GET-TOGETHER BANQUET TO HOLD IN EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Arrangements were consummated yesterday for the holding of the booster banquet, which will be held by the Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening of next week, in the basement of the Episcopal church and it will be served by the ladies of the Episcopal guild.

This banquet is chiefly for the boosting of the junior high school in this city and for the purpose of discussing different school problems which have arisen within the past two years. It is hoped that everyone interested will attend and an attendance of two hundred is expected.

Tickets for this banquet will be placed on sale today and everyone wishing to go will please procure their tickets at once as the sale will close early so that the ladies may know for how many to prepare supper. Tickets will be on sale at different business houses and they will also be sent around.

The supper will be served at 6:45 in the evening. Following it there will be perhaps one speaker after which the meeting will be open to general discussion. There will possibly be other entertaining features for the evening but they have not been definitely decided upon.

Everyone come out and boost for better school conditions in North Platte. Don't leave all the responsibility to the board and a few boosters, but join the ranks, attend this banquet and get into the game.

LIGHTING COMMITTEE WILL REPORT AT LATER MEETING

At the meeting of the city council Tuesday evening the lighting committee reported their work unfinished and were granted another two weeks to get their business completed and make a report.

Willis Todd president of the North Platte Light & Power Co., attended the meeting and gave a talk on street lighting which was both interesting and instructive. He also gave a demonstration of the forty-watt light for street lighting purposes in the outlying districts. The demonstration was given at the corner of Fourth and Sycamore streets. He recommended that this light be used for street lighting purposes in the residence districts on each corner instead of using a light of twice the candle power on each alternate corner. After some discussion the council decided that this would be more practicable lighting and decided to do this.

The council also appraised the cost of cutting streets through the Bellevue, Fairview, Scout's Rest and Dolson's additions. Attorney J. J. Halligan, representing Mr. Dolson, appeared before the council and filed objection to the estimate on account of its being heavier for the Dolson addition than for the others. This was explained by the council as being the result of the donation of the streets in the other additions and after deliberation they decided to accept the estimate of the city engineer and the data was filed with the city clerk.

The regular bills were allowed and other routine matters were taken up. The council enjoyed a visit from the civics class of the high school who visited to get some practical pointers on civil government.

Different members of the council have received several inquiries from other towns asking the rates paid for lights here and for other information regarding the lighting system. Several letters were presented at the meeting, among them inquiries from York and Norfolk, and these were turned over to the lighting committee.

Inspector Visits Here This Week

Inspector L. R. Whitted of Greeley, Colo., superintendent of construction for the government, was visiting in the city for a few days this week looking after the work in the basement of the federal building and spoke very highly of the local office.

Mr. Whitted will come again after the work is completed and pass upon it then. He stated that the work was being done well and that the building would be excellently provided for after its completion. He also commended the management of the building and spoke very highly of the condition in which it is kept.

The work in the basement is not progressing as rapidly as expected on account of the weather. They have been unable to get sand and gravel. The only way gravel could be procured was by cutting through the ice where there was running water and dipping the gravel from the bottom of the river. This, however, was slow work and has greatly hindered the concrete workers.

Already one layer of cement has been laid in the floor of the basement. It is about four inches thick. A water coat will be put on top of it and a finishing coat of about six inches in thickness will be put on top of that. In all there will be a concrete floor of about ten inches in thickness.

The German Blockade.

The blockade of German and Austrian ports which the British and French have now embarked upon is the most ambitious attempt of the kind since the American civil war. During that war the federal government maintained with more or less success a blockade of all the seacoast between the Potomac and the Rio Grande. This blockade, which cut off the south from a market for its chief staple, cotton, and from a source of manufactured supplies, was the chief cause of the friction of the north during the war with neutral Great Britain depending on the south for its cotton and for a market for its manufactures, suffered almost equally with the south. The consequences of that blockade.

With a complete blockade now declared against Germany the shoe is on the other foot. Germany is a large market for our cotton and a source of supply for some of our most essential manufactures, notably dyes. This blockade will greatly embarrass American industry, for the loss of the German market has already been partly made up by resort to markets formerly supplied by Germany. Dr. Rittmann's discovery of a process of extracting coloring matter from petroleum promises to stop our dependence on Germany for dye stuffs. Nevertheless, this blow at Germany adds to the burden of the war which neutrals must bear. It makes war just so much more of an international nuisance; just so much more an affront to human interest and intelligence.

Washington predicts that neutral protests will be made against this cutting off of their markets for non-contraband goods. It is not clear how these protests can be made to stand. It has been accepted between nations since the Declaration of Paris of 1856 that any blockade which can be enforced is binding. The physical power of the British and French navies to prevent German and Austria-Hungarian intercourse with the world by sea is as indisputable as was our power to seal the port of Santiago in 1898. Until the German and Austrian fleets can break through the wall of warships now sealing them in, there is no way, short of war, for a neutral to force himself in.—State Journal.

Miss Georgina McKay was reported ill with tonsillitis the first of the week.

Miss Maria Nicholson, employed at the Union Pacific hotel, returned Tuesday evening from a visit of a week with her parents in Calloway.

A NORTH PLATE MAN GIVES EVIDENCE

His Testimony Will Interest Every North Platte Reader

The value of local evidence is indisputable. It is the kind of evidence we accept as true because we know we can prove it for ourselves. There has been plenty of such evidence in the North Platte papers lately, and this straightforward testimony has established a confidence in the minds of North Platte people that will not be easily shaken.

Charles F. Burroughs, 222 S. Pine St., North Platte, says: "Several years ago I had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from McDonnell & Graves' Drug Store, (now Schiller & Co.'s Drug Store) and found them to be a good kidney remedy. I suffered from burning pains in the small of my back and my kidneys were very weak. Doan's Kidney Pills soon cured me completely. I have not been bothered by kidney trouble since. I take pleasure in endorsing this remedy for the benefit of other kidney sufferers."
