The Westinghouse Electric Fan

The house that is equipped with Westinghouse Electric Fans is used much more during the summer season than the house that is not. The room or porch that would otherwise be abandoned for the yard or park becomes, through the agency of the Westinghouse Fan, a comfortable place to spend the evening, reading, swinging or playing bridge.

The Westinghouse Electric Fan is so light a child can carry it. Its breeze can therefore be enjoyed first in one room and then in another, beginning with the dining room in the morning and ending in the bedroom at night.
