Ignorance Was Bliss.

A raid had been made on a negro gambling house and a dozen inmates arrested. In police court the next morning each of the accused was heard in turn. The last in the row was a large, scared-looking negro.

"Well," asked the judge, "what do you know about this case?"

"Who? We?" asked the negro. "Yes, you."

"Well, I just tell yo'. All I knows about dis case is dat I was da!"—Green Bag.

Smallpox Stamped Out.

Of 3,164 deaths in the great epidemic in Montreal 85 per cent were of children under ten years. It is estimated that 60,000,000 persons died of smallpox in Europe in the eighteenth century. The disease is practically stamped out now in civilized countries. Doctor Rotch reports that in Boston in 15 years there has been no death from smallpox in children vaccinated.

MEAT CLOGS KIDNEYS THEN YOUR BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You—Drink Lots of Water.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

WASHINGTON CITY SIDELIGHTS

New Star May Be Placed on the American Flag

WASHINGTON.—A new state may be added to the Union. Slices carved from eastern Washington, northern Idaho and western Montana may be joined to create the new state of Lincoln, in area and population about equal to the present state of Washington, one of the biggest in the Union.

For thirty years there has been agitation within the "Inland Empire," as the people of this aspiring region like to call their country, for the creation of a new state. Conditions of transportation and natural relationships have long made an appeal to them.

Consent of the older states to such a carving up of their domains has been assumed as impossible, but now comes Washington, which would be the chief loser, with a preliminary tender of her blessing on the enterprise. If Washington permits it, Idaho will be the more willing to surrender her northern "pan handle;" and after that the chance of getting Montana to contribute her western projection of territory will increase. Even with only Washington and Idaho consenting, however, the new state could be created with ample area and population.

There is only one precedent which can be taken as bearing upon the proposed creation of a new state from already existing units. That precedent is found in the creation of West Virginia, which was separated from the present state at the time of the Civil war.

It is explained by members of congress who are interested in the revived efforts on the part of the residents of eastern Washington and the Idaho "pan handle" to form a state of their own, that the procedure followed will probably be prefaced by acts of the legislature of the states of Washington and Idaho, and of Montana, if the Bitter Root valley inhabitants wish to enter the fight, giving the consent of the various states concerned to the proposed legislation.

An "enabling act" would then be introduced in congress creating the new state, and if this act becomes law, through the signature of the president, an official proclamation would be made, calling a constitutional convention to organize a state government. With this completed, the vote in congress for formal admission of the new state would be taken.

Why Senator Stone Moved for Extra Session

AS chairman of the committee on foreign relations, Senator Stone's prerogative is to move for executive sessions of the senate whenever business is to be transacted behind closed doors. Recently during the debate there was a surplus of oratory. The discussion was prolonged and Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi grew tired.

Walking into the Democratic cloakroom he found Senator Stone reclining on a lounge.

"Bill," he said, "go in there and move for an executive session and stop this interminable debate. I want to go home."

"Wait a bit," said the Missourian. "It is only 5:30."

"No, do it now," urged Williams. "If you don't I'll go back and make a speech for two hours."

Springing from the comfortable lounge, Senator Stone hurried into the chamber, caught the eye of the vice-president and asked that the senate proceed to the consideration of executive business.

"There is an urgent reason why we should go into executive session at once," he said, in a manner that caused other senators to suspect all manner of dire things.

As the galleries were being cleared and the doorkeepers were locking the double portals, statesmen gathered about Senator Stone and inquired the nature of the problem confronting the government.

Seeing the excitement written on the faces of all those about him, the Missourian said:

"Calm yourself, gentlemen, the danger has now passed. John Williams threatened to make a two-hour speech unless I moved for an executive session. You may now rest your fears."

What the other senators said was not recorded in the Congressional Record.

Members of Congress May Have to Wear Badges

THE annoyance to congressmen caused by reports that some of them were arrested in a raid on a poolroom at Myers Station, Md., may make it necessary for senators and representatives to wear badges showing their official status. A number of the men arrested are said to have claimed they were congressmen, and some members have been subjected to incessant geying under the pretense that they were caught in the raid.

Representative Carey of Wisconsin, who had heard that his name was thus ruthlessly used, introduced a resolution expressing his feelings on the subject. The resolution required senators and representatives to wear badges to identify them. In discussing the idea Mr. Carey said there would probably be no objection among congressmen themselves to wearing such badges.

"I don't propose that they should wear them conspicuously," said Mr. Carey, "as a policeman would, for instance, but as a secret society man does—under the lapel of his coat. In case of necessity—not that congressmen would ever be caught in a raid—the member could turn up his collar and show who he was. The counterfeiter who would pretend to be a congressman could at once be detected by turning his collar up, and if the badge was not there, in the pen he would go."

Should the resolution meet with favor in congress and be passed, the sergeants-at-arms of the senate and house would immediately prepare a suitable badge, which the holder would be allowed to wear only during his term of office.

Sammy April Is "Official Presidential Newsboy"

SAMMY APRIL describes himself as the "official presidential newsboy." He collects monthly for serving papers to the White House. "President Taft shook hands with me whenever we met," he says. "The first time I saw him was about a month after I started to serve papers at the White House. A man took me into a great, big room and said, 'Mr. President, this is your official newsboy.'"

