GUERNSEY TUNNEL

GETTING READY FOR THE BURLINGTON LINE UP THE NORTH PLATTE VALLEY

Bridgeport Paper Says Nothing Short of a Financial Panic Can Prevent the Early Building of the New Line.

The last issue of the Bridgeport News-Blade contained the following article:

"Every man and every team that can be crowded into the big tunnel work west of Guernsey is being rushed to the scene of activity and carload after carload of outfits and equipment are being shipped to that point. The Burlington is using every effort to push that work to completion at the earliest possible date.

Prominent railroad men, who are in position to know what they are talking about, have given out the statement within the past few days that as soon as the harvest season is over and labor becomes plentiful, work on the Bridgeport Kearney line will be commenced, and others who have interests here and are waiting for the first steps to be taken in the building of the new line to launch other enterprises, have written that they have been given the same assurance.

In fact it is believed that nothing less than a financial panic will stand in the way of filling in the gap between Bridgeport and Kearney this year."

Presence of Mind Averts Fire.

What might have proven a costly fire in the Mrs. G. T. Field residence was averted Tuesday morning by the presence of mind of Mrs. Field. A woman doing work around the house allowed the gasoline stove, situated in a rear enclosed porch, to overflow the fluid running on the floor, and the woman not noticing the overflow attempted to light the stove. The gasoline on the floor ignited, filling the room with flame. Mrs. Field, who was up stairs, was summoned and as she passed through the kitchen had the presence of mind to seize a sack of flour, the contents of which she scattered on the flames, with the result that they were quickly extinguished. The wood-work of the room was badly scorched.

Expert to Come Here

As a result of Congressman Kin-kaid's conference with Secretary Lane, Supervisor O'Donnell, of Denver, will come here and investigate water conditions in the North Platte river. Ten irrigation companies have made application for water under the Pathfinder dam, but the authorities insist that the companies pay thirty cents per acre foot. It is not clear to the layman why the government should make a charge for water which certainly belongs to the people of Nebraska—if there is such a thing as proprietary interest in water.

Theodore Brees of this city left Wednesday morning for Ulmer, Texas, where he has purchased a fine tract of timber land and will now proceed to make the chips fly.
