JOHN FAYE, JR., IS SENT TO INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

John Faye, Jr., the twelve year old son of John Faye, of this city, was sentenced to the state industrial school at Kearney yesterday morning and taken to that institution.

On April 3rd last the boy was brought before the county court on complaint of a number of residents of this city upon the charge that he was a neglected and delinquent child and after hearing the evidence the court advised that the allegations were proven and that the boy was a fit subject for care by the state or some competent guardian and he was given into the custody of his uncle, H. A. Faye, residing northwest of the city.

The boy remained with his uncle for some time but finally became dissatisfied and one day he ran away with a horse and buggy, the property of W. A. and H. A. Faye. He was apprehended here and a warrant was taken out for his arrest on the charge of horse stealing. At the trial the allegations were proven and after deliberation of the case the court sentenced him to the state industrial school until he shall have maintained his majority, which will be May 20, 1923.

"Nearly Married."

Hello, all you Benedicts! Have you ever had a second honeymoon with your first wife? It's an exciting experience and leads to all sorts of unusual situations. Leastwise it does in "Nearly Married", Edgar Selwyn's farce in three acts which will be presented at the Keith Thursday October 1st.

Running away with your first wife! Sounds exciting, doesn't it? Well, it is around an episode like this in that Selwyn has constructed a most interesting play. To tell you the truth about the whole story would put you on guard and spoil the pleasure of anticipation; anticipation all the more keen because of the reputation of its author as a writer of smart comedies that are filled to the brim with laughable situations and smart humor.

If you have ever been nearly married; if you have ever reached that point in the matrimonial path close to the ritual, where the parson or the magistrate is about to ask if you will take, for better or worse, what you have brought with you, and just as you are going to give the answer in the affirmative (it's always in the affirmative,) something happened that changed the program and made you, so to speak, go up for an altitude record, you will enjoy Mr. Selwyn's latest pen effort.

"Nearly Married" does not pretend to point a moral or picture the snares of unrighteous deportment. On the contrary, the author has utilized a "happennance" in the lives of a young married couple who have come to the parting of the ways, surrounded them with unusual situations, finally reuniting them happily. The way he does it makes for oodles of laughter, and Heaven be praised, Clean Laughter!

Seats for "Nearly Married" will go on sale at the box office Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Wooltex guarantee means that the good looks will last in every Wooltex coat or suit

Copyright 1914 The H. Black Co.

NO. 603—The Windshield is a Wooltex creation of unusually pleasing lines, in a smart, double-breasted effect, when worn closed in rough weather, but changing to an easy rever style, when worn open on pleasant days. Trimmed in back with shirred, self-covered buttons, harmonizing prettily with the new flaring, velvet collar. Price $30.00.

Wooltex garments are made with the expert care which not only provides beauty of fabric and style when the garment is new, but protects the purchaser during two seasons of wear.

The colors are fast, the fabrics will not shrink, and the beautiful lines, which are seen when the garments are tried on, will last indefinitely, because these lines are tailored into every seam.

Wooltex beauty is not pressed in with a hot iron. It is worked in by careful stitching by expert tailors; and though the garments may muss with wear, it comes out with the same beauty and graceful character when the wrinkles are pressed out.

This is why each season more and more women are demanding Wooltex.

The "Bell Company"

There is no one "Bell Company," but the Bell System is made up of several operating companies, each giving service within a definite territory, and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which operates long distance lines connecting the various local companies.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company assists in financing the whole Bell System, and aids and directs in the introduction and development of ideas and systematic plans and inventions, so that the most satisfactory equipment and practices may be made uniform throughout the country.

The Bell policy has made possible one method, one system and nation-wide transmission, with the result that Bell service has become the standard of the world.
