"If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come to thee as a thief" (Rev. 3:3). "The thief cometh not but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy" (John 10:10). This last figure is partly interpreted by another in which Christ says: "But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, my Lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to smite his fellow servants, and to eat and drink with the drunken; the Lord of that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of, and shall cut him asunder, and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth" (Matt. 24:48-51).

IV. The accompaniments of watching are:

(1) Prayer (Mark 13:33)—To pray aright is to watch, but surely he is not watching who is not praying; hence "men ought always to pray" (Luke 18:1). Not that we must ever be in the external attitude of prayer, as when the Pharisees loved to pray standing at the corners of the streets, but that our inward habit should be one of daily communion with God, for he heareth us always.

(2) Service—"loins girded about" (Luke 12:35). See I Kings 18:46, Prov. 31:17, 19. It is the slothful servant who is not watching. The busy servant may not have the particular thought of his Lord's return momentarily present to his mind, but it is nevertheless the underlying motive of his activity.

(3) Testimony—"your lights burning" (Luke 12:35). He who is watching for his Lord's return is speaking of it, witnessing for him. "Ye shine as lights in the world; holding forth the word of life" (Phil. 2:15, 16) that others may see the way of life.

V. The rewards of watching are:

(1) Escape from danger—"Watch ye therefore . . . that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass" (Luke 21:36). Compare the context and the parallel passages with II Thess. 1:6-9.

(2) Bestowal of divine honor—"Blessed are those servants, whom the Lord when he cometh shall find watching; verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them" (Luke 12:37). It is, of course, impossible to apprehend the meaning of this promised felicity (Isaiah 64:4); we simply know that our Lord's language implies an exaltation beyond our highest thought.

(3) Increase of power and opportunity. "Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his Lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season? Blessed is that servant, whom his Lord when he cometh shall find so doing."

All hail, the Coming Son of God, He's Coming back again, He's Coming in the Clouds of heaven, He's Coming back again to reign!

Sinners whose sins are washed away, Nor left a single stain, Go, hail, the Advent of your Lord, He's Coming back to reign!

Let every kindred, every tribe, Free of Creation's pain, A loud Acclaim His Welcome back, He's Coming back to reign!

Ah! soon with all the ransomed throng, Beholding Him once slain, We'll see the rolling cloud, and shout He's Coming back to reign!

Anticipation. "One summer I chanced to be back in the ridges of Tennessee," said United States Senator Blair Lee of Maryland, as he leaned back in his chair, "and a couple of mountaineers got into an argument. High words led to blows, and one of the men was killed. One of the party volunteered to ride on ahead to the dead man's cabin and break the news to the widow.

"She was seated at a table eating apple-dumplings when the man rode up. He broke the news as gently as possible. The woman listened quietly with a dumpling poised in the air half way to her mouth. When the man had finished, she stuffed the dumpling into her mouth and said:

"'You-all jest wait till I finish this hyer dumplin' an' then you-all'll hear some hullerin'.'"

SCALY PSORIASIS ON LIMBS

Troop H, 6th U. S. Cavalry, Camp McCoy, Sparta, Wis.—"I was troubled with psoriasis for nearly two years. Portions of my arms and limbs were affected mostly with it. It appeared in scaly form, breaking out in very small dots and gradually grew larger and white scales formed when about the size of an ordinary match-head. The looks of it was horrible, which made it very unpleasant for me. It itched a little at times.

"I tried several treatments which cured me for a month, but it always broke out again. One day a friend saw the advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the paper and I sent for a sample. They helped me, so I purchased two more boxes of Cuticura Ointment and some Cuticura Soap and they completely cured me. It took three months for Cuticura Soap and Ointment to complete my cure." ## HAD NO RATIONS TO SPARE

Good Reason Why Confederate Commander Was Willing to See His Prisoners Escape.

When, at Gaines Mill in 1862, the 5th Texas captured two whole regiments of Union soldiers, the Texans were all very proud of their achievement. One of them has described an amusing scene in connection with the surrender.

When the Union Officers gave up their swords to Col. Upton, they were so prompt in the duty that he was compelled to lay down the frying pan which he carried in the place of a sword and hold the weapons presented in his arms.

Just then he noticed a commotion at the far end of the captured regiments. That was near the timber, and a squad of the prisoners were making an effort to pass by "Big John" Ferris of Company B, who stood there unaided, endeavoring to intercept them.

Springing upon a log, the armful of swords dangling about in every direction, Upton shouted:

"John Ferris, what are you trying to do now?"

"I am trying to keep these fellows from escaping," yelled Big John.

"Let them go, you fool!" shouted back Upton. "We'd rather fight than feed them!"

His Coffin Finished, He Dies.

After seeing that his coffin was made, J. Welch, father of Mrs. Nelson, died from the ravages of cancer. He came from Oakland last fall to live with his daughter. Three months ago he requested that his coffin be made, so it might be finished before his death.

His son-in-law and daughter were able to postpone the unpleasant task, but Nelson yielded to entreaties of his father-in-law ten days ago, and unwillingly began the work to please the aged sufferer, finishing it before death came.—Fall River Mills (Cal.) Dispatch to the New York World.

Getting Round It.

Lincoln Steffens, in a recent address at Cooper union in New York, said:

"The wife of a child labor millionaire once asked him in some little disgust:

"George, suppose you'd been born in the days when everybody had to live by the sweat of his or her brow. What would you do then?"

"I'd open a stand," George answered, "for the sale of handkerchiefs."

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered from displacement and inflammation, and had such pains in my sides, and terrible backache so that I could hardly stand. I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I can do any amount of work, sleep good, eat good, and don't have a bit of trouble. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to every suffering woman."—Mrs. HARRY FISHER, 1642 Juniata Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Woman's Case. Providence, R. I.—"I cannot speak too highly of your Vegetable Compound as it has done wonders for me and I would not be without it. I had a displacement, bearing down, and backache, until I could hardly stand and was thoroughly run down when I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helped me and I am in the best of health at present. I work in a factory all day long besides doing my housework so you can see what it has done for me. I give you permission to publish my name and I speak of your Vegetable Compound to many of my friends."—Mrs. ANNIE LAWSON, 126 Lippitt St., Providence, R. I.

Danger Signals to Women are what one physician called backache, headache, nervousness, and the blues. In many cases they are symptoms of some female derangement or an inflammatory, ulcerative condition, which may be overcome by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of American women willingly testify to its virtue.
