160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

WAITING FOR YOU

Yes, waiting for every farmer or farmer's son — any industrious American who is anxious to establish for himself a happy home and prosperity. Canada's hearty invitation this year is more attractive than ever. Wheat is higher but her farm land just as cheap and in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta

160 Acre Homesteads are Actually Free to Settlers and Other Land at From $15 to $20 per Acre

The people of European countries as well as the American continent must be fed — thus an even greater demand for Canadian Wheat will keep up the price. Any farmer who can buy land at $15.00 to $30.00 per acre — get a dollar for wheat and raise 20 to 45 bushels to the acre is bound to make money — that's what you can expect in Western Canada. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed Farming is fully as profitable an industry as grain raising. The excellent grasses, full of nutrition, are the only food required either for beef or dairy purposes. Good schools, markets convenient, climate excellent.

Military service is not compulsory in Canada but there is an unusual demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for service in the war. Write for literature and particulars as to reduced railway rates to Superintendent Immigration, Ottawa, Canada; or to

An Exhortation to Steadfastness

By REV. L. W. GOSNELL
Assistant to the Dean, Moody Bible Institute
Chicago

TEXT—Therefore, my brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.—Philippians 4:1

These words were written by Paul when a prisoner at Rome. He was a Jew, addressing Gentile Christians at Philippi. What an evidence of the change Christ has made that a Jew can write thus to a Gentile: "My brethren, dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown." Indeed, Paul was imprisoned as a result of his service to Gentiles.

Put That Pain to Use

The network of nerves in your body, like the network of wires in a burglar alarm system, gives quick warning when anything is going wrong inside. Looking at it in this way a pain is a useful alarm. Now, kidney weakness is a dangerous thing—a condition not to be neglected—and it is wise to know and pay attention to the early alarm signals of sick kidneys.

Backache is a common warning of congestion or inflammation in the kidneys. It may be dull, nagging pain, or a sharp twinge when stooping or lifting. There are likely to be disorders of urination, dizziness, headaches, and drowsy, dispondent, tired feelings.

It is very hard to strengthen weak kidneys at first, but neglect invites rheumatic or neuralgic attacks, gravel, dropsy, and fatal Bright's disease.

As a special medicine for weak kidneys Doan's Kidney Pills have been used for years all over the civilized world, and surely are considered reliable. The patient can always help the medicine immensely, however, by dieting lightly, using little or no liquor, tea or coffee, keeping regular hours and drinking lots of pure water.

"I can hardly straighten up."

As to Doan's Kidney Pills, read the following enthusiastic endorsement by one who has tested them.

IN A BAD WAY

Physician Predicted More Serious Results

M. Campbell, Soldiers' and Sailors' Home, Burdett, Neb., says: "I honestly believe that Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life. I had kidney ailments for years and none of the remedies I tried gave me more than slight relief. I couldn't turn over in bed without help and the least move brought on awful pains through my back. The kidney secretions were unnatural and burned terribly in passage. Physicians said the trouble would soon develop into Bright's disease. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did. I got the first relief I had ever had and as I continued using Doan's Kidney Pills the trouble gradually disappeared. My kidneys have been in good working order ever since and I am certainly grateful for the cure. Another of my family had kidney trouble and in this case, too, Doan's Kidney Pills made a cure. There is nothing equal to them in relieving kidney disorders."

An Appeal.

"We stand fast in the Lord." These words imply several things.

(1) They had enemies; otherwise they had not needed an exhortation to steadfastness. Many seem unaware that we wrestle "against principalities and powers in the heavenly places." Even modern spiritualism, so far as it is not fraudulent, suggests a great, shuddering world of evil spirits about us. While we slumber they restlessly oppose us, and we need to take the whole armor of God if we would stand. How befitting this appeal in a day when many are slipping from their moorings of faith in the Word of God.

(2) They would need to progress if they were to stand fast. We gather this from the use of the word "so." This seems to send us back to the previous chapter where we see Paul, forgetting the things behind, pressing toward the mark for the prize: "so," we are to stand fast. In other words, we may not stand still if we are to stand fast; as in riding a bicycle, the only way to stand is to keep moving.

(3) They had a secure position; they were to stand fast "in the Lord." Reader, are you not in the church merely, but "in the Lord"? Maintaining our position there, we are secure. Charles Simeon, the Cambridge scholar and saint, exerted a marvelous influence in his day. In the early hours of the morning, he would be heard walking in his study or on the roof above it, and they knew he was having communion with God. Maintaining thus our position "in the Lord," we shall be steadfast.

The Argument.

Our text begins with "therefore." This leads us back to the verses preceding, and we find in them high encouragement to steadfastness.

