

The New Styles in Printzess Garments are Here.

Before each Printzess Suit or Coat comes to us it has to pass under the scrutiny of seven experts. At seven different stages of its progress it is turned over to these men. They examine it for the slightest imperfection, for the smallest indication that it would not be turned out exactly right. They consult the designer, the cutter, the tailor, the presser. Small chance for even the smallest error to pass; and all is done in your interest, that you may not suffer the vexation, the delay and the disappointment of finding the one garment you liked and wanted imperfect and unfit to wear.

That is why we want you to know Printzess Suits and Coats more intimately. The more you know them the higher regard you'll have for them.

Come in and let us explain some of the things that make Printzess Suits and Coats better.

Why Not Pave!

The condition of Dewey street at the present time is a reminder that something must be done with that thoroughfare in the near future. Some years ago that street was filled with Sherman gravel at a cost of $1,200 per block. That gravel has now practically disappeared and the make-up of the roadway is the Platte valley soil, the bottom of which drops out during wet seasons. The economical plan to pursue is to pave that street from Front to Third, a distance of four blocks. In paving streets the owners of the property abutting on the streets pay for the work except at the street and alley intersections, thus making the burden of the city very light.

Practically all the lot owners on Dewey street favor paving, and if the property holders are willing to bear their proportion of the cost, certainly the citizens at large should not object to the issuance of long time bonds for paving the intersections.

In street paving North Platte is lamentably behind other Nebraska towns. Kearney made a start last year, and is so well pleased that more of that work will be done this summer the necessary arrangements now being made. Norfolk has made arrangements to have 6 miles of paved streets, Grand Island and Hastings are increasing their mileage of paving every year, and in a number of eastern Nebraska towns of 2,000 to 3,000 considerable paving has been done.

In every town where street paving has been laid the people are anxious for more. In every town it is regarded as the economical solution of good streets.

We believe that North Platte should make a start at paving this year.

Bridge Bids Tomorrow.

Bids for the construction of the new bridge across the river east of town will be received tomorrow and opened. While no bids had been filed up to yesterday, County Clerk Yost says there have been many inquiries, and there are already two or three contractors in town looking over the ground preparatory to submitting bids. It is predicted that there will be no scarcity of bidders, as business in the bridge building line is a little dull and all the firms are anxious to secure contracts. If the successful bidder is energetic, he should be able to complete the bridge by fall.

We understand that it is the intention to build the road east of the bridge this summer, so that it will be in good condition by the time the river structure is completed. One mile of this road immediately west of Maywell has already been graded.

The Leader Has a Busy Day.

The Leader, considered by many as North Platte's fashion headquarters, was a regular bee hive Saturday. The day was bright and sunny, there were many ladies in from the country and these with the hundreds of town ladies who were out shopping made the streets crowded and naturally all desired to see what is new in women's apparel and went to the Leader to view the splendid showing. From early in the forenoon until late in the evening the big store was so crowded with buyers that it was necessary to secure extra sales people. The sales for the day computed in dollars were extremely gratifying to Mr. Pizer. The expressions from the ladies were general that the Leader's spring stock throughout is as up-to-date as will be found in the big stores in Omaha and that the prices on all classes of merchandise are extremely reasonable.

"September Morn" at the Keith

Wednesday, March 24th.

The long looked for and welcome musical comedy, a brain now, up-to-date, musical jumble of song and girls, comes to the Keith March 24th. "September Morn" of course gets its title from the painting of the same name which stirred up comment from coast to coast. The story has to do with the aspirations of one, Rudolph Plastric, owner of an art studio, who claims to have been the painter. Of course Rudolph does not even know how to paint a picket fence. The model of "September Morn" is laid claim to by an actress who has instructed her press agent to circulate the rumor that she is the original. The ludicrous moments when the two impersonators are dodging each other and when a cheery old army officer, who has fallen in love with the actress, discovers she is a good friend of his wife's, creates enough laughter and plot for six musical plays. The scenery is prettily designed and painted and the costuming introduces the latest Parisian creations.

The company numbers within its ensemble some fifty people. The dancing numbers are many, spirited, charming, highly enjoyable and welcome, the world popular Tango being introduced in various attractive forms.

Commissioner Springer arrived from Brady yesterday not feeling his best physically. He was in bed all of last week with illness resulting from a severe cold.
