

The Penalty of Eye Neglect

HERE is always a penalty attached where a law of nature has been disobeyed or disregarded. There is no escape. Therefore, if you neglect "Nature's warnings and signals" as shown by symptoms of eye strain be prepared to pay your "pound of flesh."

There are more bodily ailments caused by eye strain and eye defects than most people imagine. Their close association with the brain and the nervous system gives the eyes a marked influence over every part of the body.

Eye strain and its discomforting physical defects can be cured by correctly fitted glasses which restore to each eye-ball its proper length and curvature.

If you have an indication of eye strain or eye defect have a thorough and careful examination made, and if "glasses" is the verdict, put them on cheerfully, realizing that by so doing you are far better equipped to fight life's battles—with the odds in your favor.

LARSON BROS., Mgrs.

Frances Dolph Gets Watch.

In the fourth watch award made Saturday in connection with the pony contest, Frances Dolph was the lucky contestant, she having made a greater gain than any others who had not previously received a watch. The five dollars offered as a special prize to the one depositing the most votes at the Davis garage was won by Jimmie Muller.

The contestants are now on the last month of the contest, February 18th being the closing day.

The remaining days will undoubtedly be strenuous ones for the contestants, and as no contestant knows the standing of the other there is only one plan to pursue and that is to keep everlastingly at it.

Thousands of votes are issued by the pony vote stores that are never cast because the contestants don't happen to see or solicit the customer who receives or is entitled to the votes. Don't let a vote get away from you, for at the close you may lose out by the lack of only a dozen votes.

District Court Opened Yesterday

Judge H. M. Grimes formally opened the extra January term of the district court yesterday morning and the day was spent with the arguing of motions and other routine matters.

A few of the cases were dismissed yesterday morning owing to the fact that some of the attorneys were negligent about getting them before the court. The court announced that on account of the rush of business he could not waste time waiting on attorneys and that if they would not attend to their cases they would have to take the consequences.

Of the thirty-four cases scheduled to be tried before the jury there will probably be from fifteen to twenty tried at this term. The cases of the Union Pacific company may have to hold over to a later term.

A number of equity cases were taken up yesterday morning and the court announced that they would very likely have to lay over as this would be an extremely busy term. The equity term of court opens here on April 19th and these cases will probably have to wait until that time.

Return From Firemen's Meeting.

The local delegates to the Firemen's convention which was held last week at Nebraska City returned home Friday and gave a fine report of the meeting. The following men attended: F. S. Russell, Charles Sandall, Raymond Tighe, Fred Dick, W. J. Landgraf, Theodore Lowe, Jr., Adam Christ, Thomas Jeffers and J. R. Baskins.

At the meeting the proposition of insurance for the members of the state association was submitted and adopted. The adoption came after much discussion and they finally agreed upon an entrance fee of one dollar into the association and an assessment of one dollar per member for each death. For death the association pays $500. The association has now about six hundred members and this new measure will undoubtedly bring in many new ones which will probably cut down the death assessment.

Thomas Jeffers of this city was run for state treasurer of the association but as they arrived late he did not get into the race until it was well along. At that he was defeated by a margin of only a few votes out of the four hundred cast.

"Mutt and Jeff" at the Keith

Musical comedies will come and go, but "Mutt and Jeff" will live forever. That's what the Keith looked like last April with its capacity audience assembled to see Gus Hill's perennial success under the new title of "Mutt and Jeff in Panama." Why? Because Gus Hill is a real showman. If his play comes to the Keith twenty times it will be new every time, but the irrepressible cartoon characters of Bud Fisher's artistic brain, "Mutt & Jeff," it is all new this year "Mutt & Jeff in Mexico," story, music, scenery, costumes and fun galore, all of which is entirely new and original, therefore even if you saw "Mutt & Jeff" last year and the year before, still you have not seen it all. The new vehicle is better than ever and seems to fit them like their own funny skin. We do not exaggerate one whit when we say it eclipses any musical comedy that has ever visited these parts. The entertainment is a veritable innovation of the stage craftsman's art, and is not confined to the accepted version of musical comedy but reaches out to snatch a bit of melo-drama, a "chunk" of farce comedy, and a "slice" of extravaganza, and all that is good and clean and refined in travesty. You never will get better value in quantity or quality of entertainment than is being dealt out at the Keith Saturday. The inevitable bunch of chorus girls are there, pretty ones for sure, with, it seems, a hundred different pretty dresses, and a new bewitching dance or a song to each new dress. Matinee and evening performance.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Kennedy, chef at the Union Pacific hotel, sustained a bad laceration on his neck Sunday when he fell on a stick with which he was playing. It required several stitches to close the wound.

Ray Murray of Lincoln was visiting in the city over Sunday with his brother Frank of this city and other relatives and friends.

A Queer Phenomenon.

A peculiar phenomenon appeared in the skies Saturday night shortly before midnight in the shape of three moons. Those who first saw it decided at once to sign the pledge but upon calling the attention of several men whose reputation is above reproach they decided that they were not "seeing" things. There was a bright spot in the clouds on either side of the moon which appeared at about eleven-thirty and remained for over an hour. When they first appeared they were almost as bright as the moon which was under a film of cloud and they gradually grew more dim until they disappeared. Above in the heavens there was also a bright film of cloud that was of perfect crescent shape for about the same length of time.

Interrogated as to the prospects for building operations in the spring, a lumberman said Saturday that the outlook was rather promising. About a dozen lumber bills had been submitted to him for figures already, which coming so early indicated at least that many prospective builders.
