Short Course a Success.

The short course in domestic science which opened Tuesday and will close this afternoon, has been largely attended by ladies, who have evinced much interest in the lectures and demonstrations. Miss Bokahr and Miss Wyman, in charge of the course, have proven their efficiency, and have received many compliments from the ladies attending.

As a result of these lectures and demonstrations it is reasonable to expect an improvement in the kitchens of the North Platte homes, both as to the quality of the foods and the economic preparation of them.

The senate Wednesday passed the house bill which provides that the county commissioners may make a levy of not to exceed fifteen mills for the erection of a court house upon petition of fifty-five per cent of the voters. This takes the place of the old law calling for an election to vote bonds. It would look as though the way is now open for Lincoln county to secure a new court house, as we believe that if a canvass of the county is made not much trouble will be experienced in obtaining the necessary number of signatures to a petition.

Albert Davis, an early settler in Medicine precinct, died in an Omaha hospital March 4th of Bright's disease.

Cermack Bound Over

In the county court Wednesday the complaints filed some time ago against Jake Walter and Sylvester Cermack charging them with selling liquor without a license were dismissed. Walter was dismissed by reason of insufficient evidence, Bowman, the complaining witness having left the country, and in the case of Cermack the dismissal was made in order that a new but similar charge might be filed. In the new complaint nine counts are enumerated in which he sold liquor, once to seven individuals and twice to one person.

Cermack has been making Wallace his home, and the alleged sales of liquor occurred last year, and were made to residents of that section.

Judge French placed Cermack under $500 bonds for his appearance at the next term of court.

Death of Grandma Freis.

Emelie Kathren Freis, mother of Henry Freis, living southwest of Hershey, and who has been making her home with him the past few years, died Saturday at the age of 76 years, 11 months and 25 days, after an illness of six days.

She was born in Oldenburg, Germany, March 25th, 1838. At the age of 25 she was united in marriage to Frederick Wilhelm Freis. They emigrated to the United States in 1884, coming first to Fillmore county, Neb., then to Lincoln county. To this union seven children were born, five of whom survive her, William Freis, Gust Freis, Henry Freis, Mrs. Lizzie Hoffmann and Mrs. Jennie Kirchoff.

Interment was made in the Lutheran cemetery south of Hershey, Rev. Legner, of North Platte, conducting the services.—Hershey Times.

Cattle Industry in a Bad Way

At San Francisco alarming conditions in the cattle industry were described by H. A. Jastro, president of the American national livestock association, in his annual address at the opening of the convention Wednesday. Unremunerative prices, ruinous market fluctuations, fear of the effect of the removal of the duties on cattle and meats and unsatisfactory range conditions were given as the unfavorable factors in the cattle business, which threaten disaster for it.

A shortage of cattle, however, he said, did not exist, calamitous conditions, generally pictured by the public, is "not true" he said. "We still export more meat products than we import and we will continue to do so probably for many years," Mr. Jastro said.

Comparisons are Odious.

T. C. Patterson returned yesterday from a business trip to Lincoln. Enroute home he stopped at Seward, a town much less in population than North Platte. There he found a nice city hall, a public library building, a Y. M. C. A. building, a new $100,000 court house and several miles of paved streets. Just at this time the people of the town are in a campaign for a splendid new high school building. When one visits Nebraska towns much smaller than North Platte and finds city halls, Y. M. C. A. buildings, miles of paved streets and up-to-date systems of street lighting he cannot help but feel when he returns that North Platte is a quarter of a century behind the times and a more progressive spirit is needed among our people.

Organize New Orchestra

The White-Starr orchestra is the title of new musical organization that was organized Wednesday and which will offer its services to all those desiring music for dances, parties or other purposes. Associated with them will be a number of musicians of the city, and any number of pieces from three up will be furnished. Messrs. White and Starr are both finished musicians, and the orchestra they furnish, whether of three, five, eight or more pieces, will be such as to satisfy the most exacting.

The Annual May Party

The thirty-third annual May Party of Division 88, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, will be held at the Lloyd opera house Monday evening, May 3d. ## Given Surprise Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Stegall were the recipients of a surprise party Wednesday evening when about thirty of their friends walked in on them unannounced. ## To the Housewife

Madam, if your husband is like most men he expects you to look after the health of yourself and children. Coughs and colds are the most common of the minor ailments and are most likely to lead to serious diseases. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when it has a cold. If you will inquire into the merits of the various remedies that are recommended for coughs and colds, you will find that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy stands high in the estimation of people who use it. It is prompt and effective, pleasant and safe to take, which are qualities especially to be desired when a medicine is intended for children. For sale by all dealers.