(1) "Our conversation (citizenship, R. V.) is in heaven." Philippi was a Roman colony, and many of its inhabitants were citizens of Rome. This honor was highly appreciated, and they would have endured much for sake of it. To have our names in the Lamb's book, in the city of God, is worth any price which steadfastness may cost us.

(2) "From whence also we look for the Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ." The word "look" indicates expectancy, like a garrison looking out for re-enforcements or a mother watching for her boy. Such an attitude toward the coming of the Savior was common in apostolic days, but is not so now. Perhaps this is partly explained by the fact that many think much of Christ coming as a judge and they are filled with terror. But the emphasis here is quite otherwise: we look for "the Savior, the Lord Jesus Christ," and should not Christians desire his appearing? There have been star-gazers who neglected practical duties, but they are no more unscriptural than those who attend to other duties, but do not look for the Lord. "He gave to every man his work and commanded the porter to watch;" working and watching make the full program. Since Christ is coming we should stand fast.

(3) "Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body?" When Archbishop Whately was dying his chaplain read this passage to him: "Stop," said the archbishop, "not 'vile' body, but 'body of humiliation.'" Our bodies are not vile, but they do humble us. The transfiguration and the 40 days after the resurrection hint the glory that awaits us. Surely, we should stand fast!

(4) "He is able even to subdue all things unto himself." Voices shall be heard at least saying, "Alleluja; for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth." With such a helper we need not surrender. "So stand fast in the Lord."

"Hold the fort, for I am coming." Jesus signals still; Wave the answer back to heaven. "By thy grace we will!"

DEFENDS POPULAR REMEDIES

Speaker Says Newspapers Should Investigate Merits of Medicines Before Barring Advertisements.

That an organized attempt has been made to blacken the reputation of the popular family remedies of this country, and to mislead the newspaper publishers into rejecting the advertising of such medicines, was the charge made by Carl J. Ballett, of Buffalo, N. Y., at the convention of the Advertising Affiliation at Detroit.

Mr. Ballett is a director of the Proprietary Association of America, which includes in its membership two hundred firms which make the popular prepared medicines of America.

Mr. Ballett pointed out that it is the duty of the newspaper publisher to refuse the advertising of any fake or fraudulent medicine, just as it is his duty to refuse any fake or fraudulent advertising, but it is not right to shut down on all medical advertising because there have been some fakers, any more than it would be right to refuse to publish all department store advertising because certain stores have made a practice of lying about bargain sales.

Disease and death are mysteries. People who are perfectly well are skeptical. They laugh at the time-worn patent medicine joke, just as they laugh again and again over the many variations of the operation joke—"The operation was a success but the patient died." This so-called humor has perhaps hurt the medicine business with well people, but when the litherto healthy man feels a severe pain or illness, he immediately seeks medicine, and will bless the cure whether it be at the hands of a regular doctor, a homeopath, an osteopath, a Christian Scientist or patent medicine. There is nothing more deadly than disease; nothing more honorable than to cure it.

Mr. Ballett refuted the idea sought to be spread about that patent medicines are unpopular by showing that from 1900 to 1912 the amount of prepared medicines consumed in America increased from $100,000,000 to $160,000,000 annually. He showed that, although the American Medical Association is trying as an organization to exterminate so-called patent medicines, the family doctor, individually, is not fighting them but prescribing them. He estimated that 40% of the prescriptions written by doctors today include proprietary medicines.

The writings of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, he said, have also aimed to destroy confidence in proprietary medicines; but that Dr. Wiley's ideas are not infallible is shown by cases where his analyses were entirely wrong. Mr. Ballett mentioned a case where, with all the power of the Government, he fought a preparation as being dangerous to health, and was ingloriously walloped.

There has been spread the idea that a clever faker can mix a few useless ingredients and, by smart advertising, sell tons of it and win sudden wealth; whereas, as a matter of fact, the medicine business is notoriously difficult, and, where there has been one success at it, there have been a hundred failures. Any medicine which has no merit cannot live, because persons who are duped into buying it once will not buy it again, and the profit from advertising a medicine can only come from repeat sales to the same, satisfied people. Therefore, any medicine which has been on the market for a number of years, and is still advertised, must have merit behind it to account for its success.

In conclusion Mr. Ballett declared that no newspaper is doing justice to its readers in the matter of medical or other advertising, unless it investigates, not only the wording of the advertisement offered for publication, but the merits of the article advertised. He pointed out that the few newspapers who have been devoted to the policy of barring out medical advertising have adopted this general policy, rather than to form an investigation bureau of this kind which could, in a constructive and useful effort, investigate and decide what is a good product and what is a fraud. In not only the medicine business, but in every other business which advertises its wares to the public.

Weak Heart

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, the heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alterative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is
