An Appeal to Men

Mr. Married Man can not your wife vote as intelligently as you, is she not as patriotic, is not her influence for morality greater than yours, has she not assisted you in earning whatever property you possess and is therefore a part owner in it, is she not just as public spirited as you, and is she not qualified in every particular to vote for the best interests of the governed, of which she is one? Gallantry to your wife, if nothing else, should actuate you to vote to give her the same suffrage privilege that you enjoy. The Tribune appeals to the men of Lincoln county to be progressive, to be fair, to accord to woman that to which she is

The attention of every taxpayer is called to the real meaning of Proposed Constitutional Amendment Number One, as it is designated on the official ballot. It relates to taxation and is highly important. It authorizes a radical change in the method of taxation, almost revolutionary in its scope. It authorizes the legislature to do its own sweet will in levying assessments against all classes of property, and in exempting property from taxation. It was fathered by the single tax contingent which, as everybody knows, advocates the abolition of tax on personal property, and would place the whole burden upon the land owners.

P. R. Halligan, republican candidate for county attorney, if elected will be free from entangling alliances with the Union Pacific or other corporations; free to prosecute cases in which the county is interested without "stepping on somebody's toes." Since graduating from the university law school Mr. Halligan has been associated with Wilcox & Halligan, a law firm with a reputation in Nebraska, and in this aslegal training second to none. He is therefore well equipped to prosecute or defend the county's interests and to give the county officials the proper legal advice when so solicited. The voters who cast their ballots for Mr. Halligan will," we opine, never have cause to regret their action.

Elsewhere Major Lester Walker. candidate for police magistrate for North Platte, addresses the voters of North Platte on his candidacy. Major Walker is one of the ploneer residents of Lincoln county, having lived here for more than forty years. He is an old soldier, having seen service through out the civil war, and following this was an officer in the Fifth cav fighting regiments in the trans-Missouri country. In asking the voters of Lincoln county for their support for re-election to the office of County Surveyor I point to my record for the past three years as being sufficient reason why I should merit a second term. The records of this office show something of the volume of work that has been done together with the completeness with which it has been acomplished sociation has had the advantage of a and the completeness of the records. I am making a clean campaign, solely on my merits as a public officlal, and respectfully solicit the support of those who believe I am entitled to re-election.
