The Photo Drama of Creation.

Tuesday's issue of The Tribune gave a short notice of this world-famous series of moving pictures and lectures which opens at the Keith theatre Sunday night at 8 o'clock.

No doubt but Bible students, Sunday school teachers, public school teachers, ministers, priests and all lovers of God's word will spare no pains to see all these four sets of beautiful and instructive pictures, Sunday night part one will portray leading events of creation up to the flood both from a scientific and a theological standpoint. Many people are now asking the question: How do Bible students account by scripture that the flood pictured conditions which would exist at this time of the world? Some of the answers to this question will be strikingly illustrated on the canvass.

This drama will very touchingly teach God's wonderful hope of all mankind as shown in the pictures and accompanying the lecture of the Shunamite boy. How and why God hardened Pharaoh's heart. What true great lessons for us is so clearly depicted on the canvass in the illustration of Egyptian bondage Israelites' freedom. Daniel's interpretation of the king's dream in its four kingdoms and how the effect of our times is vividly portrayed. Many of the beneficent daily acts of Jesus and the lessons intended for us is impressed not only in our minds but remain in many hearts. Thousands at a time have been bathed in tears that soften the heart when witnessing the scenes of our dear Savior's earthly existence.

While all Europe is drenched in its own blood and thousands of broken-hearted women and desolate children sit in ruined homes, how kind of God to us that we can in comfort and without cost see the reason for all this given to us through his pictured word on the canvass.
