THREE LOCAL PEOPLE HONORED BY GRAND LODGE

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. which was held this week at Grand Island three residents of this city were given grand lodge offices. This is the first time in the history of the lodge in this state that more than one resident of a city have been given offices in the grand lodge at the same time.

The residents of this city who were elected are W. V. Hoagland, Grand Warden, Mrs. W. V. Hoagland, Grand Warden of the Rebekah state assembly and J. Guy Swope, Grand Guardian. This is the first time known in the history of the order that a man and wife had been elected to the same office in the two branches of the order.

J. E. Evans of this city was appointed district deputy grand master for this district and his duties will be to install the officers. Mr. Swope was also appointed Grand Patriarch of the encampment.

Mrs. J. S. Hoagland and E. S. Davis were especially honored at this meeting. Mrs. Hoagland received the Grand Decoration of Chivalry and was presented with a diamond brooch. This honor is only conferred after twenty-five years of faithful work in the order. Mr. Davis received the grand decoration of Chivalry and was presented with a beautiful diamond pendant brooch. This honor is only conferred after they have held the highest office in the state. Mr. Davis was department commander or brigadier general two years ago.

At the meeting in Grand Island there were 1842 delegates and about six hundred past delegates. The halls were crowded. The meeting will go to Omaha next year. Some of the local delegates returned last evening while others went to York to spend a few days at another meeting.

COMMITTEE IS CANVASING FOR SEVEN-DAY CHAUTAUQUE

J. R. Teagarden, representing the Redpath-Horner Chautauqua Lyceum bureau of Kansas City, arrived in the city Tuesday afternoon and is spending the week here with the local committee making plans for a Chautauqua next year. A meeting of the committee was called for Tuesday evening and one for Wednesday evening to talk over the plans of a Chautauqua for next summer.

Mr. Teagarden is presenting two different propositions, one for a five-day program similar to the one held last June and the other a seven-day proposition such as was held at Cozad and Lexington. The committee has been working for several days to ascertain if there is enough Chautauqua spirit to warrant putting on a seven-day program. It will be much more expensive, but will of course bring much better talent than the five-day course.

Mr. Teagarden has been over the city conversing with many people and he thinks there is much spirit in favor of the better course. He presented the matter to the committee Wednesday evening and they began yesterday a canvas to get the required number of names on the contract to assure the program.

Many of this city have expressed a preference for an independent course of a different nature than any that has previously been held. Something of the nature of a general entertainment that would have a program only in the evening. In this the afternoon would be given over to tennis, baseball and other sports and the course would last ten days. This is strongly approved by many and will probably be tried out unless the Redpath-Horner course is taken up.

Hunt Begins Today.

The hunt between the two organized teams of the Yeoman lodge opens today and will continue each day until next Monday evening. Several auto loads of hunters left early this morning for the country and a number are planning on going out tomorrow. Sunday will of course be a big day, and it is probable that at least a hundred men will be in the field after chickens, ducks and other wild fowl.

Timely assistance from Hershey people kept the fire from doing great damage and finally extinguished it.

Yesterday morning General Manager Chas. Ware, of the U. P., stopped off for a short consultation with F. H. Johnson, secretary of the Hershey Commercial Club relative to the needed improvements for this station. A sheiter had been asked for on the south side of the tracks for east bound passengers owing to the crowded conditions in the present waiting room at times. Mr. Ware promised us to enlarge the present depot and make two waiting rooms also to make needed repairs in place of building the sheiter, which seems perfectly satisfactory. He stated that their engineer would be sent up to look over the property immediately. The necessity of more house track was called to his attention and this also will be looked into.

Sutherland News

Col. James Laughlin departed Tuesday morning for Winton, Cal., where he expects to look after real estate matters and possibly spend the winter.

The local Presbyterians have secured a resident pastor in the person of Rev. Jack, who with his family is to arrive from Madison this week.

Mr. Thomas was very fortunate last week in not having a serious accident while cleaning a pair of pantaloons. The gasoline ignited, and only by quick action were they kicked into the street where they were completely destroyed.

J. R. Baldwin is hauling out materials for the construction of an eight-room house on his farm on the Birdwood creek. He has 500 acres of well cated and productive land, and this year grew about three thousand bushels of corn as well as the usual amount of hogs, cattle and other things and he evidences an intention to be up to date in the way of farm improvements.

E. R. Spaulding, secretary of the last Fourth of July celebration committee, states that there are approximately $100 in outstanding accounts yet remain unpaid. In other words the expenses in connection with giving the celebration have by about this amount exceeded the amounts taken in on concessions and subscriptions. One of the unpaid accounts is for the fireworks furnished by a local business man, and there are several others. After furnishing entertainment and attractions during the summer months, the local baseball team has been trying to rake enough in the way of funds to get square with the world.
