

THE DAY'S WAR NEWS

The German war machine has battered its way into the Belgian town of Dixmude. The official French statement contains the admission that the allies were obliged to fall back from this point of vantage in the great battle for possession of the eastern shore of the British channel. As an offset, the French war office states that the allies' forces have advanced along the North Sea coast, pushing back the Germans and taking Lombaertzyde, a small Belgian town a few miles northeast of Newport.

Along the remainder of the battle line, says the French war office, there is no change, except for slight progress by the allies at a few points. The Berlin view of the situation, however, is optimistic. Comment is made there of the use of the expression "good advances" in the latest official German reports concerning the fighting in the west, being the first occasion on which such terms have been employed in this connection.

Paris is also hopeful as to the outcome in Belgium. Military critics there take the view that the Germans are faced with the imperative necessity of defeating the allies, in order that they may turn their attention to the menacing armies of Russia.

The German crown prince is reported to have been placed in supreme command of the German and Austrian forces in the east.

Petrograd contradicts the German claim to an important victory along the northern border, asserting that a brilliant success has been won there and that the Russians have begun an invasion of east Prussia. On the southern end of the line Cossacks are approaching Cracow, while the investment of Przemysl, from which the Russians were swept back several weeks ago, is said to have been completed for a second time.

Those Two Girls
(Contributed)

The ladies of North Platte would like to say a word in reply to the article that appeared in the Telegraph Saturday evening in regards to the two girls who Judge Grant took to his home. We admit the Judge has a big heart and this is not the only good deed he has done; we would like, however, to say if these girls walked the streets without breakfast, dinner or supper, it was their own fault. Mrs. Lemon gave them money and their meals as long as they would accept them; Mrs. Peterson kept them nine nights without pay and would have kept them longer if they would have performed the work offered them. Mrs. J. Q. Wilcox called on them, paid $2.50 for their grip that was held for their room rent, and offered to provide for all their needs till they could secure work; Miss Kramph and other ladies called on them and offered them room and board. This is only a part of what was done for these two girls who came here under a false name.

Shop Time Reduced.

Effective yesterday the working time of the Union Pacific shops was reduced to forty hours per week—five days of eight hours. The time reduction prevails in all the shops on the system, so there is no discrimination at North Platte. The fall rush of traffic is about over, the motive power is reported to be in good shape for the winter and there is therefore a slackness of work in all the shops.

It was reported that a ten per cent reduction in the working force would be made, but probably as the hours have been shortened the reduction will not be effective.
