Grinnell Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club of Grinnell College, which will appear at the Keith theatre April 13th under the auspices of the Methodist ladies, was organized in 1907 by Professor George Leavitt Pierce, head of the Grinnell school of music, and has continued from that time, under his direction. Although a comparatively new organization, its efforts to reach a high standard of musical achievement have won for it a place of distinction among similar organizations of the middle west. Twenty-four voices, selected after critical examination, have been brought, by constant and rigid training, into harmonious unity, purity of intonation, richness of tone quality, delicacy and flexibility of expression—these are the objectives which the club endeavors to attain. Each year the ensemble has improved, until the concerts are now marked by a degree of shading, precision of attack, and tone quality seldom exhibited by similar organizations.

NO REASON FOR IT.

When Citizens of North Platte Show the Way.

There can be no reason why any reader of his city who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangrs of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a North Platte citizen says:

Mrs. A. G. Weesburg, 708 west Fourth street, North Platte, says: "I had a dragging pain in my back and trouble with my kidneys. A doctor diagnosed my case as a floating kidney. Many a day I was unable to stand on account of the pain through my kidneys and the kidney secretions were unnatural. An operation was advised, but luckily I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a supply from McDonnell & Graves' Drug Store, (now Schiller & Co.'s Drug Store) and began using them. A few days removed the pain and restored my kidneys to their proper working order. Another of my family has since been troubled by kidney complaint and has had a world of good from this remedy.

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Weesburg had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

AN INLAND CAPTAIN KIDD; YEP! BURIED TREASURE.

(Sidney Telegraph.)

Tuesday last Colonel Oberfelder took advantage of the first balmy day of spring to motor down to his ranch adjoining Lodgepole. In sauntering about the premises he overturned a piece of silver metal about the size of a dollar and after a little polishing it revealed the date 1821, and some Spanish words. He showed his find to Editor Wolf of the Lodgepole Express who recalled that about four years ago a man came into town and stayed around several days walking about the near country. This stranger said that in the early days himself and party were returning from the coast, laden with about seventy-five thousand dollars worth of coins and precious metal. When near the spot where Lodgepole has since grown, they were surrounded by Indians and they immediately buried their treasure under cover of the ensuing confusion. The man had rather positive ideas that this treasure had been buried near a stream which had its source and its final end on about one section of land. Without doubt this was the famous Spring Creek which arises on the Oberfelder ranch and on the same ranch flows into the Lodgepole, its short course traveling over innumerable springs. The stranger abandoned his search in a few days from want of funds and because of his vagueness regarding the locality. There are many chances that if such treasure was really buried near the place where Mr. Oberfelder picked up the coin, it has been scattered and buried far and wide by the yearly floods which visit that valley, but however this may be Mr. Oberfelder was sufficiently interested to employ some men to prospect to considerable extent for possible treasure. Does this sound to you like a tale from von Munchhausen? Truth has been stranger than fiction.

The stoppage of German foreign commerce during the month of February was far from complete. The United States received in that month goods to the value of five million dollars from Germany and Austria-Hungary. This is only about one-half of the normal imports for such a month. No doubt a considerable quantity of German goods arrived in addition by way of neutral countries. The imports from Italy, for example, are slightly larger than last year, indicating the possibility that some German commerce slipped through by that route.

Can You Spell? At Kokomo, Indiana a few days ago the superintendent of the schools held a spelling contest. Every person of the city was eligible and six hundred took the test. Of that number only fifty-two made a perfect score. Newspaper men, doctors, lawyers, merchants, teachers and scholars submitted lists of twenty words each and from that total, twenty words were selected. The complete list with the number of times each word was misspelled, follows: Miscellaneous, 364; calendar, 324; parallel, 273; privilege, 270; superintendent, 245; principle, 242; niece, 223; loss, 201; separate, 199; disappoint, 177; disease, 164; principal, 142; necessary, 137; business, 130; relieve, 125; receive, 109; truly, 85; government, 84; grammar, 79; believe, 72.

One woman who made a perfect score had been a servant for sixty-three years and had had only eight weeks' schooling. A county official, who had been in business all his life, missed every word. Another man only got one right. One woman missed all but three. Here are the words arranged in the form of two sentences. Hand this to a friend, ask him to dictate the sentence to you, write down the words and see how many you misspell: "The privilege of separating ninety miscellaneous calendars, arranged in two parallel lines, was against the principles of the superintendent, so his niece, not to disappoint the government, nor cause it to lose business, removed the principal calendars and thus relieved her uncle of a strain which might have brought on a disease. Then she believed it had become truly necessary for her to receive her instruction in grammar."

A German View. The Fatherland: If Germany and her ally come triumphantly out of this war, the first great international democratic result will be that the oceans of the world will be free to commerce of all nations. If England wins, the ocean will be more of a private British institution than ever. Just as all the oppressed small nations—Ireland, Poland, Egypt, the Boers, the Jews and Persians—are praying for the downfall of England, so the small neutral nations, like Holland, Sweden and Norway, which cannot defend their neutrality like the United States, are praying for the emancipation of the seas from English domination.
