

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The orchestra from the Pat theatre leaves this evening for Brady where they will furnish music for a dance.

The Methodist aid society will give a fair and supper at Masonic hall December 17th. Just the place to get your Christmas presents.

August Kostman who lives north-east of Brady took twenty-two coyote scalps to North Platte last Saturday. He seems to have had pretty good luck along that line.—Brady Vindicator.

Miss Zita Waurlemont of Cheyenne is expected to arrive in the city next week to visit for some time at the Hubbard home. She will also stay over for Thanksgiving and take in the football game.

E. H. Evans, administrator of the Patrick Ruddy estate, will offer at public auction at the court house next Wednesday at two o'clock p. m., the Ruddy addition lying south of the new round house, comprising twenty-four lots. Bids will be received for any part or the whole.

G. F. Price states that his little field of corn in the southeast part of town is husking out above seventy bushels to the acre. It was irrigated four times from a power pump. Somehow it looks as though pump irrigation pays when the conditions are right.—Sutherland Free Lance.

Services will be held Sunday morning at the Episcopal church. The work is progressing nicely and is far enough along that the building can be used. The basement is almost enclosed and as soon as it is finished the work will be rushed on to completion.

Arrangements were made last evening by Steward Smith for another billiard tournament at the Elks' Home. A new system will be tried out. Each brace of opponents will be allowed thirty minutes in which to play and are allowed all the billiards they can make in that time. The captains for the next tournament are Davy Day and Harry Fishman.

Justin McCarthy, of Ames, Iowa, arrived in the city yesterday to visit for some time with his father-in-law, Mack Mason, and family. Mr. McCarthy was here about eight years ago and was head engineer in charge of the construction of the railroad bridge east of the city. While here he married a North Platte girl. Mrs. McCarthy has been here for the past two weeks visiting her parents.

E. T. TRAMP & SON.

E returned from Chickamauga Park. Nation enlisted in the regular army and saw service in the Philippines, and returning from the Islands, was for a year or more stationed on the Mexican border, from whence he has but lately returned.

Flour for the Belgians.

A collection was taken at the Elks' Home last evening for the purpose of assisting in the charitable movement of sending flour to the war stricken and destitute people of Belgium. The amount contributed was thirty-seven dollars, and this amount will no doubt be largely increased by contributions from Elks who were not present last evening.

This movement to assist the Belgians is nation wide. The flouring mills furnish the flour at cost, the export grade costing 95 cents a sack, the railroad haul the donations free to the seaboard and vessels transport it across the Atlantic without charge. At Lexington this week 300 sacks were contributed. Certainly the people of North Platte should respond as liberally.

The Lexington Mill & Elevator Co. of Lexington, Nebraska, which is operating the local mill, is giving one hundred sacks of flour. They have also agreed to furnish flour for shipment at ninety-five cents a sack. A sack of this flour will sustain a Belgian for three months. One dollar will pay for a sack and leave five cents to begin paying for another sack. The civic department of the Twentieth Century club has undertaken the work of gathering contributions for this very worthy cause. Subscription papers have been placed in the First National bank, the Platte Valley State bank and the McDonald State bank to make it convenient for every one who desires to subscribe to it. The Belgians are starving and must have food. No matter where one's sympathies may lie in regard to the war it is a fact that the Belgians are suffering terrible hardships through no fault of theirs. This is an opportunity to give concrete expression to our feelings concerning the brotherhood of man. All contributions of whatever size will be welcomed but they must be made speedily because the need is urgent.

Steward Smith's Supper Superb.
The supper served last evening as a finale to the Elks' billiard tournament recently completed was one that called forth complimentary remarks from every participant. Plates were laid for eighty-four and nearly every chair was occupied. Steward Smith, who supervised the preparing and serving of the meal, is certainly a past master and each succeeding supper is better than the preceding one. The menu last night appealed to every one, the two concluding courses being baked apples and mince pie. As a creator of a closer friendship between the participants these suppers are wonderfully successful.
