Horace VanBuskirk, who recently purchased the Henry Well farm six miles west of town, sold the land last week to J. C. Wilson at a reported advance of $4.50 per acre, or at the rate of $104.50 per acre. The Well farm adjoins land owned by Mr. Wilson and the latter was anxious to get possession of it.

J. H. Stone, of this city, has sold his drug store at Stapleton to W. H. McLeay, of that town. This store was first started at Gandy under the Stone-Neale Co. When Stapleton became a town, Mr. Stone purchased Neale's interest and moved the stock to Stapleton.

The Assembly Club was entertained by Mrs. Harry Williams at her home at 214 South Maple street Friday afternoon. The house was prettily decorated in Easter colors and the place cards were rabbits and Easter eggs. A dainty lunch was served and all present enjoyed a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Shuman and Mrs. Bedell and Parker spent the latter part of last week in the city visiting their cousin Mrs. Annie M. Church. They were enroute from California where they had been spending the winter to their homes in Washington, La., and Baltimore, Maryland.

The greater part of the North Platte contingent at the state university arrived home Saturday evening to spend the spring vacation. Among the arrivals were Misses Nanine Iddings and Myrtle Beeler, Lee Bird, Bob Gantt, George Weir and Clarence Day. Pat Norris will be home Wednesday.

Sunday was a bright beautiful day and we were all congratulating ourselves that the season of sunshine had again dawned, when lo, and behold, the orb of day did not once show himself yesterday. However, we are still hopeful that we will have a period of sunshine not later than May first.

It now develops that Arthur Rush and Dick Baker did not go to Excelsior Springs to drink mineral water, but rather to get in training for the golf season, with the expectation of showing Rev. McDaid, Keefe, Plumer, Whelan, Seeberger and others a few advanced points on the game and incidentally demonstrate how little the latter gentlemen know of the game.

The committee appointed for the purpose of drafting a contract for street lighting that will be for the best interests of the city and at the same time prove satisfactory to the electric company will be ready to report in a short time. Much data concerning contracts, lighting systems and other information has been obtained from cities of North Platte's class, the committee has held a number of meetings, and has also met in conference with Mr. Todd of the electric company. The contract so far outlined is believed to be one that will prove satisfactory to the people and that it will be adopted at the election to be called for the purpose.

Springtime is Here Once More.

U. P. Provides Emergency Ward.

A letter received yesterday from General Manager Ware announced that the Union Pacific will provide and maintain an emergency ward at the Good Samaritan hospital in this city for the use and convenience of employees. This action was taken at the request of the four railroad orders of this city, who appointed a committee to take up the matter with Mr. Ware.

In providing this emergency ward the Union Pacific shows a spirit of consideration for the welfare of its employees. Heretofore when a serious accident occurred to an employee first aid was given, then the one injured must wait until the arrival of a train to take him to Grand Island or Omaha before the operation, if needed, could be made. In the future the injured employee can be taken to the Good Samaritan hospital, the needed operation performed and have the services of competent nurses, thus saving the misery which ensues in the transportation to other points.

Claude Delaney as a Hog Grower.

Claude Delaney, formerly of this city, now general foreman for the Union Pacific at Northport, is reported by the Bridgeport Blade as the coming hog king of that section of the state. The Blade says: "Today on the site where Northport, when first laid out, was to have a 100-room hotel, Mr. Delaney has his breeding pens. A hundred big brood sows occupy quarters there, and in the near future several hundred little piglets will be gambling on the slope to the river. Mr. Delaney is not counting his chickens before they are hatched, nor his pigs either, but while the editor was admiring the porkers last Sunday he could help making an estimate. It ran this way: If one hog is worth $25, five hundred hogs should be worth five hundred times $25, or $12,500, and that is about what Mr. Delaney should clean up this year on his hog lot."

The Elks dancing school closed Saturday evening and Mrs. Taylor, the instructor, returned to Omaha that night. As an appreciation of her work, the men of the class presented Mrs. Taylor with a bunch of American Beauty Roses.

Methodist Aid will hold a special business meeting at the home of Mrs. M. E. Scott 229 west Second street next Thursday afternoon instead of the regular social meeting and the serving of lunch. All members are urged to be present and help on the unfinished work for the sale.

Coming as the first public dance after the Lenten season, the annual ball of the fire department next Monday evening promises to be very largely attended. If you have not yet purchased a ticket it is not too late to do so, and thus help out the fire boys.

Mrs. Chas. Johnson, who has leased the second floor of the new Pizer building and will conduct a rooming house, returned Saturday from Omaha where she went to select the furniture which she buys through Howe & Maloney. There are fifteen rooms to be furnished.

Mrs. J. H. Fonda left the latter part of last week for a visit with friends in Omaha.

E. J. Rebhausen is confined to his room with a threatened attack of appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Merritt, of Stapleton, spent the week end in town visiting relatives.

Mrs. Roberts of Cheyenne, is visiting her son Dan Roberts and family of this city this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Clabaugh and Mrs. Mose McFarland were passengers on the branch train yesterday.

The employees feel very kindly to the Union Pacific officials in consenting to provide this emergency ward.

The Hendy-Ogier Co. received two cars of Fords yesterday, the shipment including both touring and runabout cars.

Frank Hoxie returned to his Keith county ranch yesterday after spending Saturday and Sunday with his family.

The Methodist ladies will have a nice display of aprons and woven rugs at the Easter sale to be held at Derryberry & Forbes store April 3d.