"Is that so?" the president said. "Yes; he's the young man who brings the papers," the man said.

"There were a lot of congressmen and others in the room, but President Taft knew my time was valuable, and he made them wait while he talked with me. He told me he was glad to see me and that he hoped I would some day sit in the chair he was filling. He said he thought I would make a good president."

"I haven't met President Wilson yet. He knows me, though, and some time I'm going in and shake hands with him."

Sammy's father is a Russian and his mother a Roumanian. He goes to school every day, is up at 6 a. m., sells papers until eight, goes to school and is out at three, selling papers until 6 p. m., and is in bed at 9 p. m. He does not swear, chew or smoke.

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR A CHILD'S BOWELS

It is cruel to force nauseating, harsh physic into a sick child.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Adv.

Up to Mother.

The mother of thirteen-year-old Page has a gift for rhyming and a generous nature. The other day Page returned from school with the announcement that each member of her class was expected to turn in a poem on a certain given subject on the morrow.

"Well, that's a very nice subject," replied Page's mother.

"Yes, but, mother," the little girl asked, with innocent assurance, "what are you going to say about it?"

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now—Also Stops Itching Scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, luster and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. THE EMBARGO ON WHEAT

The United States Wheat Production Admits of 100 Million Bushels for Export.

The talk in the press some little time back of placing an embargo on wheat, brought forcibly to the minds of the people of the United States a condition that may at some time in the near future face them. 100 million bushels of an export of wheat means a splendid revenue to the country as well as to the farmer, and if this were assured year after year, there would be reason for considerable congratulation. But last year's magnificent and abundant crop, which was estimated at 891 million bushels, cannot be expected every year. With a home consumption of 775 million bushels, and a production in many years of little more than this, the fact is apparent that at an early date the United States will have to import wheat. It will be then that the people of the United States will be looking to other markets for a supply. And it is then that the value of Western Canada lands will be viewed with considerable favor. The great area of wheat lands in Canada will then be called upon to provide the greatest portion of the old world's supply, and also, in the opinion of the writer, that of the United States as well. At present there are only about 12 million acres of these lands producing wheat. There are five times that many acres that can be brought under successful cultivation. Apart altogether from the value of these lands as wheat producers there is an increased value to them from the fact that the soil is especially adapted to the growing of many other kinds of grain as well as all manner of cultivated grasses, while the native grasses are a wonderful asset in themselves. The climate is especially favorable to the raising of live stock, such as horses, cattle, sheep and hogs. All these bring into the limelight the adaptability of the soil, the climate and all other necessary conditions, to the carrying on of dairy farming, in a most profitable way.

There is no question that high prices for all that the farmer can grow or raise will continue for some years, and this is the great opportune time to take advantage of what Western Canada offers. Lands may be had as a free grant. These are mostly located some little distance from railways at the present time, but sooner or later will be well served by railways that are projected into these districts. Land may also be secured by purchase at reasonable price, and on easy terms from holders of same. In many cases farms partly improved may be rented. A Winnipeg paper said recently: "Canada wants American immigrants. They make good Canadian citizens." And then speaking of the erroneous impression that has gained some publicity in a portion of the United States press, says: "It cannot be too forcibly impressed upon the American mind that in coming to Canada they place themselves under the freest democracy the world knows. No citizen of this country, whether native or naturalized, can be compelled to military service. The only compulsion is the compulsion of conscience and patriotic duty. That is the motive that has prompted thousands of Canadians to offer their lives. They are fighting as free men."—Advertisement.

Winter Chills Bring Kidney Ills

A spell of cold, damp weather is always followed by a fine crop of kidney troubles and backache.

Colds and chills damage the kidneys. Other troubles common to winter weather are just as bad. Grip, tonsillitis, quinsy, pneumonia or any other infectious disease hurts the kidneys by overloading the blood with poisons. The kidneys get worn, weak and inflamed trying to work it off.

It isn't hard to strengthen weak kidneys though, if you act quickly. At the first sign of backache, dizzy spells, headaches, loss of weight, nervousness, depression and painful, irregular kidney action, start using Doan's Kidney Pills. Rest the kidneys by simple eating, avoidance of overwork and worry, and getting more rest and sleep. A milk diet is fine.

This sensible treatment should bring quick benefit and prevent serious kidney diseases like dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease.

Whole System Affected Disordered Kidneys Brought Weeks of Intense Suffering

O. K. Booth, painter, Randolph Hotel, Randolph, Neb., says: "I was afflicted with a serious case of kidney trouble and dropsy. At first my back began to ache and then sharp, darting pains shot through my entire body. My feet and hands got cold and numb. This was followed by swelling of my limbs and purty spots appeared under my eyes. In fact, I was all bloated up, so I came to the conclusion that I had dropsy. I had to neglect my business for nearly a month. I was all doubled up and at night could get no rest. I had chills and often had a high fever. At night in order to get relief from the pain in my back I had to lie in bed, propped up with pillows.
