

FRUIT LAXATIVE FOR SICK CHILD

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs" that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Adv.

Wanted More Help.
"To guide a key to a keyhole in the dark there has been patented a V-shaped strip of metal to be fastened to a door with the point surrounding the hole," said the studious man.
"That's all right so far as it goes," replied the convivial one; "but who's to be on hand to find the key for you?"

Horrors!
"This, then, Miss Fickle," said the young man as he started for the door, "is your final decision?"
"It is, Mr. Smithers," said the young girl firmly.
"Then," he continued, his voice betraying an unnatural calmness, "there is but one thing to add."
"What is that?" she asked, toying absently with the lobe of her shell-like ear.
"It is this," he muttered. "Shall I return those black satin suspenders by mail or will you have them now?"

Compliment That Went Astray.
"I love to hear you speak French," remarked the sweet young thing.
"Indeed?" said the pompous youth who plumed himself on his linguistic ability. "And why?"
"Because it is so different from most people's French," explained the young thing. The youth plumed himself some more. But only for a moment, because the sweet young thing continued:
"Yes, so different from most people's French—especially French people's."

MAY BE COFFEE That Causes all the Trouble

When the house is afe, it's about the same as when disease begins to show, it's no time to talk but time to act—delay is dangerous—remove the cause of the trouble at once.

"For a number of years," wrote a Kansas lady, "I felt sure that coffee was hurting me, and yet I was so fond of it, I could not give it up. At last I got so bad that I made up my mind I must either quit the use of coffee or die."

"Everything I ate distressed me, and I suffered severely most of the time with palpitation of the heart. I frequently woke up in the night with the feeling that I was almost gone—my heart seemed so smothered and weak in its action. My breath grew short and the least exertion set me panting. I slept but little and suffered from rheumatism."

"Two years ago I stopped using the coffee and began to use Postum and from the very first I began to improve. It worked a miracle! Now I can eat anything and digest it without trouble. I sleep like a baby, and my heart beats strong and regularly. My breathing has become steady and normal, and my rheumatism has left me."

"I feel like another person, and it is all due to quitting coffee and using Postum, for I haven't used any medicine and none would have done any good as long as I kept drugging with coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled. 15c and 25c packages.

Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. 30c and 50c tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious, and cost per cup about the same. "There's a Reason" for Postum.—sold by Grocers.

The Best Objective, Salvation

By REV. J. H. RALSTON
Secretary of Correspondence Department
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.—Phil. 3:14.

In seeking an objective, the principle that nothing should be accepted but the best, should be adopted. When men were thinking deeply, and the great doctrines of the Protestant faith were being put into creeds, it was declared that the chief end of man was the glory of God, and nothing has transpired since to show that this was an error, but every thing has shown most conclusively that the statement was justified. A man who lives with the glory of God in view will not, cannot fail.

The Thoughtless Multitudes.
Nothing is much more disheartening than to watch the multitudes, especially in our crowded cities, who seem to have no goal in view. They seem to exist for the moment—butterflies that flit before you for an instant and then are gone. If other companies of people are considered, the fact still confronts one. If bread and butter can be secured, there is no more concern; but the swine get to that point. Young people in the schools may have a somewhat larger appreciation of their mission or goal, but must go forward with nothing in view.

In a small volume recently issued there is this quotation: "The world stops to let the man pass who knows whether he is going." That man has an objective, a goal, commands universal respect, and the world gives him passage. If this sermon falls into the hands of some young person, whether he is a Christian or not, let him know that he must have a goal in view or he will fail in life, and if the goal is not one that relates him to God the failure will be the greater and more deplorable. And, if a person has a goal and resolutely keeps his eye on it, he will not be diverted by anything. If the goal is that set before him in Paul's "fullness of the stature of Christ," he will not be diverted by any of the many religions now seeking the attention of people throughout the world. To him, the religion of Paul, Luther, Calvin and Wesley will be accepted as reliable and worthy of following until the goal is reached.

Paul's Objective.
In the text, Paul, who was a man doing only one thing at a time, said that he pressed toward the mark for the prize of the high calling in Christ Jesus. Without considering the strictly theological bearing of these words, let us note the source of the call. He who calls is God, who knows man, his capacities and possibilities, and sets before him his best, and he calls to him to make the attempt to reach it. Every person, old or young, should remember that it's God that is calling—not man, nor the greatest of men—and when God calls who dare be indifferent?

To what is the call and what is the goal? It is to the realization of Jesus Christ in all his fullness. Paul speaks in a certain place of "the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ," which is to say, Christ, in all that he is and may be to us. Presuming that that fullness applies to all that Christ offers, let us know that to attain this two things at least must be kept in mind.

Jesus as Savior and Lord.
First, the recognition and acceptance of Jesus Christ as a savior, personal and sufficient. This involves the surrender of the intellect, the heart, and the will; in fact, the surrender of the life. Second, it is a recognition of the kingship, or lordship, of Christ. Many seem to be willing to accept Christ as savior, but they do not recognize him as Lord. The failure of the latter utterly vitates the former—no savior unless Christ be Lord. This carries us back to the realm of the Puritans, who saw that the chief end of man was the glory of God, for man who accepts Jesus Christ as savior and Lord makes every thought, word and action tend to his glory and his honor.

This will naturally lead to the realization of man's goal—companionship and partnership with Jesus Christ. The realization of Paul's prayer can only partially be secured on this earth, but the perfect realization will be when we are with him where he is. This should be the ultimate goal—to be with Christ.

The goals of life which seem attractive and in some senses worthy soon pass like the chaplet on the brow of the ancient athlete, but there is a goal for everyone which, if reached, will secure a crown, a golden crown, that is precious and durable.

Have a goal; have a vision; secure an objective; keep your eyes steadily on it and you will reach it, and, by all means, let the objective of all be the attainment of the stature of the fullness of Christ.

Canadian Wheat to Feed the World
160 ACRES FARM IN WESTERN CANADA FREE
The war's fearful devastation of European crops has caused an unusual demand for grain from the American Continent. The people of the world must be fed and there is an unusual demand for Canadian wheat. Canada's invitation to every industrious American is therefore especially attractive. She wants farmers to make money and happy, prosperous homes for themselves while helping her to raise immense wheat crops.
You can get a Homestead of 160 acres FREE and other lands can be bought at remarkably low prices. Think of the money you can make with wheat at its present high price, where for some time it is liable to continue. During many years Canadian wheatfields have averaged 20 bushels to the acre—many yields as high as 45 bushels to the acre. Wonderful crops also of Oats, Barley and Flax.
Mixed farming is fully as profitable an industry as grain raising. The excellent grasses, full of nutrition, are the only food required either for beef or dairy purposes. Good schools, markets convenient, climate excellent.
Military service is not compulsory in Canada, but there is an extra demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for the war. The Government this year is urging farmers to put extra acreage into grain.
