Shoots at Him Four Times
The Tryon Graphic dated yesterday says: Fred Siegeling of the Mayflower neighborhood was in the city yesterday and swore to an information charging Mrs. Saloma Jones with shooting at him with intent to kill. Mr. Siegeling holds a note and mortgage past due, against Absalom A. Lusk, father of Mrs. Jones, and was at his place to see if Mr. Lusk would pay. They had some hot words and Lusk dared Siegeling to get off his horse. Mrs. Jones went into the house and got a revolver and ordered Siegeling off the place and at the same time commenced shooting at him. Fred says she fired at him four or five times when he was leaving, one bullet hitting the horse in the right hip and inflicting a wound so serious that he could not ride him and had to hire one of his neighbors to bring him in. County Judge Stack issued the warrant and at the time of going to press the sheriff had gone to serve it.

Fog Signals.
All the up to date light stations possess fog signals for warning the mariner of the presence of rocks and other dangers in foggy weather. The larger ones are so powerful that their blasts can be heard twenty-five to thirty miles out at sea. Most of them are worked by compressed air, a gas engine of perhaps twenty or twenty-five horsepower being brought into requisition for this purpose. The siren is blown periodically every seventy, eighty or ninety seconds or so, the actual blast lasting perhaps about two or three seconds. It means that while the siren is running, in the case of the larger apparatus, something like 500 horsepower is being expended in the production of sound.—Scientific American.

The Orator Scored.
"Who is there," cried the impassioned orator, "who will lift a voice against the truth of my statement?"
Just then a donkey on the outskirts of the crowd gave vent to one of the piercing "hee-haws" of the tribe.

The laugh was on the orator for a moment; but, assuming an air of triumph, he lifted his voice above the din to say, "I knew nobody but an ass would try it."—London Globe.

One on the Voice.
Lecturer—Ladies and gentlemen, we shall consider this evening the fundamental principles of architecture. The Etruscans—A Wandering Voice—How d'ye build a dog house? Lecturer (solemnly)—Are you going to move?—Judge.

No Risk.
"I wonder if the Babbleys run any risk of ostracism if they go to that fashionable resort?"
"Oh, no; they've all been vaccinated."—Baltimore American.

Indescribable.
"Love is an emotion which may be felt but cannot be adequately described," observed the sage.
"So is seasickness," replied the fool.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Chronic Grouch.
"Have you got dyspepsia?"
"No."
"Then what's the use of acting all the time like you had?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.
