Knights of Shillalah Banquet.

A gathering of more than passing note was the second annual banquet of the Knights of Shillalah given at the Bungalow last night. As the name indicates, this is an organization of Irish born or Irish descent citizens, and the object of the banquet is to glorify in speech and song "the little isle of wonderful people." As the banqueters and their guests were received and had removed their coats, they were given a tall green hat, with white band, and with a white pipe of peace on the front, which they wore during the entire evening. The rooms were lavishly decorated in green, and the long table, at which covers were laid for thirty-two was decorated with cut flowers, and lighted with a score or more candles in brass stands and green shades. The menu cards were green, and attached thereto was a clay pipe. The Rose orchestra of four pieces played sweet music throughout the entire evening and furnished accompaniment to the many Irish songs that were sung. The dinner, served in seven courses, was one of the most elaborate to which diners in North Platte have ever been seated, young roast pig and roast duck constituting the meat course. The service by a committee of the Knights was excellent.

Following the splendid dinner the toasts were given, J. S. Keefe occupying the toastmaster's chair. Supt. Wm. Jeffers, of Omaha, who was the honor guest of the evening, was first called, and spoke of his birth and early life in North Platte, and though removed for a number of years from these associations and scenes, yet they were very dear to him. The complete toast list was as follows: "St. Patrick," P. R. Halligan; "A Little Isle, a Wonderful People," C. T. Whelan; "A Bit of Irish History," Rev. Fr. McDavid; "The Irish Under the Stars and Stripes," Col. J. B. McDonald; "Knights of Shillalah, their Place in History," F. J. McGovern; "Erin ga Bragh," Thos. Healey. Under these respective headings there was gleaned much of the history, the accomplishments and the citizenship of the Irish race.

Pastor H. G. Knowles went to Sutherland Wednesday and in the evening united in marriage Guy Coates and Miss Mabel Anderson. The wedding occurred in the Christian church and following the ceremony a three course supper was served in the basement of the church. During the evening the bride and groom were kidnapped, the bride being driven around town for a time and then taken to her home, while the groom was held captive in the Peterson home until five o'clock in the morning when he managed to escape hatless and coatless.

Supt. Wm. Jeffers and Mrs. Jeffers, now of Omaha, spent yesterday in town visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Jeffers was honor guest at the banquet given last evening by the Knights of the Shillalah. They returned to Omaha on No. 4 last night accompanied by Mrs. Schatz. Now that Mr. Jeffers' jurisdiction is the Nebraska division we can hope to see him and Mrs. Jeffers more frequently.

At the annual meeting of the ladies' aid society of the Presbyterian church held yesterday afternoon the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. L. W. Walker, president; Mrs. J. H.
