Local and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Clothier of Tryon arrived in this city Wednesday for a short visit on business and pleasure.

Andrew Weinberger, of Omaha, arrived in the city this week for a visit of two weeks with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rodden returned this week from Alliance where they spent some time visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Mary Harms and children of the Denmark vicinity arrived in this city Wednesday to visit friends and transact business.

Miss Hilda Anderson has accepted a position in the office of Dr. Geo. B. Dent in the new building and loan building.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Klien returned this week from Havannah, Neb., where they spent a few days visiting their daughter, Mrs. D. O. Teel.

Prof. Ellis Rail, one of the instructors in the Curtis agriculture school, was in the city this week, and visited Supt. W. W. Snyder at the state farm.

For Rent—Five room house on East Fifth street, inquire at Ideal bakery.

In our last issue it was stated that no vice president was elected to the Lutheran Church Building Association, Charles Lierk was elected to that position.

Charles Thomas, of the Dickens vicinity, was in the city Tuesday evening and Wednesday to meet the McCook boosters and he drove back with them Wednesday morning.

Charles Liston, of the Wallace vicinity, was in the city Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning visiting friends. He came over to meet the McCook boosters and drove back with them Wednesday morning.

Henry Frois living southwest of Hershay transacted business in town Wednesday. He has 220 acres of wheat which he thinks will average at least twenty bushels per acre, and 300 acres of corn that is looking fine.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Williams of Curtis were visiting friends in the city the first of the week. Mr. Williams is superintendent of the agricultural school at Curtis, so spent some time at the state experimental sub-station.

For Rent—Six room house with basement. Phone Red 540.

John Corbett, of Wallace, who was in town Wednesday, says crops in his section of the county are fine. The dry weather the early part of June effected fall wheat to some extent, yet the yield promises to be very fair. Corn is growing very rapidly.

Engineer Goldsmith, of Lincoln, arrived in the city this week and began work on the new dairy barn at the state farm. He is connected with the state department and will have charge of the construction of the new barn. The work of building the barn will be rushed as much as possible so that it will be completed by fall.

Six bachelor girl friends of The Tribune who earn salaries ranging from $700 to $1250 per year and have money in bank, are willing to receive attention from matrimonially inclined men ranging in age from thirty-two to forty-five, whose income is not less than $1500 per year, who are not "mushy," and whose character will stand a fairly close inspection. Those qualified can apply personally to the editor.

J. B. Collins, of Washington, D. C., is in the city this week compiling data for the government department of commerce on the wealth, debt and taxation of the nation. Statistics will be compiled in all states for the year 1913 and Mr. Collins has the entire state of Nebraska and part of Kansas. It requires about a week to work a town the size of North Platte and he does his work through the city treasurer and the county treasurer. Perhaps the greatest pride of Lincoln county is that the statement regarding the debt of the county was left blank as there is none.

Notice

For the accommodation of patients in and out of the city, I have opened a hospital for the treatment of medical, surgical and confinement cases. This hospital will be known as the "Nurse Brown Memorial".

Obituary

John Staley was born in Clay Co., Indiana, Nov. 5th, 1851; when he resided with his parents till he moved to Iowa and was married to Miss Anna Sawdon Mar. 22, 1870. To them were born three children, Estella, Rosetta and Hobert.

They moved to Nebraska in 1884 and have lived in Perkins and Lincoln counties till his death June 18, 1914. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and three children.

Mr. Staley passed away Thursday morning at 5:30 June 18th, and was buried Friday afternoon in the Dickens cemetery. Mr. Staley was a man of few vices and without any known enemies. His funeral was the largest ever held in Dickens, some forty conveyances carrying over two hundred people. Mr. Staley was sick four months and three weeks so that death was a blessing and not challenged by him.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for their kindness during the sickness of our dear father and husband, Mrs. Anna Staley, Mrs. Rosetta Conner and Robert Staley.

McCook Boosters Are Entertained

The McCook Boosters and the famous McCook band visited the city Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning on their automobile booster trip through this section of the state and expressed themselves well pleased with their trip. The trip was successful in every respect intended and was characterized by few mishaps. At Maywood they were caught in a rain storm and were compelled to remain there for some time, but the rain did not extend far and they were soon on good roads again. Only a few stops were made on account of trouble with their cars and they brought a repair car along to take care of all such mishaps. Twenty-nine autos were in the bunch and they brought 107 boosters.

The boosters arrived here about 9:30 from Maywood where they were met by cars from the Handy-O-Jays and the Homan garages and a number of boosters from this city. They drove into the city in double ranks following the North Platte pilot cars up Locust street to Front and over to Dewey, and they stopped at the corner of Fifth and Dewey streets and the band gave a selection.

After this they went to supper and at 8:30 they assembled at the courthouse park and their band under the direction of J. L. Sutton gave a fine concert of about an hour's duration. The band is considered the best in the state and the general opinion of North Platte people is that they have the best that has ever visited the city.

After the band concert the Chamber of Commerce and the Elks lodge entertained the boosters at the Elks home. There the band played a selection and musical selections were also given by a local mixed quartette, a duet, and a solo by Paul Harrington which were much enjoyed. Mayor E. H. Evans gave the address of welcome on behalf of the city and the Elks lodge, and this was responded to by Senator J. F. Corleal of McCook. President E. F. Seeberger of the Chamber of Commerce was master of ceremonies. This was followed by speeches by Mr. Austin of McCook and Mr. Seeberger. The reception was held in the big hall of the Elks home and in the south room there was a punch bowl presided over by Harold Langford. Cigars were also placed where everyone could help himself. Following the reception all retired to the lower rooms where refreshments were served and the evening was spent in getting acquainted and having a jolly good time. They remained there until the wee sma' hours when all retired to await the morning festivities.

Wednesday morning the boosters assembled at the corner of Front and Dewey streets to get ready for their return trip. The band played a few numbers and the boosters then started on their return trip. A number from here accompanied them part way. From here they went to the state experimental farm for a tour of inspection. They then went to Dickens where they stopped for a short time and from there to Liston's lake for a picnic dinner.

The McCook boosters are sure a fine bunch of fellows and their visit here was enjoyed by the local people. They brought with them for advertising, besides their band, considerable literature and their cars were decorated with banners announcing the different business firms of that city. They extended a very hearty invitation to the North Platte boosters to visit their city in the near future.
